ELECTION BET PAYOFF IN HOLLYWOOD

Kennedy To Retain Hoover, Dulles In His Administration

Popular Vote Dwindles For President-Elect

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite a dwindling popular margin from a record voter turnout, Sen. John F. Kennedy held 300 electoral votes today as he prepared to take over the presidency 71 days hence.

With counting continuing in California and Alaska, Kennedy had captured 22 states with 300 electoral votes—31 more than the needed 269. Vice President Richard M. Nixon took control in 25 states with 188 votes. Eight electors in Mississippi and six in Alabama were not committed.

But in the popular vote, Kennedy held a margin of less than 325,000 votes in a tally of more than 66 million for the major party candidates. With returns yet to come and tallies for minor parties, it appeared that Kennedy's presidential victory might come on less than a majority of the popular vote cast. His 50.2 per cent of the popular vote made it the tightest election since the first Benjamin Harrison-Grover Cleveland race in 1888. Republican Harrison won an electoral victory then while running more than 100,000 behind in popular vote.

Plans already were under way for Kennedy representatives to work with administration officials in arranging for the changeover next Jan. 20.

Foreseeing a "difficult and challenging" period during the next four years, Kennedy said yesterday that "there is general agreement by all our citizens that a supreme national effort is needed to move this country through the 1960s."

Working with him will be a Democratic-controlled Congress in which, however, Republicans will show some gains over the present lineup. For the last six years, Congress and the White House have been controlled by different parties.

Tuesday's election provided a Senate makeup of 64 Democrats and 36 Republicans to replace the 66-34 division of the present Senate. With tabulations in five House races incomplete, the Democrats had elected 257 members and the Republicans 175. The old lineup, including vacancies, was 283-154. The Republicans had gained 22 seats.

But the Democrats registered a net gain of one among state governors, raising their statehouse total to 34—their highest since 1938. Of the 27 state posts at stake, Democrats won 15 and the Republicans 12, with political changes taking place in 13 states. Six incumbents were defeated.

Kennedy has said he will wait at least two weeks before designating any of the top officials who will make up his administration.

But he will need to designate soon the man he expects to step into the shoes of Christian A. Herter as secretary of state. Among those mentioned for this role are Adlai E. Stevenson, Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut, Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the former New York governor, W. Averell Harriman.

ELECTIONS AT GLANCE

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The popular vote for president at 10:30 p.m. PST:

Nixon 33,098,293; 49.74 per cent.

Kennedy 33,444,507; 50.26 per cent.

Kennedy had won 22 states with 334 electoral votes (including 18 uncommitted electors in Alabama and Georgia.)

Kennedy was leading in two more states with seven electoral votes.

The vote was from 163,218 of 166,140 precincts.

Senate: Democrats lost two seats to Republicans, in Delaware and Wyoming, but will retain control by a wide margin, 64 seats to 36 for the Republicans.

House—Democrats won 257 seats and were leading for two others in still-undecided contests, for indicated total of 259. Republicans won 175 seats, leading for three others, indicated total 178.

Governors: Democrats won 15 contests, Republicans 12. Democrats will now control 34 statehouses, Republicans 16.

Makes Initial Four Staff Appointments

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today began the construction of a new administration by announcing that he will retain Allen W. Dulles as head of the Central Intelligence Agency and J. Edgar Hoover as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

In his first press conference since the national election, the Democratic victor also announced plans for cooperating with President Eisenhower in the transition of one administration to another.

Kennedy expects to meet personally with Eisenhower, probably in Washington, late this month.

He also disclosed plans to fly to Texas next week to visit briefly with Vice-President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

Tackling a vast amount of organization work at his Cape Cod home here today, the president-elect also sent a message to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev saying "the achievement of a just and lasting peace will remain a fundamental goal of this nation."

FIRST APPOINTMENTS

The incoming president also made his first formal White House staff appointments. They include:

Theodore C. Sorensen, Lincoln, Neb., as special counsel to the president.

Kenneth O'Donnell, Worcester, Mass., special assistant.

Pierre Salinger, Falls Church, Va., press secretary.

Andrew Hatcher, a Negro, and California State Labor Department official on leave, as associate press secretary.

In response to Eisenhower's offer to help speed the transition of government, Kennedy telegraphed the president his appreciation. He said he looked forward to meeting with Eisenhower in the near future.

NAMES REPRESENTATIVE

Kennedy designated Clark M. Clifford, former special counsel at the White House during the Truman administration, as his representative to meet with Gen. Wilton B. Persons, the assistant to President Eisenhower, for coordinating handover of authority.

Clifford also will arrange for meetings between specialists on the Kennedy staff with representatives of cabinet departments designated by the White House.

Before holding his crowded news conference in the National Guard Armory in neighboring Hyannis, Kennedy had extended telephone conversations with Adlai E. Stevenson, as well as Johnson.

He declined to say whether he was preparing to offer Stevenson a post in the government.

TO DEFER DISCUSSION

He told reporters he wanted to defer public discussion of administration appointments until later in the fall.

Kennedy will leave tomorrow for a vacation in Palm Beach, Fla., interrupting his holiday next Thursday for a one-day visit on the Johnson ranch in Texas, then returning to Palm Beach.

The president-elect said he hoped to remain in Florida for a few more days, and then return to Washington two weeks from today.

Kennedy's press conference was swift, the questions were rapid, and the answers for the most part concise and to the point.

Brown Asks Loan In Water Project

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today proposed that the State of California loan one million dollars from its 1.75-billion-dollar water bond to the federal government to start pre-construction planning on the San Luis dam and reservoir.

He also made public plans for a water conference between local, state and federal agencies to start water activities.

California voters Tuesday approved the huge bond issue to construct a gigantic spiderweb of canals to take water from northern and central California to the thirsty southern part of the state. (See story on page 6.)

At his first news conference since the election, and his last one before a trip to South America which starts this weekend, Brown suggested the one-million-dollar loan to the federal government to expedite construction of the multi-million-dollar San Luis project, a keystone in California's water plan.

The water project probably qualified as the greatest water development conceived by modern man and its only rival was the ancient taming of the Nile River.

Bridge Board Votes Road Widening Plan

Final plans for a $1,200,000 widening project on the Marin end of the Golden Gate Bridge were approved today by the bridge directors.

The project would widen the west entrance to the bridge by 20 feet, ease the first curve on the span and make possible easy transition to four lanes of traffic in one direction across the bridge.

CALL FOR BIDS

The directors authorized a call for bids on the project as soon as military officials approved the final plans. The work will be carried on in conjunction with a $175,000 highway widening project to be undertaken by the Division of Highways at the beginning of the bridge.

Sverdrup and Parcel, engineering firm which drew up the plans, said the bridge alteration would take about eight months.

The directors approved the plan by a 9-0 vote, with Director Phillips Davies abstaining. Davies said that he did not want to approve the work until the bridge district had decided on an "over-all plan" which would include improvements in the toll plaza area.

ACTION URGED

Marin Director Leland Murphy urged action now because of the highway widening, and pointed out the easing of the curve would add to the bridge's safety whether the over-all plan was carried out or not.

Director Daniel Del Carlo, chairman of the bridge building and operating committee, reported that the over-all plan and the toll plaza improvements had been before his committee at a meeting yesterday. At least two alternate plans for the toll plaza are under consideration, he said. One involves increasing the number of toll lanes at the place they

Hub City Council Hires Firm For Precise Plan

San Anselmo last night hired Wilsey, Ham and Blair of Millbrae to give the city a precise plan for downtown development at a cost of $12,800.

The decision to go ahead came in a split 3-to-2 decision of the San Anselmo City Council. John M. Reichmuth and Arthur W. Smith voted "no," while Mayor William Franchini and Councilmen Carleton G. E. Little and Robert E. Rouse voted in favor.

The precise plan will include a review of the existing master plan for the downtown area. This calls for a new street on the east side of the creek from Tunstead Avenue to Center Street (where the bus depot is now located), a new street parallel to and east of Cedar Street, pedestrian mall on the main portion of San Anselmo Avenue, creek development, and off-street parking areas.

In about six months, the engineering and planning firm will complete planning, engineering and architectural analyses, and turn in a report on feasibility and estimated cost of the various projects.

Smith said he is for downtown revamping, but not in favor of spending $12,800 now for a precise plan for the entire downtown area. For example, the pedestrian mall may not be ready for 10 or 11 years, said Smith. He said he would prefer to go ahead now on two new streets, one through the bus depot property and the other east of Cedar Street.

Reichmuth said he thinks the study would be re-doing

PUBLIC OFFICES TO CLOSE

Big Veterans' Day Observance Slated

Public offices, schools and post offices will close tomorrow in observance of Veterans' Day.

Marin's biggest Veterans' Day observance in recent years is planned at Hamilton Air Force Base, with youth groups and veterans' organizations throughout the county participating along with the military. Open house will be held at the big North Marin base from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., with a parade beginning at 10:15 a. m. in which some 200 youth groups and 20 veterans' groups are expected to participate.

A patriotic program will follow the traditional minute of silence at 11 a.m., during which jet trainers will fly over the base. Other fly-overs and plane flight demonstrations are scheduled at 1:15, 2 and 3 p.m. Aircraft and equipment will be displayed on the ground.

While schools and public offices are closed, the day will be ideal for family shopping. Banks will be open until 6 p.m. Most stores will be open for business as usual, and the customary late Friday store hours will be in effect. And to top it all, the shopper in San Rafael needn't worry about parking meters: it will be a meter holiday.

The Independent-Journal will publish as usual.

There will be no mail delivery.

U.S. Blocks Move Against Congo Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States succeeded today in blocking a Soviet-Arab move to adjourn a U. N. Credentials Committee debate on the seating of a Congo delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu.

The vote came after the U. S. S. R. accused the United States of trying to railroad a decision with the aim of disrupting U. N. efforts to bring political peace in the turbulant African country.

The committee rejected a Moroccan adjournment motion by a vote of five against, three in favor and one abstaining. Only the Soviet Union, Morocco and the United Arab Republic supported the proposal. New Zealand, as chairman, abstained.

The commitee then began debate on a U. S. proposal that it act now on the seating of a Congo delegation, headed by Kasavubu. This proposal was vigorously opposed by the Soviet Union, which is backing a rival delegation named by disposed Premier Patrice Lumumba. The committee quickly approved the U. S. proposal 5-3 with one abstention.

County Engulfed By Morning Fog

Dense fog engulfed much of Marin this morning, but lifted before noon.

Meantime the Weather Bureau forecast a storm in the Pacific Northwest, now moving south, might reach Santa Rosa tomorrow and would likely bring snow to the high mountains south as far as Lake Tahoe.

Assessor Bids For Approval Of Employees

Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, stung because the board of supervisors balked at two meetings over six of his recommended promotions, read a 15-page letter of both defense and offense before four members of the board today.

He was promised action later in the day when Supervisor William Gnoss would be present after attendance at a San Francisco meeting.

'STRONG RUMORS'

Broemmel even brought up what he termed "strong rumors" that the new board next January "will make it impossible to carry on with an assessment equalization program by curtailing the assessor's appraisal staff so that only new construction can be appraised.

"This could mean that two out of three appraisers could lose their jobs."

Broemmel said that since last August, whenever personnel matters concerning his office have come up for consideration "they have been subject to unfavorable criticism."

'SPIRIT OF SYSTEM'

"Yet in every instance," he continued, "the requests have been, in my opinion, consistent with the letter and spirit of the merit system, the personnel commission's regulations, the salary ordinance, and sound business practice."

He said all his appointments had been cleared through the commission.

Broemmel said assessor's employees were "greeted with an insult, barraged with condemnations of the courthouse bandits . . . and high taxes are the fault of the appraiser."

WELFARE PLANS FACE TOUGH CONGRESS FIGHT

Kennedy Package Includes Wage, Medical Care, Aid To Education

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy's promised package of economic-welfare measures will face a number of tough hurdles in the first session of the 87th Congress.

But the new chief executive also will have several things in his favor as he tries to put through four proposals which he repeatedly told his campaign crowds would be high on the agenda of Kennedy administration.

The four are minimum wage liberalization, a medical care program tied to the social security system, federal aid to education, and depressed areas legislation.

On the debit side for Kennedy in his drive to win passage of the measures will be:

1. The closeness of his popular vote victory, which foes of the measures can interpret as meaning he has no mandate for his program.

2. The falling off of Democratic majorities in both Senate and House.

3. The stiff opposition of many groups and particular economic interests to the four measures; this has contributed heavily to their defeat so far.

4. The likelihood of a continued conservative Democratic-Republican majority on the House Rules Committee. This body has wide roadblock powers, but efforts may be made to trim these when the new Congress meets.

On the credit side:

1. The important powers of a new president, which Kennedy has had a chance to study from the congressional viewpoint for 14 years. These include the appointive power and the job of drawing up the federal budget with all its far-reaching ramifications.

2. The affirmative White House leadership which Kennedy will give in behalf of the measures, in contrast to President Eisenhower's opposition to them.

3. The switch in the chairmanship of the House Labor and Education Committee from conservative Rep. Graham Barden (D-N.C.), to liberal Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (R-N.Y.). This committee handles the wage and school bills. Barden is retiring from Congress.

Depressed areas legislation would seem to have the best chance of quick action in the 1961 session. Democrats got such a measure through in 1958 and 1960 but Eisenhower each time killed it with a veto.

The legislation is designed to help areas of high and chronic unemployment attract new industries with federal loans, grants and technical aid.

The question of writing a medical care program into Social Security stirred one of the biggest fights of the 1960 session.

In the end Congress rejected this and instead increased greatly the federal share of medical costs under the public assistance program for indigent persons.

But the Senate vote against the social security proposal was close and several Democrats said they favored the alternative because Eisenhower had indicated he would veto the social security plan. They said they expected medical benefits to be added to social security when the time was ripe.

The new Senate will be 64-36 Democratic instead of 66-34 as in the past Congress. In the House, the Democrats apparently lost a net of 22 seats.

Five Counties Still Are Weathervanes

NEW YORK (AP) — Up until Tuesday there were eight counties, scattered across the country, known as "weathervanes" in presidential elections.

All eight had unbroken records for at least a half century of voting for the winner in presidential elections.

Today only five had survived. Three counties—Albany in Wyoming, Vanderburgh in Indiana, and Jasper in Iowa—broke the tradition and cast a majority of their votes for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The veteran of weathervanes, Crook County, Ore., kept its slate clean and voted for the winner as it has for the past 78 years, although the state went to Nixon.

Two New Hampshire counties that have voted for the winner since the turn of the century—Coos and Stafford—also chalked up majorities for the victor again.

Iowa's other weathervane, Palo Alto County, went for Sen. John F. Kennedy and, with Jasper County falling by the wayside, became the only one of Iowa's 99 counties that has never voted wrong in this century.

Wyoming remained with one weathervane intact. Although its Albany County gave Nixon a slight edge in nearly complete returns, Laramie County picked a winner again.

Chicago Fire Kills 5

CHICAGO (AP)—Five persons including a mother, two of her children and a playmate of the children, perished early today when fire swept their three-story brick tenement building.

Another resident of the building was slightly injured, as were three firemen.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Russ Charge Buzzing

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass said yesterday a U.S. military planeETA day a U.S. military plane buzzed the Soviet research ship Vityaz in the Arabian Sea on Monday. Tass also charged that on the previous night a military aircraft had buzzed the Vityaz five times.

Captain Acquitted

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The captain of one of the two Navy destroyers that collided has been acquitted of two remaining specifications resulting from the collision, which took 11 lives.

Cmdr. Walter T. Ford, skipper of the Collett, was acquitted by a court-martial yesterday of specifications concerning adequate watches in the combat information center and bridge and bow of the Collett. He had pleaded guilty as the trial opened to a general charge of negligently hazarding his ship.

Strike Continues

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Strikers defying government threats of dismissal have decided to continue the nationwide walkout which has crippled rail and sea travel in Brazil this week.

Strike leaders last night demanded the release of union officials jailed in connection with the walkout, saying this was an essential preliminary to the achievement of "new understandings with the authorities."

Atom Plant Permit

BERKELEY (UPI)—Pacific Gas and Electric Co. was awarded a permit by the Atomic Energy Commission yesterday for the construction of a nuclear reactor at its Humboldt Bay power plant near Eureka.

The reactor—which will add a gross electrical output of 50,000 to 60,000 electrical kilowatt to PG&E's Humboldt Bay plant—is designed to answer the company's need for additional generating capacity in the isolated Eureka area.

Pope Wires Kennedy

The pontiff's message made no mention of the fact that Kennedy is the first Roman Catholic ever elected to the U.S. presidency. This was in line with the Vatican's policy throughout the campaign of publicly ignoring the issue of Kennedy's religion.

Finch Trial Probe

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The district attorney will investigate reports by three jurors that the Finch murder trial jury No. 2 reached a partial verdict once but was directed by the judge to continue deliberating.

Three jurors said the panel agreed after a week and a half to convict Dr. R. Bernard Finch of second-degree murder and to declare itself deadlocked on the murder charge against Carole Tregoff. They said Judge Le Roy Dawson sent word, on being told of their agreement, that they should continue to try to agree on a verdict against Miss Tregoff. The defendants are accused in the gunshot death of Finch's wife last year.

Gable 'Satisfactory'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Clark Gable was reported in satisfactory condition last night in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital where he is recuperating from a heart attack. Gable, 59, is not allowed visitors.

Nixon Takes Whittier

WHITTIER (AP) — Although Vice President Richard M. Nixon lost the presidential election, he was a better than two-to-one choice in his home town. Final returns from this Los Angeles suburb showed 14,417 votes for the Republican nominee to 6,713 for the Democratic winner, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Hawaiian Balloting Up In Air

HONOLULU (UPI)—Citizens of the 50th state will have to wait several days before they learn the official outcome of Tuesday's general election.

Three electoral votes are at stake in Hawaii's first presidential election — and they could go either way.

The election outcome took a turn yesterday, when auditors found a small but glaring error in the tallying. When the final tally sheet was recorded by the lieutenant governor's office early yesterday, president-elect John F. Kennedy was declared the winner by a scant 102 votes.

However, the figure was reduced to 92 votes later—and then it was discovered that one precinct on Oahu failed to give Vice President Richard M. Nixon 200 votes credited to him. The 200 votes gave Nixon a 108 margin and victory in the Hawaii race.

The official announcement as to who will get Hawaii's three electoral votes will be decided when the outside island tally sheets are received and tabulated. A spokesman said this would take several day.

Both Parties Attempt To Tell 'Why' Of Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic strategists said today that televised campaign debates played the vital role in their presidential victory, but some Republican leaders blamed defeat on loss of the Negro vote.

In post-mortems on the closest presidential race in history, leaders in both parties also differed on the effect of president-elect John F. Kennedy's Catholic faith on Tuesday's balloting.

Kennedy's 34-year-old brother Robert, who managed the senator's successful campaign for the White House, was one of the Democrats who called the debates essential to victory. Without them, he said, "it wouldn't have been close."

Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson also said the TV debates were the greatest single factor in the victory. The two Democratic campaigners agreed that Kennedy's bearing in the debates completely destroyed the Republican argument that the Democratic candidate was immature and no match for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton put his finger on the drop in the GOP Negro vote as the principal reason for the GOP defeat. He said Nixon got only 10 to 12 per cent of the Negro vote compared to the 26 per cent won by President Eisenhower.

Morton also contended that the religious issue was a "very important" factor in the election result. He said that "on balance" the religious question was a factor against the GOP because Catholics in big industrial cities gave their support to Kennedy.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said Kennedy and Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson, had "the greatest appeal to youth and women and all others." He said the nation was disappointed with the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign affairs and concerned about a possible recession.

Britain Hangs Pair

LONDON (AP) — Two British youths were hanged today for kicking a man to death after robbing him.

The hanging of Francis Forsyth, 18, and Norman Harris, 23, was preceded by the usual protest against capital punishment in Britain. But in contrast to the noisy demonstrations that have accompanied some previous executions, only small silent crowds stood outside the two prisons where the two were hanged separately.

RED NATIONS SPLIT IN VOTE REACTION

Khrushchev Sends Congratulations, Hope For Era Like That Of FDR

LONDON (AP)—The giants of the Communist world split today in their reaction to the election of John F. Kennedy. Moscow was friendly, Peiping hostile.

While most of the free world looked to the U.S. president-elect for dynamic new leadership, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev fired off a congratulatory telegram to Kennedy declaring readiness for "most friendly relations" and proposing negotiations on disarmament, Germany and other cold war issues.

Khrushchev, who blamed President Eisenhower for the U-2 incident and collapse of the Paris summit, said he hoped Soviet-American relations "will again follow the line along which they were developing in Franklin Roosevelt's time."

Red China's official New China news agency, however, described the president-elect as a member of one of America's richest families, and called him an advocate of military spending and war preparations.

The comment made clear that the election has not altered Peiping's hate-America policy.

The differing Red reactions reflected the Moscow-Peiping argument over peaceful coexistence—with Khrushchev holding that war is not inevitable because communism can triumph by peaceful competition, and the Red Chinese arguing that "just wars" are inevitable as long as capitalism exists.

Pope John XXIII, in a congratulatory cable to Kennedy, prayed that "Almighty God may assist you" and expressed his good wishes to "the beloved American people."

Along the coast of Ireland's County Wexford, from which Kennedy's great-grandfather emigrated during the famine of 1847, a chain of bonfires burned last night. The little town of Newross was gay with flags in celebration.

Most Western newspapers viewed the election in the light of the cold war and looked to Kennedy to put new life in the Western alliance.

"The big sleep ends" said a headline in London's conservative Daily Mail.

Stockholm Expressen, Scandinavia's largest newspaper, said the tremendous task ahead of checking Communist advances and said the free world hopes Kennedy "will be able to turn the tide."

Cuba's government-controlled press gave the expected secondary—and acid—treatment to the election. La Calle, referring to Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, said one candidate was "as much a bandit as the other."

But many Latin-American newspapers expressed the hope a new administration would give more attention to their national problems.

The Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, who had favored Vice President Nixon for his stand on Quemoy and Matsu, put on a brave face at the Kennedy election. President Chiang Kai-shek and other officials sent congratulations, and Formosa newspapers said no basic change in America's China policy would result.

Salinas Woman Pleads Innocent To Check Charge

Mrs. Elizabeth Grace Mauras, 35, represented by Marin Publice Defender Peter Allen Smith, then waived preliminary hearing. Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court bound her over to Marin Superior Court for prosecution. She will probably be arraigned in superior court on Monday.

According to San Rafael poloce, Mrs. Mauras said she cashed the check at Ed's Auto Supply on Fourth Street to pay for two bicycles for her daughters. Her husband, Harry N. Mauras, said he returned the bicycles to the store without uncrating them, as soon as they arrived at the Maurases' Salinas home. Mrs. Mauras was arrested by Salinas police on a warrant issued by the Marin district attorney.

ON LARKSPUR CHANNEL

Air Waves Warmed By Video Dispute

A dollar-a-year man is the center of a dispute in Larkspur School District, with such phrases as "scurrilous treatment" and "rooking the school district" being used.

The dollar-a-year man is Oakley Dexter, Larkspur radio and television dealer. For the past decade, he has been doing repairs on radios, phonographs and television sets in the district's schools. At first he charged nothing for labor; later he charged $1 a year; last year he charged $2. He also claims he gave the district 25 per cent discount on the cost of parts.

All this was under an informal arrangement with a former superintendent.

A short time ago, the school district, through the music department, asked all Larkspur and Corte Madera television and radio repair firms to offer estimates on doing the work.

Dexter, miffed, did not bid. Only one bid was received—from All-Channel TV of Larkspur. It got the contract.

C. F. Pendleton, Corte Madera radio broadcaster, brought the matter up at a Larkspur School District Board meeting Tuesday night. He accused Vaughn D. Seidel of "scurrilous treatment" of Dexter.

Seidel said it was simply policy to get bids from as many firms as possible. When only one concern bid, it got the job, he said.

Questioned today as to the amount involved, Seidel said All-Channel TV was to receive $75.40 for repairing seven "machines."

Dexter said today he had done the repairs free, and almost free "because I live in the district and this is one way to return something to the community."

Dexter said he and Superintendent Seidel had a disagreement last March over the purchase of some phonographs and Seidel told him he was "rooking the school district and in the future wouldn't get an opportunity to do so again."

Seidel denied any row with Dexter. He said he had put no obstacle in the way of Dexter's continuing to do the repairs, but thought it was bad policy to allow an individual to "make constant sacrifices for the district" or to have an exclusive franchise without any terms spelled out. He said he did not know Dexter had done repairs for nothing.

ASSESSOR

ed minority to the assessment equalization program."

Broemmel said low marks in examinations for advancement were partly due to the board nature of the tests for his department. He defended his policy of hiring college graduates for training and gave specific background on men he sought to promote from junior to auditing appraiser.

The last part of his letter dealt specifically with the higher positions, contrasting Marin salaries unfavorably with those of Contra Costa County. He asked that the board consider raises in salary levels for supervising appraiser and appraiser II at a cost to the end of this year of "under $1,900."

This all followed an earlier discussion of appointments which finally was straightened out, though two for juvenile hall were held over.

Chairman Walter R. Castro stirred this by asking why the name of Kenneth C. Finn had been sent in to the treasurer's accountant at $530 in replacement of Leo Vaughan. He has not been a county employee.

"Didi't a county employee pass No. 1 on the list?" he asked.

County Administrator D. A. Jensen said the personnel commission had certified five names and it was "up to the department 'head'"—M. F. Donohue in this case—"to make the choice."

Castro persisted that the employee with top mark, not named but proving to be in the office of County Clerk George S. Jones, ought to be called in and matters explained as a courtesy. But on assurance from Supervisor William D. Fusselman that the merit system wasn't being violated, he desisted.

Finn was therefore appointed. Also appointed were:

Put over to Tuesday, due to need for consideration of a letter from Probation Officer Walter H. Busher on overtime and other matters, were appointments of two group supervisors at $420—Lucinda Michel, replacing V. Borland, resigned, and Charles Moor, to fill a vacancy.

Hub Man Hospitalized After Seizure In Car

Henry E. Feldman, 53, bartender of 27 Floribel Avenue, San Anselmo, was in good condition at San Rafael General Hospital today after being found slumped in his car in a San Raafel city parking lot yesterday afternoon. He apparently suffered a heart attack.

He was discovered unconscious in the car by a police officer who summoned an ambulance to the municipal lot at Third and Cijos Streets.

Novato Holds 'Quickie' Council Meet

The Novato City Council held another "quickie" meeting yesterday to discuss the problem of the Wylie subdivision and the extension of San Jose Boulevard.

Newspapers were notified of the meeting 24 hours in advance of the time it convened—but not in time to publish notices in advance so the public would know about it and be able to attend.

Representatives of H. C. Wylie are protesting a Novato Planning Commission decision that the proposed 11-acre subdivision must leave room for a 100-foot right of way for extension of San Jose Boulevard.

The subdivision would be located south of San Jose Creek, next to land owned by Paul I. Trousdale. Wylie backers are protesting a county-Trousdale agreement routing the road through the Wylie lands.

At least one other discussion meeting will be scheduled before the problem comes up for city council decision at the Nov. 22 meeting, Mayor Wayne Womack reported today.

Little and Rouse argued that before any portion of the work is started, economic feasibility and cost estimates for the whole downtown area should be available.

If this study shows the proposed downtown development will not bring more shoppers and more revenue to the city, then the city should not spend another cent, Rouse held. "I think this $12,800 is a good, sound expenditure."

Caryl Chessman Finally Finds A Resting Place

Convict-author Caryl Chessman, executed last May after 12 years in San Quentin's Death Row, has found a final resting place at an undisclosed cemetery.

Rosalie Asher, Chessman's attorney, disclosed today that Chessman's ashes were removed from Mount Tamalpais Cemetery this week for burial.

Chessman originally wanted his ashes scattered, but that was not possible under the law, Miss Asher explained. He then wanted to be buried at Forest Lawn Memorial Park where both his mother and father are buried. However, Forest Lawn said it would not accept because that would "break faith with those who rest here."

Attorney Seeks Help In Election Debate With Wife

Kentfield attorney Warren Alfred Palmer, 48, who says he was shot in the thigh by his wife last month, called for sheriff's help last night when an election argument got too hot.

The attorney said he was trying for a reconciliation with socially prominent Beatrice C. Palmer, 48, since the shooting episode of Oct. 21. He went to see his wife on election day. He is a Republican and she a Democrat. Mrs. Palmer told Deputy McKamey that Palmer stayed up until about 6 a.m. yesterday watching television.

Mrs. Palmer said he got up yesterday afternoon, angry that Richard Nixon had lost. She told him she was glad Nixon had been beaten. The fight was on.

Mrs. Palmer still has a felony assault charge pending against her for allegedly shooting her husband with a .22 caliber rifle last month.

'Love Rides Rails' Planned Tonight

"Love Rides the Rails" will be presented by the Twin City Troupers at a ladies' night program of the Corte Madera Lions Club at 7:30 p.m. today in the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

The Independent-Journal in yesterday's paper mistakenly reported the presentation would be last night.

Ex-Turncoat In Trouble Once Again

LaRance Vante Sullivan, 29, of Marin City, ex-soldier who chose Red China and then returned to Marin in 1958, may be in more trouble.

Sheriff's deputies said he apparently set fire to his bedding and bedspread at his apartment this morning, then vanished.

Deputy Sheriff Boyd Burnham investigated the fire shortly after 2 a.m. and reported smoking in bed may have caused it. The smouldering bedding was dragged outside and doused with water before the apartment caught fire.

Sullivan's grandmother, Mary B. Frost, 81, of House 511, reported the fire. She said she woke up and found her room filled with smoke.

Last year, Mrs. Frost complained that Sullivan tried to choke her to death. Sullivan has been in and out of state hospitals several times, mostly because of a drinking problem.

are now located; the other would move the whole toll plaza 150 feet or so south. Sverdup and Parcel will present detailed plans and recommendations later, he said.

The directors also gave approval of the $200,000 landscaping of the Vista Point on the east side of the Marin end of the bridge. However, they made it contingent on installation of sanitary facilities by the Division of Highways. The division's present plan does not call for any such facilities. Neither does it provide a method for entrance to the vista area from the Marin side without crossing the bridge and returning.

Adenauer Plans Kennedy Meeting

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he will meet the new president of the United States next February.

"I will discuss with him everything that I have on my mind," the chancellor told foreign correspondents at a luncheon held a short time after the government had issued a communique announcing the chancellor's meeting with President elect John F. Kennedy.

Frank J. Latini, Fairfax, Succumbs

Frank J. Latini, a 37-year resident of Fairfax, died unexpectedly last night in a local hospital. He was 74.

Born in Italy, he served for a time in the Italian navy before coming to the United States 50 years ago. Settling in San Francisco, he became an employee of the Bank of America. In 1923 he left the bank to become an insurance broker. Later he was an elevator starter in the Humboldt Bank Building in San Francisco.

He retired in 1951 and devoted his time to his hobbies of gardening and amateur painting. He was one of the founders of the Club Italia of San Rafael.

He moved to Fairfax in 1923 and lived there at 131 Cascade Drive with his wife, Mary and a son, David, who survives him. He is also survived by two other sons, Albert, of San Francisco, and Edward of Larkspur, and three grandsons.

Mrs. Alice Park, Mill Valley, Dies

Mrs. Alice Park, a resident of Mill Valley for 15 years, died Tuesday at a San Francisco rest home after a long illness. She was 88.

A native of Wisconsin, she resided at 29 Park Avenue. Mrs. Park was a member of the San Francisco Tea Club.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley. Interment will be private.

Alto Girl, 14, Leaves Her Home

San Francisco police were helping search for a 14-year-old Alto girl who vanished yesterday—the day her mother was going to take her to Idaho to enter a private school there.

Mrs. Arlene M. Esparza of 990 Redwood Highway, Alto, said her daughter, Sharon Marie, left a note saying she was going to school yesterday morning. Mrs. Esparza said she learned that Sharon had gone to see her father at the San Francisco city engineer's office, then disappeared.

Sheriff's deputies asked San Francisco police to be on the lookout for the girl. She is 5 feet 4 inches, 130 pounds, and has short black hair.

Nixon Back In Washington, Receives Many Job Offers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several universities, law firms and corporations already have offered positions to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, an aide says.

But his press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said last night he had absolutely no idea what Nixon plans to do after leaving the vice presidency next Jan. 20.

There was no immediate word on any possibility of his remaining in politics.

The Nixons were cheered last night by a crowd of about 500 when they returned by jet airliner from California. With the vice president and his wife were their two daughters, Tricia, 14, and Julie, 12.

For Nixon, it was the end of a 64,000-mile quest for the presidency in which the grand prize had gone to Democrat John F. Kennedy.

In the airport crowd greeting the Nixons were Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, son of the president, and his wife, Barbara. The president had left during the day for a golfing vacation in Augusta, Ga.

Nixon told the greeters that the airport turnout was "the nicest thing that's happened to us in the whole campaign." Mrs. Nixon nodded agreement, and the crowd applauded.

Newsmen aboard the plane did not have an opportunity to question the vice president about his future plans, or anything else. But Klein said Nixon had received quite a sheaf of telegrams offering him positions before he left Los Angeles.

Klein said he knew nothing about Nixon's plans for the next few days, but speculated that the Nixons probably would want to get away soon for a vacation.

Lost Ring Turns Up 60 Years Later

CLARION, Iowa (AP)—A ring that Arthur Mechem of Clarion lost more than 60 years ago was found recently by James White in the driveway of his farm home.

Mechem, now more than 80 years old, recalled that when he was a teen-ager he frequently visited friends on the farm now operated by White. He said he had lost the ring during one of these visits.

Rockefeller Certain To Be '64 Contender

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who failed to carry his home state for the Republican standard-bearer this week, nevertheless appears certain to emerge as a contender for the Republican nomination for president in 1964.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon lost New York by 400,000 votes, although President Eisenhower carried it by 1.5 million in 1956, and Rockefeller was elected by more than a half-million votes two years ago.

But, despite this setback to Republican fortunes, Rockefeller's name is certain to loom large when the GOP starts seeking a national leader to restore the party to the victory trails.

Despite the handicaps, Rockefeller is in position to move into national leadership.

He established himself as a dominant influence in party affairs last summer when he prevailed upon Nixon to incorporate a large portion of the Rockefeller views in the GOP national platform.

Rockefeller would have two major barriers to assuming control of GOP national affairs: home-front problems and the animosity of the conservative Republican bloc.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a leader of the conservative element in the GOP, told a reporter at Phoenix, Ariz., last night: "If Mr. Rockefeller can't carry New York, he can't be reckoned a figure to be contended with in the Republican party."

There is no question that Rockefeller has lost ground in his home state since his upset election victory against a Democratic tide in 1958.

Shortly after his inauguration, Rockefeller put through a record tax increase that has been a source of controversy ever since.

To keep in the public eye, Rockefeller would have to win reelection in 1962. A victory seemingly would be much more difficult than it was two years ago.

But Rockefeller has shown ability to cut across party lines and win support from Democrats and independents. In addition, New York Democrats do not now appear to have a potential candidate to match Rockefeller's crowd appeal and grass-roots campaign techniques.

As governor of New York for at least two of those years, Rockefeller will be in an ideal position to keep himself before the public, to remind the GOP that he is ready, willing and, most likely, readily available.

Winter Quarter Tam Adult High Courses Planned

Classes for the winter quarter of the Tamalpais Union High School district adult evening school will open Jan. 3, Principal Harry Russell announced today.

Twelve courses will be given at Tamalpais and 12 at Drake high. Tam courses include Americanization, art, ceramics, dramatics, english for the foreign-born, fundamentals of high school subjects, interior decoration, rapid reading, sewing and tailoring, symphony orchestra, typing and bookkeeping and woodworking.

Absentee Ballots May Decide Who Won In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California may not know for sure who won out in its presidential election until absentee ballots are counted.

Sen. John F. Kennedy squeezed out a hard-fought lead of just 36,546 in nearly complete returns on better than 6.2 million votes that trickled in from Vice President Nixon's home state.

The standings (30,666 of 30,682 precincts): Nixon 3,083,727, Kennedy 3,120,273.

There were more than enough absentees out—an estimated 150,000 to 200,000—to award the state's unneeded 32 electoral votes to either candidate.

Herbert Klein, Nixon's press secretary, declared the absentees assured the vice president "an easy margin." He said Republicans traditionally carry these ballots—a statement open to dispute.

The law requires the 58 counties to start counting absentee ballots by next Monday.

FOLLOW PATTERN

These returns often follow the pattern of the direct voting, but the unpredictable twists of Tuesday's polling suggested it might be better to wait and see.

Kennedy's lead settled down after bouncing around crazily from a high of 101,000 to a low of 7,266. Nixon at no time pulled ahead in the long count of the record vote.

L.A. SWITCHED

It appeared for a while from Los Angeles County returns that Kennedy would carry the state by a fairly substantial margin.

But when Los Angeles, with more than 40 per cent of California's seven and one-half million voters, switched from its snap tally to semi-official tabulation, the president-elect's advantage began to dwindle.

Even so, Nixon's heavily Democratic home county gave his Democratic rival a plus of 42,547 in the count of all 11,851 precincts.

Legislature Control Goes To Democrats

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California Democrats, improving on their 1958 victory in Tuesday's election, today held their firmest control of the State Legislature in three-quarters of a century.

One race was likely to remain undecided until the absentee votes are in, but it made little difference.

The Democrats already had pushed their domination of the Senate to 30-10, biggest for either party since 1935, and were assured of 47 of the 80 Assembly seats with one race in doubt.

Virtually complete returns last night showed Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad, (R-Sherman Oaks), leading Democratic challenger Charles Manfred by only 275 votes.

The Democrats won control of both houses two years ago for the first time since 1889.

The Republicans and Democrats traded seats in two Assembly districts and Democrats held onto the rest for the 47-32 majority.

Water Bonds Approved By Slim Margin

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California voters approved Proposition 1, the 1.75-billion-dollar water bond plan, by a margin of less than 150,000 votes in Tuesday's election.

It's the biggest bond issue ever authorized by any state.

It will finance the world's largest water transportation system — dams and aqueducts to carry surplus water from the northern Sierra as far south as San Diego.

The vote was a major victory for Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

HEAVY VOTE

The heavy vote in the dry Southland barely overcame the strong opposition in the water-rich North.

That confirms that the 10-year North-South fight which stymied water plans in the Legislature accurately reflected public opinion.

Brown, who led a Democratic sweep of the state in 1958, managed to squeak the compromise plan through the 1959 Legislature. Voter approval was needed because it involved the huge issue of general obligation bonds.

The bonds are supposed to be paid back by the users of the water and power.

INFLATION SEEN

But a private consultant's analysis released a few weeks before election said inflation will probably boost construction costs, requiring general taxpayers to pay part of the bill.

Californians on the Mexican border voted 4-1 for it. On the Oregon border they were 4-1 against it. In central California the vote split nearly 50-50.

In the final countdown it was a 286,000 plurality in Los Angeles County that put it over. The margin there had been expected to be much larger.

Estimated Value Of State Put At About $125 Billion

The figure is based on the assessed valuation of all property in the state, 31.2 billion dollars yesterday by Controller Alan Cranston.

Assessed valuation, on which local property taxes are based, averages less than 25 per cent of real value.

Not all the property is subject to taxes, however. Exemptions this year reduce the taxable total to 29.6 billion dollars nearly 8 per cent higher than a year ago.

Los Angeles County leads the way with a 11.7-billion-dollar valuation. San Diego County is second in value at more than 1.5 billion, and San Francisco third at slightly under that figure.

The head of the sperm whale comprises one-third of its body.

GOP Counties Stay That Way

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's three Republican counties stayed staunchly in the GOP column in today's election.

Tiny Alpine County, with 132 Republican voters registered and 78 Democrats, voted 107-34. Neighboring Mono County registered 799 to 760 and voted 707 to 352.

Marin, with 36,633 registered Republicans and 32,619 Democrats, voted 35,067 to 26,439.

Reapportionment Proposal Buried

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California voters buried a plan to reapportion the state senate.

With all but 49 of the state's 30,682 precincts reporting, Proposition 15 stood 1,791,093 yes, 3,321,153 no.

Four-Hour Parking Meters Proposed

Tired of feeding parking meters every two hours while shopping in San Rafael? Then here is good news.

The Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce board of directors this week decided to ask the city to convert half of its 112 two-hour meters to four hours on the city lots at Fifth Avenue and C Street and Third and Cijos Streets.

They asked the city to make the change on an experimental basis after the Christmas season. The chamber said four-hour meters would allow more time for shopping and might increase the use of the lots. Increased revenue could be used to buy more city-owned parking lots, they suggested.

The board also directed the chamber's offstreet parking committee to see if the city would build a pedestrian walkway from the Fifth Avenue and C Street parking lot east to B Street. The route to provide better access to B Street shopping would be between the Bank of America parking lot and the alley behind the Fourth Street stores.

San Rafael Ski Shop Expanding

Dawson's Ski Specialists shop at 1403 Fourth Street, San Rafael, will open tomorrow in new and enlarged form, according to Howard Dawson, president of Dawson's Sports, Inc.

Roland (Cod) Carrier, formerly a major with the 10th Mountain Infantry and a certified ski and mountaineering instructor both in Europe and the United States, will be manager.

The shop will sell and rent clothing and sports equipment.

Hub Council Wants Cedars School To Have Only Secondary Access

The Cedars Development School for mentally retarded children, which plans to build recreational facilities just south of Mount Tamalpais Cemetary, should use San Anselmo streets for access only when the cemetery road is impassable.

San Anselmo City Councilmen took that position last night, as some 50 residents of Sequoia Park packed the council meeting to protest proposed access via Sequoia Drive and Grove Hill Avenue.

Attorney Bryan McCarthy, representing Cedars Development School, said the primary access would be from Fifth Avenue in San Rafael via the Mount Tamalpais Cemetery gate. He said Sequoia Drive would be only a secondary" access with "minmal use" by only a few cars per day.

Bart Benedict of 66 Grove Hill Avenue and other objectors protested that streets are too narrow, children walking along the streets would be endangered, and traffic would create a death trap in case of fire. They asked for a definition of "secondary" use and said they feared this would be the opening wedge for full use of the narrow streets to the new school project.

After almost two hours of debate, punctuated by heated exchanges and a brief flareup between attorney McCarthy and City Atty. John G. Buresh, the council decided that Sequoia and Grove Hill should be only for "emergency" use and not as a secondary" route.

At one point, City Attorney Buresh turned to McCarthy and roared: "Don't tell me what my duties are! I know what they are!" A partisan crowd applauded.

On a motion by Councilman Robert E. Rouse, the city fathers asked City Administrator Douglas Flautt to present this recommendation to the county board of supervisors today:

The county grant a use permit for the new school facility on condition that Sequoia and Grove Hill be used as emergency access only when the primary access is phsically impassable.

City Attorney Buresh said he would check to see if Grove Hill actually touches The Cedars Development School property and whether the road is a publicly accepted road.

Mrs. Marie D. Tappendorff, president of The Cedars school, attended the meeting. The school is now located at Bolinas Avenue and Upper Road in Ross, with about 75 students. The school bought 20 acres of land between Mount Tamalpais Cemetery and Sunnyhills and plans to put in a swimming pool and recreational building.

Attorney McCarthy said actual construction of the school itself may be one, 10 or 20 years away.

There are three possible accesses to the area: via Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, via Sequoia and Grove Hill, and through Sunyhills property. He said the main entrance would be either from San Rafael through the cemetery, or from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through Sunnyhills.

ONE DISSENTER

Hub Council Hires New City Mechanic

Claude Edwin Hearn, 42, chief mechanic at Bianco Motors in San Rafael, is the new city mechanic for San Anselmo.

On recommendation of City Administrator Douglas Flautt, city councilmen last night hired Hearn at $458 per month on a non-civil service basis.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith, the only dissenter, said he is against the creation of the city mechanic's position.

Hearn, who lives at 39 Strawberry Circle, Mill Valley, is getting about $500 per month at his present job, the administrator reported.

Hearn's job will be to supervise maintenance and repair of the city's equipment, with headquarters at the city corporation yard at the end of San Francisco Boulevard. Hearn will also handle purchasing of supplies and parts for the city's equipment.

About 10 applied for the job, Flautt reported.

The city council set an adjourned meeting for 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday to get a detailed report on how the city's financial records can be brought up to date. City Auditor Frederic D. Kerr said he would be present to make recommendations and suggestions.

Kerr presented the annual audit of the city's books last night. During the questioning of Kerr, city councilmen learned that the city's bookkeeping is not keeping up with current revenues and encumbrances.

Kerr said the lag in bookkeeping does not represent "a major breakdown," but he had calculated the city should have caught up some months ago.

Kerr reported he had discussed the city's accounting work with Mrs. Anne Grant, city controller, and Mrs. Grant estimated that 12 days work would bring the accounts up to date. Kerr said he is convinced Mrs. Grant could do the job without additional outside aid.

Next Tuesday night, Kerr will present specific recommendations. Last night, he noted that the city should have an account for fixed assets, and the collection of revenues from permits and other fees should be channeled through a single office.

Musical Satire Due In Sausalito

"Whoops!", a new musical revue which takes a satirical look at the '60's and a nostalgic look at the '30's, will open at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Gate Playhouse in Sausalito.

The revue, which is to be produced at an off-Broadway theater in New York in the spring, will make its debut in Sausalito.

Suspension Under Fire By Parent

San Rafael High School's policy of suspending students for rule infractions came under fire from a parent last night.

The father of a high school boy (who shall remain nameless because he spoke on behalf of his own son) told the San Rafael Board of Education: "I fail to see suspension as a solution to the child's problems . . . It is merely an easy way out for the teacher."

The father said his son had been suspended for a week for disobeying school rules. During the suspension, he drove to the high school to pick up home work so he would not get behind in his classes. He parkin the school parking lot at 3:15 p.m. and waited for school to let out.

At 3:35 p.m., according to the father, Principal Ralph H. Phelps approached the car and told the boy to get off the campus—without his home work.

Then the boy went to a high school football game, although he knew his suspension forbade him to attend the game. There, he encountered Phelps. The principal, according to the father, told the boy "you will not get another week's suspension for coming to the game," but added—after the boy was out of hearing—"you will get two weeks." The boy returned to school Monday to find he was suspended for two more weeks.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas displayed a rather bulky file which he said was the case history of the boy in question since elementary school days.

"I don't like to take this up in a public meeting," said Lucas. "I don't think it is the proper place."

The father wanted to know who has the discretion in suspending a student. Lucas said state law gives the discretion to any teacher.

The superintendent reported that since the school year started, 37 San Rafael High students have been suspended.

Fourteen of the suspensions, he said, were just until the students returned to school with their parents, to provide opportunity for a conference with the parent over the student's infraction. This generally took place the day of suspension or the day following, he said.

Two students were suspended for three days.

Eighteen were suspended for one week.

Three were suspended for two weeks.

He said nine of the students were suspended for smoking on campus. "This is an automatic suspension at the high school. The kids know it; everybody knows it," said Lucas.

Five were suspended because they did not dress for physical education class.

Six were suspended for truancy, which Lucas said consists of at least three unexcused absences "but usually many more."

Two were suspended for fighting.

Five, said Lucas, were suspended "for violations of rules of the school of one kind or another," and two for "something to do with automobiles."

Board member Roderick P. Martinelli declared the board certainly should look into the district's policy on suspensions.

Lucas asked that the father and his son call tomorrow at the superintendent's office. Board chairman C. Paul Bettini asked the father if this was satisfactory with him.

Shrugging, he replied, "There's nothing else I can do, I guess. I want the boy back in school. I want him to get an education."

Pleas Delayed In TV Charges

NEW YORK (UPI)—Twelve of 13 former contestants on "rigged" television quiz shows charged with lying to a grand jury appeared in court to plead today, but obtained a delay until Dec. 1.

Lawyers for the contestants, including Charles Van Doren, told special sessions court Chief Justice John M. Murtagh they need more time to prepare motions in behalf of their defendants.

The attorneys indicated their motions would attack the legality of the grand jury information which charged the defendants with second degree perjury on two counts.

San Rafael School Aides Decide Program Stacks Up With Conant's

San Rafael school officials compared their two seventh-eighth grade schools with educator James Bryant Conant's conception of what a junior high school should be, and decided they stack up pretty well.

A point-by-point comparison was presented orally to the board of education by Dr. Mildred B. Barnard, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary instruction, and Principals Homer E. Hoyt of Davidson School and Lawrence Geiger of Santa Venetia School.

The two San Rafael seventh-eight grade schools devote 62½ to 75 per cent of the school day to basic subjects, the three administrators said. Conant recommends at least 60 per cent of the day go to such subjects.

In what educators are fond of calling "the enrichment program"—a term not, however, used by Conant or any of the three who spoke last night—the San Rafael schools fall short in foreign languages but stack up well in all others. Some introduction to foreign languages is offered at Davidson, but only about 10 per cent of the pupils get to take it because of scheduling problems, said Hoyt.

San Rafael schools also are far below Conant's standards in a guidance and counselling program, Hoyt and Dr. Barnard noted. Conant suggests a specialist in guidance or testing for each 200 pupils. San Rafael has one for the entire elementary school district.

But in some areas—particularly extra-class activities, physical education and reading—San Rafael offers more than Conant sets up as a standard at which to aim, the three reporting officials noted.

Education Board Asks Band Uniforms Study

San Rafael High School Band uniforms are nine years old, out of date, faded, in need of repair, and "they are not designed for girls," the San Rafael Board of Education was told last night.

The derogatory comments on the band uniforms appeared in a letter accompanying a resolution from the high school's student congress asking that the high school district purchase new band uniforms.

Both letter and petition specified that "this idea comes directly from the student body and should not be connected in any way with the faculty."

The letter was signed by Kathleen Cazassa. The resolution, adopted at a meeting of the student congress, was signed by student president Jim Costello.

The band has about 100 members. Supt. Frank L. Lucas told the board new uniforms would cost about $75 each.

"I don't think that's a bad investment," commented board chairman C. Paul Bettini. "If they last 10 years again, that's $750 a year to have the band look nice . . . I have to agree with the girls."

The board instructed Lucas to get definite figures on the cost of uniforms and present them at the next meeting.

Some budding artist in a San Rafael school may get a free trip to Warsaw, Poland, it was disclosed in a letter read to the board by the superintendent.

The letter invited participatoin by San Rafael children under 15 in an art contest sponsored by Warsaw Radio. Ten winners from the United States will get the free trips. Lucas will turn the announcement over to school art departments.

"I'm in favor of sending our bright young people on trips abroad, as advocated by Senator Kennedy," commented Bettini.

Also at last night's board of education meeting:

1. Contractor Ray Johnson advised that Terra Linda High School would be ready for final inspection and certification of completion next Monday.
2. A new plot plan by architect Carl Gromme for the new Laurel Del School was studied but held over.
3. Resignation of Mrs. Irene Patrick, part-time teacher at Santa Venetia School, because of illness was accepted.
4. Superintendent Lucas announced appointment of Mrs. Dora H. Berling as clerk at Short School, replacing Mrs. Yolanda Brusatori, who has been transferred to San Pedro School.
5. Abbot-Hanks, Co. was named testing for the Terra Linda High School swimming pool, excavation for which is already virtually completed.

Officer Fined For Petty Theft

Former San Quentin Correctional Officer Henry Edward Carlson, 41, who took a prison typewriter and other supplies for his own private use, must pay a $50 fine and remain on two years' probation for petty theft.

He was sentenced yesterday by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court.

Carlson was convicted of taking the typewriter and supplies from the prison last Aug. 21 and using them at his home at 19 Sentinel Court, San Rafael. Investigators later recovered the stolen goods at Carlson's home and arrested him.

Green Trimmings Needed By Guild At Ross Center

Marin County residents who are planning to trim their evergreens were asked today by the Marin Art and Garden Center to wait until the early part of December, when they can be put to use at the center in Ross.

"We can use them in our workrooms," said Mrs. Gordon Zimmer, president of the Center's Decorations Guild. She explained that evergreen cuttings are needed by Guild members for making wreaths and other articles for the annual Christmas Greens Sale Dec. 16, 17 and 18.

Holly, mistletoe and dried materials such as cones also can be used, Mrs. Zimmer said.

Delivery may be made to the Decorations Guild building at the center, or pick-up can be arranged by calling the center office. It is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Decrease In Funds Hits Dixie Schools

Dixie School District is in a bind for operating funds because district officials over-estimated the increase in enrollment, state appraisers last year found Marin assessments too low and the state aid fund was below expectations.

The combination of the three has reduced the district's expected receipts from the state by some $42,000, Supt. Dennie B. Willis told the board of trustees last night.

District officials had estimated Dixie schools would have 400 more pupils this year than last. But so far, said Willis, the increase is only 325. The other 75 pupils would mean $18,000 to the district in state aid.

About $12,000 of that has been saved because it was not necessary to add two more teachers for the increased enrollment that was expected but has not yet materialized, he said.

Before last year's county reappraisals went on the tax rolls, State Board of Equalization representatives sampled Marin appraisals and found them 7 per cent too low, said Willis. That cost Dixie District another $13,000, because state aid is based on a complicated formula which includes the amount of assessed valuation behind each pupil.

State funds for aid to school districts proved smaller than expected, he went on. The amount for each pupil was therefore reduced by 20 per cent. This cost Dixie another $11,000.

The result, he said, is that the district will have to cut its reserve from $48,000 down to $21,000, eliminate some planned landscaping and ground improvements and purchase of playground equipment.

The board moved from distressing finances into distressing homework. Penrod Moss, district curriculum consultant, presented a report on homework. The report did not go into how much homework is assigned or what it is. It read carefully around a definition of what homework is, not accepting the simple definition that homework is any work a pupil must do for school while at home.

Willis wanted to know whether the school board wanted to make a firm policy on homework. Trustees felt they should leave this up to principals and and teachers.

The homework discussion took so long that the board postponed scheduled discussion of disaster plans, field trips, teachers taking outside jobs, leave for religious holidays and the San Francisco Schools Report.

WELL, NOT QUITE

San Rafael Planners Won't Fence In Tennis Player

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night compromised with the tennis set by allowing a nine-foot fence to be built around the tennis courts of Melvin Marlow at 50 Arguello Circle.

Marlow had applied for a 12-foot fence constructed of decorative redwood panels — six feet higher than the zoning ordinance allows. The nine-foot fence approved by the planners will be of wire mesh supported by redwood posts four feet apart.

The commission approved legalizing establishment of rubbish dumps in the city's commercial and heavy manufacturing zones. The matter will go to the city council for a final hearing.

A proposal to change the name of Rafael Street in East San Rafael was put over to the next regular commission meeting, Nov. 22. The change was asked by Postmaster Warren H. Williams to prevent confusion for postmen delivering to Rafael Drive, Rafael Way and San Rafael Avenue.

Also put over until the next meeting was consideration of revoking a use permit granted Spero P. Spilotis and Co. for a skating rink between Rafael and Belvedere Streets.

City Planner Donald Newmark recommended the commission not re-zone the area around Chris Craft Sales at 25 Third Street from duplex to commercial. The planners concurred with Newmark's recommendation.

In other action, the commission:

1. Approved a tentative map of a proposed subdivision, Seaview Estates Unit 2 on San Pedro Road. The map must show the lots to be 75 feet wide with an approximate area of 7,500 square feet, improvements must be made on one-half of San Pedro road contiguous to the subdivision, the main entrance to the development must be realigned and the plans must have approval of the city engineer.

2. Unanimously approved an amendment to the zoning ordinance which would require architectural supervision on construction in all zones except single and two-family residential.

3. Approved a 35 by 17-foot sign at the entrance to the proposed Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda providing the architect can prove the sign does not jeopardize any proposed highway landscaping.

4. Approved two temporary signs measuring 12-by-36 and 10-by-30-feet advertising the Northgate Shopping Center and the proposed Northbridge apartments at the intersection of Albion Way and Las Gallinas. The Northbridge sign must be set back 50 feet at the corner of Manuel Freitas Parkway and Del Presidio Boulevard.

5. Refused renewal of a use permit for a sign advertising the proposed Vista Del Agua apartments on the south side of Canal Street opposite Belvedere Street because the sign is not on the property to be occupied by the development.

6. Put over until the next meeting a decision on approval of a 20-unit apartment house on the south side of Canal Street near Bellam Boulevard. At that time the builder is scheduled to submit a revised plan showing setback variances requested.

Lunch Survey Letters Go To Parents

Letters surveying parents' preferences for a school lunch program were sent out yesterday by the Larkspur school district.

The parents will be asked if they are willing to pay the full amount of a lunch program (probably 40 cents per lunch) so the district does not have to subsidize it.

They will also indicate whether they prefer a frozen food lunch or a local kitchen-cooked entree; the number of children in their family who will eat in the cafeteria, and wether the children will eat there occasionally or regularly.

The district hopes to have replies back by next Wednesday in order to make a decision on the program. The three schools in the district have been without a lunch program since the opening of this school year.

Prohibition Party Vote Detailed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Dr. Rutherford L. Decker, presidential candidate of the Prohibition Party, received at least 21,745 votes in California, it was disclosed today.

The secretary of state's latest semi-official returns, from 30,126 of the state's 30,682 precincts, show that the Kansas City, Mo., minister drew his largest support — 8,749 votes from Los Angeles County.

He got no votes at all in Alpine or Tehama counties.

Tam Board Delays Bond Vote Decision

Tamalpais Union High School District trustees last night were unable to decide whether to explore again a plan for a six-million-dollar, five year construction program, or to resubmit to the voters on April 18 the same three-million-dollar bond issue that failed to win approval last month.

The board postponed action, to next Monday night, since one member was absent and there were differences of opinion.

Trustee Delman Smith of Sausalito made a motion that the board accept the citizens advisory committee recommendation to put the three-million-dollar proposal on the ballot again. The motion was not seconded.

Trustees Howard I. McGill said he wanted to explore the idea of going for more money, as in the original proposal which called for a six-million dollar program. The citizens advisory committee had agreed that amount was needed, but added it was not realistic to ask such a large bond issue. McGill said the six million was needed, and he thought the board should concentrate on the district's needs. He received no support for his stand from other board members.

Smith said the board must be realistic and that the recommendation of the advisory committee was sound. He agreed, however, that three million dollars was not enough for long range planning.

Trustee Wallace Hayes of Mill Valley said the $604,000 allocation in the bond proposal for acquisition of sites should be dropped altogether. He said he felt this had caused the defeat. He later suggested the item could be put on the ballot as a separate measure.

Board member Edmund J. Thomas Jr. was absent.

In other business, the board:

1. Decided to study the fee schedule for the adult education program to see if it would be possible to pay a portion of administrative costs of the program from fees. The program now breaks even, but administrative costs are not included. Some fees might have to be raised.

2. Authorized the superintendent to release test data and grades of graduates from an elementary district who are in the Tamalpais District now, for use by that district when such procedures are in the interest of students.

3. Approved Mill Valley's plan for improvement of the Miller Avenue and Camino Alto intersection, part of the Mill Valley master plan for the Miller Avenue approach to the city. It involves some site improvement on Tamalpais High property. The board allocated funds for curbing, drainage and access and authorized architect Ralph Priestley to prepare cost estimates.

TIRE BLOWS

Prunes Cook In Truck Trailer Fire

McPherson's relief at Ray's arrival rapidly turned to gloom when Ray's pump refused to work, but Ray attacked the fire with a hand extinguisher, checking it until Al Fleming arrived with a county fire fighting truck.

As the fire was quelled, McPherson explained that his inside rear tire blew out on near the top of St. Vincent's Hill. Fearing to stop there because of thick fog and a narrow shoulder, he rode the rig south to the bottom of the hill. By the time he stopped it, both tires on the wheel were ablaze from the friction.

Damage to the trailer was estimated at $500, and $2,500 worth of prunes were ruined. Traffic was slowed in the area for about 45 minutes, California Highway Patrolman William Gregg said.

School Plans To Select Queen Tonight

The San Rafael High School football squad will select Homecoming queen tonight thirty minutes before running onto the field to meet the Marin Catholic Wildcats in the last game of the season.

The candidates vieing for the queen's crown are Pamela Stettler of 417 First Street, Victoria Olson of 8 Eva Street, Barbara Woodhurst of 15 Echo Place, Pamela West of 205 Spring Grove Avenue and Ruth Fagundez of 309 G Street. The five girls are seniors.

The game will follow a 3 p.m. rally in the gymnasium and a Homecoming Day parade that is slated to start in front of the high school on High Street at 6:15 p.m.

The queen candidates will ride on floats accompanied by 30 cars filled with students, a fire truck, clown and horses and riders.

The Homecoming Queen will be crowned at 7 p.m. She will reign over the game and the Homecoming Dance to be held Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the high school gym.

After the game the second alumni reunion to be held in 20 years will be staged in the San Rafael High School gym

MUST 'DISABLE' STOVE

Ross Man Fined $150 In Zoning Violation

Anthony J. Curro of Ross, convicted of operating a two-family home in a one-family area in San Anselmo, paid a $150 fine yesterday and must "disable the kitchen stove in the downstairs unit to the satisfaction of the city building inspector."

This ruling was handed down by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court in what he believed to be the county's first criminal conviction of its kind.

Curro's property is at 41 Austin Avenue. When Curro put in cooking facilities, he told San Anselmo city officials that his sister would live upstairs and his mother downstairs. In September, when city officials learned that other tenants were living in the house, they asked City Atty. John G. Buresh to press charges.

Curro fought the charge but was convicted after a two-day jury trial.

Yesterday, City Attorney Buresh asked the judge to impose a fine and order built-in kitchen appliances removed from the downstairs unit. He said the city considers the violation a flagrant one.

Curro's attorney, Kenneth Larson of Greenbrae, argued it was only a technical violation, and the city is trying to make an example out of Curro to frighten other violators. He asked that Curro be given a minimum fine and that only the gas line for the stove be disconnected and sealed off. He pointed out that removing the built-in kitchen appliances would be quite expensive.

Judge Wilson put Curro on one year probation on condition he pay the $150 fine, disconnect the gas to the stove, and dismantle the stove to the satisfaction of the building inspector.

Curro said he would comply with the court order but plans to appear before the San Anselmo City Council again to seek a variance legally permitting him to have cooking facilities downstairs.

Curro is an insurance agent.

Board Adjourns

The Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District board last night adjourned its meeting to Nov. 17 at which time it will discuss the Peralta Drive line extension and revisions to its ordinance 3 which concerns setting new connection charges, Chairman Richard P. Bovaird said today.

Escapee From Napa Hospital Caught Here

California Highway Patrol men early today apprehended in Marin one of three men who walked out of Napa State Hospital some time yesterday.

Rinaldo Regnani, 39, who was found to be missing from the hospital at the 10 p.m. bedcheck, was spotted walking west on the shoulder of Highway 37 near the Highway 101 intersection at 3 a.m. today.

Highway Patrolmen Charles Heart and Richard DeMarco, noting Regnani's odd actions and clothing, questioned him and learned of the escape. They booked him at Marin County Jail for safekeeping. Hospital attendants were scheduled to pick him up this afternoon.

Also found to be missing at the same hour were Jessie Maxwell and John Flynn. Hospital authorities said today that Maxwell's family lives in Vallejo and Flynn's in San Francisco.

Flynn was described as 39, white, male, 5 foot 8 inches and 131 pounds. He has dark eyes and graying black hair. Maxwell is a 32 year-old Negro, 5 foot 8½, weighing 166 pounds.

U.C. Student Rebel Paper Calls It Quits

BERKELEY (UPI)—The Independent Californian, a daily tabloid newspaper published by a group of "rebel" university of California journalists, suspended publication yesterday after two and a half weeks of life.

Mary Ellen Rose, assistant managing editor, said a shortage of funds made the paper's staff decide on ceasing publication as a daily. An effort will be made to publish weekly, Miss Rose said. At least until the rebels settle their differences with the Associated Students Executive Committee.

The rebels were editors and staff members of five U.C. campus publications, including the Daily Californian, who resigned en masse during a heated dispute with the executive committee over alleged "meddling" in the paper's editorial policies.

Neider Asks Extension Of Fill Permit

Samuel R. Neider's Marin Land Co. of 648 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley, has applied to the Army Corps of Engineers for three-year extension of a dredge and fill permit issued five years ago for a residential island along the northeast shore of Harbor Point in the Strawberry area.

The project was one of three Neider developments in this area before the Marin County Planning Commission recently and it will come before the Board of Supervisors No. 22. This one got planning approval for a change from an agricultural classification with 10,000 square feet required for a home to a planned single-family residential category requiring 7,500 square feet.

Original permit was issued by the engineers June 8, 1955, for fill to make an island separated from the point by a channel.

Proceedings before the planners revealed that the ground will be approximately 25 acres in size. It will be bounded on the bay side by the Salt Works Canal and 80 feet of channel must be dredged by the developer eight feet deep, mean lower low water, as part of the canal.

An existing channel of similar depth is shown between mainland and the proposed fill which will make the residential island.

Anyone wishing to oppose the proposed three-year extension of the engineers' permit should submit his reasons in writing before Dec. 7, addressing the Corps of Engineers at 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

Interviews Set For New Firemen

Applicants to fill eight new positions as firemen will be interviewed by the San Rafael Fire Commission at a special meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the city hall.

The additional firemen are needed to staff the Joseph Sauer Firehouse No. 3 when it opens in Terra Linda on Jan. 1. The firemen will start work on Dec. 1 at a salary of $447 per month.

The top three applicants interviewed in August will be hired tonight if they are available, the commissioners declared last week. Eleven others on the eligibility list, who have completed their physical and written examinations, will be interviewed tonight.

Sausalito Residents Hit Plans For Road

Rodeo Avenue in Sausalito could stand some paving but residents in the area are not at all in favor of its becoming a four-lane highway between Highway 101 and Bridgeway.

As Dominic L. Pizzano of 529 Olive Street suggested to the Planning Commission last night, "why don't they use Spencer Avenue or Monte Mar Drive? We already have a road coming into Sausalito just seven-tenths of a mile down the road at Marin City. . . . Anyway, how are you going to get cars down Gordon Street or Spring Street without moving the houses back?"

T. Howell Breece of 141 Woodward Avenue said he felt the same as Pizzano. "In order to save four minutes time for tourists, you propose to disturb a residential neighborhood," he said. "Many of us bitterly resent what has happened to our city in the last 10-15 years. I do my shopping in Mill Valley because downtown Sausalito is so unbearably crowded."

City Engineer John L. Hunter proposed three choices: (1) improving the present Rodeo Avenue to four lanes; (2) A new Rodeo Avenue to the east of the present one; (3) Two two-lane one-way roads.

Robert E. McCabe, acting chairman in the absence of Gilbert P. Murphy, appointed a four-man committee headed by Carl G. Wooley to review the subject and report back Dec. 14. Also on the committee are Paul Micou, Dr. Thomas Wiper and Charles E. Finney.

Hunter said costs for the first proposal were estimated at $230,000; for the second, $158,000. The state has set money aside for an interchange on Highway 101 when it is needed, he reported.

Hunter said his studies tried to project the needs of the city 25 years from now and stressed the advantage of an improved Rodeo Avenue which would distribute traffic and eliminate some from the south end of town.

"Many people want to get into this town. The town is 6,000 now and will be 12,000 before we know it. We will have to have aditional accesses into Sausalito," he declared.

Pizzano asked, "Is it for tourists or for the people in town?"

McCabe answered, "they are not mutually exclusive."

F. Bruce Bernhard, who has applied for a use permit and variance to build nine buildings with a total of 90 apartments in the Rodeo Avenue area, said a through street would "ruin the character of the whole area." He said "I would like to see the main access at Waldo near Marin City."

Planners Reflect On Steel Building

Whether a steel roof on a Sausalito waterfront building would reflect sun into the eyes of the residents on the hills was a question which caused a small furor at the Sausalito Planning Commission meeting last night.

A one-story steel building, 50 by 94 feet, is planned to be erected by Sausalito Marine Corp. at Bridgeway and Locust Street, on the site of the old Madden and Lewis boat yard.

Peter MacGowan, representing architect John Lord King of Belvedere, a corporation director, said the steel roof would be buff-colored and would have "little effect on the hill people except possibly very early in the morning when there might be some mirror effect."

"What about Belvedere?" asked commissioner Carl G. Wooley.

Commissioner Ruth Sisson said: "I can't see it from my house . . . but it could be an onerous thing to a large part of the community."

MacGowan passed a small square of the roofing material around for the commissioners to see.

F. Bruce Bernhard, in the audience, jumped up saying: "Can the planning commission decide what color anybody can paint their building? I think that's out of line. . . . I do look down on this property and I think the glare would affect my view. Still I don't think it's within the commission's province to decide what kind of roof or what color of roof should be given buildings."

"I agree with Mrs. Sisson 100 per cent," spoke up Mary Hoffman.

The commission then approved a use permit for the building, unanimously, the matter to go next to the city council.

The commission also:

1. Set for Nov. 30 a public hearing on the findings of the Marinship study by planner Frederick Allen, the report being due to the commission Nov. 18.
2. Set for Dec. 14 discussion of the citizens' waterfront plan committee report.
3. Approved a use permit for a three-unit apartment by S. R. McLaughlin at Bridgeway and San Carlos Avenue.
4. Put over until next meeting discussion on whether reasonable fees can be levied to offset the cost of a parking facility when offstreet parking is required.
5. Went on record favoring participation in the Marin County Planning Council which is planned to be re-activated.
6. Approved a use permit for Richard Bennet and Victor Bright for a business in Marinship to manufacture decorative cork wall pieces.

Display Of Photos Set In Sausalito

A photographic portrait of Sausalito will be opened 10 a.m. tomorrow in the city hall on Bridgeway, to continue through Nov. 15.

On completion of the exhibit's run, the 71 black and white photographs will be sent to Sausalito's sister city, Vina Del Mar, as part of Sausalito's people-to-people program, Mrs. Loren Jay said today.

The exhibit was originated by the late Sausalito photographer, Dulce Duncan Ray and was completed by Ted Castle with the help of Michael Bry and Georgia Longini. It contains many fine photographs showing street and waterfront scenes, children and civic leaders. The exhibit closes daily at 9 p.m.

There are more health insuring organizations operating in Texas than any other state.

Hub School Board Will Meet Monday

A series of reports on financial affairs and educational program will be discussed by the San Anselmo School District board of trustees at their meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Isabel Cook School multi-use room.

An audit report for the 1959-60 is first on the agenda. Later the status of district bonds and state loans will come up. There will be preliminary discussion of the 1961-62 salary schedule.

Reports will be given on the speech program, the English educational system and possible offering on a foreign language program. Proposed legislation on programs for gifted children will also be discussed and there will be a continuation of previous consideration of the administrative handbook.

Symphony Unit Threatened By Support Lack

Curtailment of youth and community music programs of the Symphony Guild of Marin is threatened because of weakened community support, according to president Barry Boland.

He said that fewer than 175 Marin business firms have joined as business members and program advertisers this year, while approximately one-third of the individuals and families who were members in the past two years have failed to subscribe.

Boland said the organization has been able to maintain itself since its fourth year and it ended its eighth season last years with a $480 surplus as well as a special memorial scholarship fund of $1,200.

But an increase of 10 per cent in the musicians' union rate and higher costs for the Youth Orchestra raised this year's budget 13 per cent to an all-time high of $14,500.

Boland said a renewed effort is being made to obtain additional memberships at $15 for business and $10 per family, both providing two admissions to three symphony concerts, three concert previews and two concerts of the Youth Orchestra.

Memberships or contributions should be sent to Symphony Guild of Marin, Box 144, Mill Valley, he said.

In his own hunt for the grail Dr. Williamson has worked at Glastonbury Abbey and ancient Stonehenge in England. He was one of six witnesses to George Adamski's reported contact with a man from Venus on the California desert Nov. 20, 1952.

Tam Language Laboratory Hinges On Federal Grant

Installation of language laboratory facilities at Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley will begin in February—if a $15,000 project for the Tamalpais Union High School district is approved by the federal government.

Half of the language laboratory project would be financed by federal funds apportioned through the state, and half by district funds.

The district has applied for a grant under the national defense education act. A similar grant was received last year and provided language laboratory facilities at Drake and Redwood High Schools.

Bulk of the $15,000 or project would be for installation of facilities at Tamalpais High, which now has no laboratory. Language teachers there have long used electric equipment for instruction, district director of instruction Robert D. Torrey said.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Interesting, Exciting Election Over—Now Back To Work

Looking back over the election now two days past—and nothing catastrophic has happened yet—brings out a number of impressions.

First, the remarkable way in which the people of Marin County went to the polls.

It would be exceedingly difficult under any circumstances, short of force, to get many more than 92½ per cent of the registered voters to cast ballots. We can be exceedingly proud of our residents.

Another thing that struck us was the almost without exception high quality of the candidates. In the race for the vacant Assembly seat for Marin-Sonoma, as an example, we could have been well represented by any of the five individuals who ran for the job in the primaries. And we will be by the one who won.

The campaigns themselves were not only hard fought, but cleanly fought. There were several opportunities in our local battles, as well as in the national campaigns, to throw mud. Without exception, the local party organizations and the candidates and their staffs, refrained. It was a rather remarkable achievement.

Particularly we'd like to refer in this regard to the Democratic State Senate candidate, Charles Geller. Even with the background of the national religious issue discussion, Geller, a Mason, at no time referred to or made any inference to the fact his opponent, John F. McCarthy, is a Catholic. We didn't hear a whisper in this regard and it speaks highly of Geller's ideals and motives.

We don't know anyone who was 100 per cent pleased with the results. The correlarary of this, of course, is that no one was 100 per cent displeased.

It was an exciting and interesting election all around.

Fabulous Fuchsias

Of all the various flowers which grow and thrive in Marin, our favorite is the fuchsia.

One reason fuchsias do so well in Marin is our climate is not far different from the damp Central and South American mountain forests which were their native home.

There are fuchsias of combinations of white, pink, purple or blue to suit every taste. Rich, vivid colors which make one think of the tango of a Mexican or, on the other hand, a bridal pink or polar ice.

Not only do fuchsias capture the imagination in themselves, but they also attract that ethereal, fairy-creature, the hummingbird.

Put them all together and you have a bit of evocative magic in the garden. A bloom for every phantasy. Small wonder we call them fabulous.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

TO COMBAT STUDENT VANDALISM

School property is seldom damaged when students appreciate that the institution is theirs just as much as it is anybody's.

Such is the conclusion of Dr. Nathan Goldman of Syracuse University, after a two-year study.

"When members of the school group have a sense of belonging to the school," he said, "and when they feel that the school belongs to them, morale tends to be high and damage low."

When, however, there is a "couldn't care less" attitude on the part of the young people, the resulting boredom often leads to vandalism.

The energies of youthful trouble-makers can be turned from liabilities into assets once they realize that they are entrusted by God with talents that can help everybody.

Do all in your power to remind such students that they are both needed and wanted in improving both the little world of their schools and the bigger world into which they will soon go.

"Have we not all one Father? Hath not God created us?" (Malachias 2:10)

Promote in us, O God, a spirit of cooperation with our superiors and fellow workers.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Many Presidents Wed Widows, Came From Very Big Families

Here's another White House oddity: You are more likely to become president if you come from a large family.

Eighteen came from families of six or more. None was an only child. When you are born into a large family, you have to learn how to get along with people—the politician's art.

Prosperity note: Singer Brian Hyland owned one suit and one pair of shoes before he made his hit recording. Now he has 20 suits and 30 pairs of shoes.

The ladies are getting their hands on more money all the time. More than half of the 625,000 people employed by U. S. banks are women.

Our quotable quotes: "Most people," said John Erskine, "have some sort of a religion—at least they know which church they're staying away from."

A piano looks simple but it has 7,500 parts—more than an auto.

Salesmanship in signs: a shoe store advertises: "Shoes—$8.50 a foot" . . . a barber proclaims: "We need your head to run our business." A downtown pet shop announces: "Everything must go—lost our leash."

The power of the press: The U. S. newspaper industry gives jobs to more than 280,000 people—who earn better than a billion dollars a year.

The agile Indian: The world's fastest typist, S. N. Nikalee, a Hindu, can hit the typewriter keys accurately at a speed of 145.9 words a minute. How does he compare with the stenographers in your office?

Nature lore: The grebe is one of the world's most practical birds. It not only eats its own feathers—it also feeds its feathers to its young.

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

"Okay, so your man lost . . . Do you have to be such a sore-head? Besides, what are we going to do in Mexico . . . ?"

20 YEARS AGO

The California Highway Patral opened a campaign against holders of 1927 and 1928 driver licenses who had not reported for re-examination. Licenses for these years had been cancelled but 1929 licenses, "good until revoked," were still accepted. No charge was being made for license renewals.

'AS USUAL, I SURVIVED!'

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Liberty Strong Enough For Now

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

We often hear arguments along this line:

Traffic lights were not needed in Daniel Boone's environment, but are necessary today. Likewise, as other aspects of society become more complicated and congested, it is necessary for the government to regulate nearly all of our lives.

This line of reasoning overlooks the simple fact that traffic lights are on highway property and are for the conduct of highway business. If they shine through someone else's property, they should have an easement through that property. All businesses, public or private, have to make up their own internal rules and procedures.

Traffic lights point up the necessity for having specific property for specific uses and under specific management. The concept of specific property for specific use includes the concept of private property for private use.

In a broad sense an individual's private property is not only his possessions and real estate, if any, but also his body and his life. These specific pieces of property are for specific uses, mainly to help the individual develop himself. Therefore they should be managed by the individual who owns them.

Government should exist to prevent an individual or a group of individuals from committing the crime of attempting to regulate or otherwise interefere with the self-government of others.

As society becomes more developed it becomes more important for the government itself to be regulated and limited to specific functions. We should thoroughly understand and stick to the greatest self-regulation of government known to man: namely, parts of the United States Constitution.

Not in spite of the fact that the world is becoming more crowded, but precisely because the world is becoming more crowded.

Not in spite of the fact that people are more interdependent, but precisely because people are more interdependent.

Not in spite of, but precisely because, our economy is more technical, etc.

Liberty is not so pitifully weak that it is suited only to a primitive society. Liberty is strong. It enabled our wonderful civilization to develop in the first place and so logically is needed for its conservation and further progress.

Money You Lost In Election Bets Illegal, You Didn't Have To Pay

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Although someone has discovered an old law which prohibits betting on elections in California, it's a pretty fair supposition that a lot of money changed hands when the final votes were counted.

In 1939, the state legislature place a section in the elections code of the state which prohibits wagering on:

1. The result of any election.
2. The success or failure of any candidate.
3. The total number of votes to be cast or the total for any candidate.
4. The vote to be cast by any person.

REPORTEDLY, THE section is an outgrowth of a law which was in the penal code since 1872, when the legislature made it a misdemeanor to bet on an election.

It still is a misdemeanor, subject to a maximum fine of $500, or a year in county jail, if caught. (It was also a misdemeanor during the prohibition years to partake of moonshine.)

Be that as it may, if a person happened to have bet on an election, and lose the bet, after which he refused to pay up, the winner couldn't collect by going to court. This has been upheld by the State Supreme Court in a case rendered some years ago. So if any surreptitious bets are made outside the law, and the loser doesn't want to pay off, he can't suffer legally. Of course, he might lose face with his friends.

THIS CHECK into California's law resulted from the question of betting in Nevada, where bets on almost anything are usually accepted without question.

The State of Nevada has a similar law, enacted in 1919. Just why Nevada and California should single out elections as illegal betting fields, and let horse racing open in California and dozens of other things in Nevada, isn't explained anyplace.

But it may be the two sister states, Nevada wide-open, and California just partially open had some moral scruples about degrading an election to the point where balloting was the subject of wagering.

RECENTLY, A CITIZEN of California told the story of how he had wagered on the outcome of the current election, and how he was brought to time by his high-school age son.

"My son was somewhat shocked," he said, "when he found out I was betting on the election. He told me he didn't believe it was dignified to make a wager on who the next President of the United States would be!"

The young fellow had a good point.

"That's not a bad idea. I guess we ushers will stay home and wash off Old Tom a little bit."

2. "Have you got a fast pick-up in your new car?"

"You idiot. That's my grandmother."

3. "I wonder who can be sending us this telegram?"

"It's Western Union. I recognize the stationery."

4. "Do you like bathing beauties?"

A lot of people in Marin, and especially in San Anselmo, will remember young Bill Rayner, the exchange student from New Zealand who attended Sir Francis Drake High School in 1959.

Drake Counselor Frances Parks has received a letter from the New Zealander, back home and working in an office. .

"Looking back now, two years afterwards," Bill writes, "the initial, rather false sense of fun and excitement has consolidated to a deep, inner satisfaction and understanding of American Field Service ideals. I now regard myself as having almost two nationalities, although in this time and age, nationality should not mean too much.

"To me, America is no longer a rich, slightly crazy country, full of crime and corruption, but is a second home, thought of in the full sense of the word."

THE NEW ZEALANDER remembers his two sets of "parents," Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Youngclaus of Fairfax and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prather of San Geronimo, in whose homes he lived, "who would welcome me anytime I could make the trip back," and many friends.

"It was a wonderful experience to say the least, and I will forever be grateful to the AFS and the people of Marin who did so much in so many ways for," he writes.

Bill also reminisced about some of his fellow exchange students at Drake and "that cute little blonde who sat next to me, a typical homegrown Yank."

SPEAKING OF exchanges, students in freshman English at Redwood High are corresponding with students in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia.

MRS. MARIE CLEMONS, third grade teacher at Greenbrae School, is still shaking over her son's narrow escape from injury recently.

The family lived at 3 Coleman Drive in San Rafael then. It was about 9:45 p.m. Mrs. Clemons was already in bed, and both her son Sansing and daughter, Dana Marie, were asleep. Suddenly an empty car crashed across the street into the Clemons house and Sansing's bedroom. It hit the bed and knocked it across the room.

Mrs. Clemons found her son in bed, uninjured, and part of the front end of the car inside the house through a hole two feet square. Dana Marie slept through it all.

A week later the family moved to 105 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo (they had planned to move anyway before the accident). Said Sansing to his sister: "You change beds with me. I had bad luck with this one."

SOMETIMES, ON a very few occasions, it's a handicap to be a woman reporter. But mostly, we've found, it's an advantage.

Take last week, for example.

We caught Perle Mesta, the famous "hostess with the mostest" as she was leaving station KTIM, popped a few questions at her as she dashed down the corridor, then followed her into the powder room while she primped for her next stop.

She's a small woman, well groomed and vivacious, blunt, witty, with a ready answer for any question.

How did she stand all the dashing about and speech making?

"I'm an old campaigner," she laughed as she pinned on a corsage and sped off for another stop.

U.S. In Tough Spot Over Algerian Revolt

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

The Algerian rebels hint from time to time that Red China and Soviet Russia may dispatch "volunteers" to aid the fight against the French. But most experts discount these reports. Things already are going too well in Algeria for World Communism.

Russia has sent at least one shipload of supplies to aid the rebels, but it knows that any large-scale participation by Russian of Chinese Communist troops could turn Algeria into a second Korea and perhaps touch off a world war. And the longer the fighting drags on the better the Kremlin's position becomes.

FRENCH EXPERTS do not discount the possibility the Communists may send in a handful of technicians to aid in such fields as communications, but the problem of logistics probably would defeat a large-scale Red move. Red China, for example, would have to move supplies half way around the world.

Chinese Communist leader Mao Tze-Tung himself appeared to have ruled out large-scale help. The Tunisian magazine "Afrique Action" quoted him as telling rebel leader Ferhat Abbas: "This is essentially the war of the Algerian people, and the Algerian people in this war must not county essentially on anybody but themselves."

MAO AND PREMIER Nikita Khrushchev know that continuation of the Algerian war must steadily weaken France, now pouring $1 billion a year into the seemingly endless fight. They know, also, that its continuation steadily damages both NATO and United States prestige in Africa.

Moscow has stepped up its propaganda broadcasts to North Africa and has hit the theme that the United States and its NATO allies were trying to perpetuate colonialism. It also blamed the Congo troubles on Belgium and linked the United States through its NATO ties.

The growing hostility to the United States became so pronounced early this month that huge anti-American demonstrations broke out in Tunis where a crowd of 30,000 shouted "Down with America" and "Down with NATO."

THE UNITED STATES position—its failure to denounce France, its ally, was having a major effect in both Tunisia and Morocco. Both have aligned themselves closely with the rebels, and each year of fighting pushes those countries closer politically to the Communist bloc, which is bidding for African support by calling itself the champion of Algerian independence.

The United States is in an increasingly difficult spot, damned if it does and damned if it doesn't. If it supports France, its NATO ally, it loses friendship among the new African nations and the Arab nations of the Middle East. If it aids the rebel cause it loses the friendship of France.

In the meantime the Algerian rebel cause appears to be growing stronger. Soviet recognition of the rebel government of "Premier" Abbas has added to his stature and may have prompted him recently to announce he was no longer willing to resume cease fire talks with the French government.

Jobless Increase Noted For October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment increased by 191,000 in October although the idle rate normally declines in the fall. Employment dropped by 277,000.

When the figures were released at the Labor Department, a government spokesman acknowledged in response to questions that the report could have been announced before Tuesday's election.

Some Democratic partisans had contended the administration was holding up an unfavorable employment report for political reasons.

Seymour Wolfbein, the Labor Department's manpower chief, said that the over-all employment-unemployment data was available around the first of every month.

But he said it was the usual procedure to hold up the figures until supplemental data was available.

The October report showed that unemployment rose by 191,000, increasing from 3,388,000 in September to 3,579,000. The idle figure usually declines by around 200,000 in October.

This contra-seasonal climb in unemployment sent the seasonally adjusted employed rate from 5.7 per cent in September to 6.4 per cent in October. This is the highest such rate of the idle in proportion to the total work force since December, 1958.

Employment declined from 67,767,000 to 67,490,000. October usually brings a seasonal increase of about 400,000 jobs.

The number of long-term unemployed, those idle 15 weeks or longer, rose to nearly one million.

Panel To Discuss Aid To Retarded

A panel of four specialists in vocational rehabilitation of young mentally retarded adults will discuss progress in Bay Area industry placement at an 8 p.m. meeting of Marin Aid to Retarded Children Monday at 10 High Street, San Rafael.

Services offered by the State will also be described by the group comprising Mrs. Will Connelly, secretary of Aid to Retarded Children, San Francisco; Dr. Nathan Nelson, workshop consultant for California Rehabilitation Service; Douglas Clark, chairman of a state pilot program for adult rehabilitation, and John Yetter, director of the Marin organization.

Marin Medal Of Honor Winner Closing Shop To Take Part In Veterans' Day

Vito Bertoldo, A 4-F, Talked His Way Into World War II Battle

By ELLEN BRY

Today he is the derby-wearing owner of Vito's Nursery at the highways 101-37 intersection. And tomorrow, Veteran's Day, he'll close shop to watch the parade and listen to the speeches from the reviewing stand at Hamilton Air Force as the only Medal of Honor winner in Marin.

Vito is a small and wiry 43 today, with hair beginning to gray. In 1942 he was a 4-F who could safely have fought the war on the home front.

But his younger brother got into the fight, so Vito talked his way into "limited service in the military police in the states, leaving coal mining and truck driving behind in Decatur, Ill.

He volunteered for the infantry "to do something more than just stand guard or do the cooking." He was a private first class with the 42nd (Rainbow) Division, walking through France in 1945 when he hit the town of Hatten and won "the medal."

The citation which goes with it tells the story of Vito Bertoldo, who stayed 48 hours at his post without relief "escaping death only by the slightest margin."

Vito was guarding a command post against the enemy, who had overrun the battalion's main line of resistance, the citation explains.

He left the protection of a building and set up a machine gun in the street, staying for almost 12 hours, driving back attacks while in full view of the enemy and under fire from 88-mm. guns and small arms.

He moved back to the building and set the machine gun on a table. Shell blasts from tanks only 75 yards away knocked him across the room. He returned to the machine gun.

VITO BERTOLDO
He remembers

Two enemy vehicles moved in, shielding infantry. Vito waited until the troops got down, leaned out the window and killed more than 20 Germans.

The command post was moved to another building. Vito stayed behind all night to cover.

In the morning he broke up an attack by a tank and 15 infantrymen.

The tank, with muzzle almost in the room, fired again, knocking him down, seriously wounding others. He returned to his gun. They evacuated the post in darkness, while Vito stayed behind to throw phosphorous grenades and break up another attack.

Another tank, less than 50 yards away, fired and knocked him down again. He returned to fight with his rifle.

He had a year of continuous fighting during his four years in the service, "walking all the way across Germany," helping to liberate Dachau: "We didn't realize—we thought it was just a prison camp."

He picked up a Bronze Star and an Oak Leaf Cluster for it, in addition to the Medal.

Vito doesn't think people have forgotten the war, although they don't talk about it much, any more.

"We that actually were in the battles—I don't think we'll ever forget it."

Vito was awarded the Bronze Star after returning 12 to 14 kilometers to pick up a wounded buddy, as the men moved out from the encircling Germans at Hatten. "It was snowin,'" he recalls.

He won the French Croix de Guerre with Silver Star and the Oak Leaf Cluster for the Bronze Star, but "I forget exactly what it was that they gave me those for."

His Congressional medal action also won him the Purple Heart. Six weeks in Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D.C., President Harry Truman awarded the medal, with its wide blue ribbon.

Vito got out of the Army and worked for the Veterans Administration for awhile. He met his wife, Mae, while working there. He later returned to landscaping, something he'd known as a youth. He opened Vito's Nursery last year but is closing it now to concentrate on landscaping.

"Had to go clear to Sacramento to get that derby—brush it every day," says Vito.

U.N. Troops Advance On Congo Tribesmen

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—United Nations soldiers advanced from three sides today on a tribe of fanatic savages suspected of having killed nine Irish soldiers in a north Katanga ambush Tuesday.

The mutilated bodies of five of the ambush victims were found yesterday by an Irish search party. A U.N. spokesman said they could not be identified. Four other men are missing and presumed dead.

Two members of the 11-man patrol survived the ambush without injuries, but were too shocked to give any immediate information, the spokesman said.

The ambush was at first believed to have been staged by members of the Baluba youth movement, supporters of ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba and violently hostile to Katanga's secessionist premier, Moise Tshombe.

Later information raised a suspicion that the attackers may belong to the fanatic Kikiwat tribe, outlawed to the remote and desolate area many years ago by the Belgian colonial administration.

The Kikiwats were converted into Jehovah's Witnesses by American missionaries during the 19th Century. They interpreted their new belief as requiring the killing of non-believers.

Marin Title Race Goes Down To Wire

Redwood's Giants, unbeaten in two league seasons, can pick up all the marbles tomorrow afternoon if they defeat the Drake Pirates in their 2 o'clock battle at Kentfield. Redwood already has clinched at least a tie for the title with its 4-0 record.

Should Drake upset the Giants tomorrow then the winner of tomorrow night's Tamalpais-Novato contest, each with a 3-1 record, would tie for the honors. Tam-Novato also meet at Kentfield.

The final weekend gets started early with San Rafael and Marin Catholic clashing tonight at San Rafael, 8 o'clock. San Rafael (1-3) and Marin (0-4) fought to a thrilling 12-12 tie in a practice game earlier in the season.

Here's a roundup of this week's activities:

SAN RAFAEL will tackle scrappy Marin Catholic tonight at San Rafael stadium in which the senior players, as in most of this week's game, will be going all out for that last high school game.

The Bulldogs' wingback, Alan Finley, suffered a sprained ankle last week against Novato and will only be in for a limited amount of time, said Head Coach Dick Read. Junior fullback Bob Mile, who tore through Novato's middle line last week for one of the Bulldogs' two touchdowns, will take over Ron Melton's spot while the first string fullback will fill in for Finley at wingback.

Halfback Gary Ledson, plagued with injuries this season, will be back for full time action. Last week he got in on only two plays.

"Marin Catholic is a very aggressive club and it will be a real good and close ball game," said Read.

MARIN CATHOLIC'S Wildcats, who've lost their last three league games by a total of only 13 points, hope to generate an offense against the Bulldogs. In four league games the Wildcats have scored only 26 points.

Expected to give the Bulldogs a rough time of it all evening are the Wildcats' great stars, guard Tony Giusti and fullback Jerry Crowe. As linebackers they have won praise from friends and foes alike. Crowe is a jack-of-all-trades on offense and rated one of the best backs in the league.

NEITHER REDWOOD nor Drake suffered any injuries in their last games or in practice so far this week and will go at each other in a healthful manner. The big game will be broadcast by radio KTIM.

The giant of the Giants, six-foot-four, 235-pound Ben Chollar will be in most of the combat, alternating at the fullback position with Ned Griffith. This will probably not be good news to Drake which has had trouble setting the cement in the middle of its line.

Drake's head man, Bob Franceschini, said the Pirates have been working this week to strengthen their defensive game.

Fans may be treated to some real aerial exhibits because Giant Coach Bob Troppmann said his club has continued to concentrate on its passing combinations. At the same time Franceschini expressed hope that Pirate quarterback Sam Johnson is "hot so that ends Gary

Novato's 'Toe' Named Marin Prep Of Week

Novato High School's "big toe" has been selected Marin County Athletic League's "Prep of the Week" by the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM selection committee, it was announced this morning.

The "toe" is tackle John Cook whose two placements last week carried the Hornets to a 14-13 victory over San Rafael and kept Novato's championship hopes alive.

Besides his crucial kicks, Cook played a starring role both offensively and defensively. The 5-11, 205 tackle is only a junior and more great things are expected of him next year, Coach Marlin Olsen said.

Cook is one of the best high school place kickers Marin has seen in recent years. In 15 tries this season he has made 11 conversions, and two of those missed were blocked.

In league play he has made seven and missed only two, which were blocked by Marin Catholic.

He will receive a beautiful "Prep of the Week" certificate. Cook is the 10th star to be honored by the I-J and KTIM this season and the fifth lineman.

TRAINING

Cal Cagers Have Their Ups, Downs

BERKELEY (AP) — Those fellows running up and down hills around here on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons aren't cross country runners. They're trying out for California's basketball team.

They have a new coach, Rene Herrerias but an old hill — named in honor of Pete Newell who stepped up to athletic director.

"Of one thing I am sure," declared Herrerias who aided Pete in past seasons. "There's just nothing else that can match 'Newell hill' for building solid legs and stout lungs. The confidence that comes with this kind of conditioning and the esprit that running together gives our squad just can't be beat."

Newell's rigid conditioning program helped with two of the school's greatest squads, the 1958-59 NCAA champion and last year's runnerup. Pete wound up his basketball coaching with the U.S. Olympic team that won gold medals at Rome.

Herrerias seems more enthusiastic about the cross country conditioning than was Newell. The runs extend from 4½ to 6½ miles, paced by a member of the track squad.

Herrerias figures the rugged workouts determine who really wants to play basketball. The large initial turnout for practice cuts itself automatically.

And when the season starts, California can be sure its players won't suffer from game fatigue.

Raiders To Stay In Kezar Now, But May Move In '61

Earlier in the week, the club's eight-man board decided it was too late to move their final home games from San Francisco across the bay this year, but again vowed that they would find some eastbay arena next year.

Pacific High in San Leandro was considered the most likely site, although additional stands would have to be installed by Oakland.

Further proof that rumors of a Raider franchise shift were unfounded came when the league announced that all eight teams in the league would be back at the same old stand next season.

Muir Woods Meeting

The Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. will meet at 8 p.m., tomorrow in place of its regular meeting date on the third Friday of the month, according to secretary Margaret Hardy. Raising of annual dues from $3 per person to $6 per person is one matter on the agenda.

Golfers Hail New Marin Course; DeMaestri May Stay With Yanks

Golfers who have tested the brand new Marin Bay course on San Rafael's San Pedro Road are excited about the newest Marin recreation development.

Located in beautiful country, the course features plenty of hazards and traps and demands accuracy. Former Yankee pitcher Artie Schallock and his wife, Donna, were among the first to play Marin Bay last Saturday and Artie will attest to its accuracy requirements. "My wife," said Artie, "beat me!"

Only nine holes are playable now, but the back nine will be completed for next spring. The course is now open to the public, but eventually will switch to private membership.

JOE DE MAESTRI is still mum on his future in baseball and says any announcements will have to come from his employers, the Yankees. At the end of the season Joe hinted he may retire, but recent discussions with the Yanks might possibly have changed his mind.

TWO VERY outstanding young San Rafael tennis players have enough money to travel to St. Louis this month to compete in the National Indoor Championships.

Getting there has been assured; getting them back home, however, is another problem. The San Rafael Elks have donated enough money for one-way transportation to St. Louis for Steve Stockton and Harvey Klyce. But their parents say the boys are still shy about $200 to complete the trip.

Where the money comes from is a puzzle, and the boys, their parents and friends hope to raise it soon because the deadline for entry in the nationals over Thanksgiving is very near.

Steve, a transplanted easterner, and Klyce are top players on San Rafael High's tennis team. Observers feel they have excellent chances at the nationals—both individually and as a doubles team. They're both 14 years of age.

SPORTS COLUMNIST John Watson of the San Quentin News: "And speaking of Mr. Stoneham, owner (and manager) of the Giants, this corner feels sure that his team will stay in Japan as long as the baseball fans over there have a yen for him."

I keep hoping that the S. Q. News will start a wrestling column and title it: "No Holds Barred."

COUNCILMAN Dan Allen of Larkspur has a unique distinction to his credit: He played for both the East and the West in the Shrine All-Star grid games years ago.

One year he was selected from Yale to play for the East; the following year he came to the Bay Area to play for the Olympic Club and was selected again for the Shrine game, this time for the West.

PROS—Buffalo over Oakland by 7; and the 49ers definitely will not lose this week, thanks to an open date.

COLLEGES — Washington over Cal by 20, Oregon State over Stanford by 21, Baylor over U.S.C. by 8, U.C.L.A. over Air Force by 14, Utah State over College of Pacific by 7, San Jose State over Fresno State by 6, Oregon over West Virginia by 7, Washington State over Idaho by 22.

HIGH SCHOOLS — Redwood over Drake by 7, San Rafael over Marin Catholic by 1, Novato over Tamalpais by 2.

COLLEGE GRID scouts are drooling over the ability of Drake High's fullback Scott Moriarty and hope he selects their school to further his education—and football playing.

A look at Drake's records show the scouts have very good reason to cast hopeful eyes on the big, strong runner. He has scored 7 of Drake's 21 touchdowns, leads league runners in rushing with more than 850 yards, including 160 against Tamalpais last week, and is ranked high among northern California runners.

Scott is a favorite of Drake fans because he is the work horse of the go-go-go school of rugged football. Give him the slightest hole in the line and he'll supply the power.

Schools Planning 'Golf Workshop'

A "golf program" for a workshop of the California Assn. for Health, Physical Education and Recreation from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday will be conducted for teachers, administrators and families of secondary and elementary schools at Rickey's Rancho Rafael and the Las Gallinas Golf Course.

Sponsors include the office of the Marin County Superintendent of Schools, the San Rafael City Schools, the Tamalpais Union High School District and the Novato Unified School District, with golf organizations.

Homers Pace Giants To 4-1 Victory

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—Back-to-school home runs by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda in the fourth inning helped the San Francisco baseball Giants defeat the Japanese All-Stars 4-1 today.

It was the Giants' 10th win against three losses and one tie in their 16-game goodwill tour which ends Sunday.

After three scoreless innings, Mays started the Giants rolling in the top of the fourth when he hoisted his No. 7 circuit wallop into the leftfield stand. Cepeda followed with another solo blow into center—to put the Giants into a 2-0 lead.

It was also a good day for both sluggers. Mays got three hits in three official trips and Cepeda had three for four. But the National Leaguers were outhit by the Japanese All-Stars 7 to 10.

RALLIES FAIL

The Japanese missed two big chances to overtake the visitors when they loaded the bases both times with one out. In the sixth the Japanese filled the bases on two successive singles and an error but Giants' starter Sad Sam Jones struck out the next batter and forced the third to ground to second baseman Don Blasingame to retire the side.

The Japanese again filled the bases in the eighth when reliefer Stu Miller allowed two straight base hits and walked the next with one out. Miller got himself out of the jam by inducing the next batter to pop, fly and the final hitter to ground out.

Former Giant Heroes Jansen, Lockman Return As Coaches

Alvin Dark made his first decisions as manager of the San Francisco Giants yesterday. He hired two former teammates as coaches.

Dark, signed last week, selected Larry Jansen and Whitey Lockman and retained Wes Westrum and Salty Parker for his coaching staff. Bill Posedel was released to make way for Jansen as boss of the bullpen.

Dark, Lockman, Jansen and Westrum were all key figures for the Giants that October day in 1951 when Bobby Thomson's home run beat the Brooklyn Dodgers in a National League playoff and gave the Giants their first pennant in 14 years.

Dark, Jansen and Lockman—stars when they played for the Giants—have a lot in common. They all have reputations as gentlemen, quiet craftsmen who let their feats on the field speak for them.

Dark hit .322 in his rookie season with the Boston Braves and was named Rookie of the Year 1948 by the major league baseball writers.

As a lean, smiling youngster of 18, Lockman stepped into Mel Ott's No. 3 batting spot in mid-summer of 1945 and rapped a home run the first time he faced a major league pitcher.

Jansen's big league debut was one of the most heartwarming ever. It took the big right-hander seven years to get his first crack at the majors. When it finally came, after a 30-6 season with San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League, Jansen ran into dismal luck.

Pitching against Cleveland in a spring exhibition game, Jansen was struck by a line drive hit by Bob Feller and suffered a fractured jaw. Larry missed the first six weeks of the 1947 season.

He finally got his chance on May 30, pitched and won his first Giant game and went on to a 21-5 record, best in the major leagues that season.

We believe that the vast majority of car buyers are intelligent individuals who resent being taken for fools. When they read the blatant ads that promise new cars "at cost" and at ridiculous prices stripped of excise taxes, freight and basic equipment, they are, indeed, being fooled.

Frankly, we can't and don't sell our cars at cost because we are in business for profit. But, we are a profitable concern because we sell in volume with very low unit markups.

If you are seriously interested in a new Ford or Falcon or a quality used car, you cannot buy it for less than right here at Ames Ford Sales. We refuse to insult your intelligence with phony "cost" claims and unrealistic prices. Smart people know you can't get something for nothing.

Gratifying To See Hickey Shift Blame To Offensive Backfield

HANLEY

It was somewhat gratifying to see that Red Hickey corrected his immediate post-game analysis of last Sunday's 49er-Lion meeting after studying films of the game.

"In the dressing room after the game I said our primary breakdown was in offensive line blocking but after watching the films I found it was more of a breakdown in the offensive backfield," Hickey acknowledged.

This was personally gratifying because we have been contending all along that the basic flaw in the 49er attack this year is lack of outside speed. All other NFL teams know the 49er backfield as now constituted does not have one man who can turn the corner for a breakaway run even when given effective blocking. So they have concentrated on the middle, ignoring the threat of any outside stuff.

It is to Hickey's credit that he corrected the first impression he created by his statement "It doesn't matter who is in the backfield when you are getting licked at the line of scrimmage." If he hadn't corrected it, 49er team morale, already down as a result of the 3-4 record, might have dipped to an irretrievable low. Both Hickey and his players know what the basic team weakness is, just as other NFL teams have cased it.

FOOTBALL FANS who have been watching the 49ers since early season were hopeful that Hugh McElhenny might recapture some of his old outside speed. Now, they are fairly well convinced that Mac is bowing to age as all great athletes must.

The average fan, without film corroboration of his immediate judgment as to why one play clicks and another fails, may hesitate to give a firm opinion on an inside shot —but not outside stuff which he can see better from his seat in the stands than even a coach on the sideline.

INCIDENTALLY, the films used by coaches to correct or corroborate their first impressions are not the same as those shown on TV a couple of days after each game. Films taken for TV seldom show all 22 players but those taken for coaches show every player and official on the field on every play.

Furthermore, they are shot in semi-slow motion, 32 frames a second as against normal 24 frame speed. And to insure that every player is clearly shown in every play, an anamorphic lens is used. This lens acts like an accordion in compressing the wide field of action onto the narrow film.

Then, a cinemascope projector lens plays a reverse role, like an accordion being extended instead of compressed. Without this gimmick, a coach would be lost in trying to reconstruct precisely what did happen during a game.

JUST LIKE everyone else at a football game, a coach has ability to see only a segment of each play—and he normally watches the ball carrier just like everyone else. Football is a complicated game because of the number of men involved but it quickly bcomes uncomplicated in slow-motion and before those anamorphic and cinemascope gadgets.

Final Games This Weekend

Schleuter and William Collins will have some work."

"We will be running against a fine line in Redwood and may meet our match in their tackle, Mike Hoffman," said Franceschini.

"The boys have been waiting all year to play this one . . . they are confident in their ability, but it will be a real ball game and could go either way depending on the breaks," Franceschini said.

Redwood's student body has been waiting for Friday's big one, said Coach Troppmann. He said his players are not cocky about the game at all, but "they are positive thinking athletes and determined to win the whole thing and don't want to share it with anyone."

"Too many critics feel we have been just lucky this season; we want to discredit this attitude by exhibiting a real fine game," added Troppman.

If the Giants defeat Drake they will also, for the third year in a row, keep the Tamalpais District Trophy in their school case.

"Regardless of the record this particular game will be like a Stanford-Cal game, with the chances of it going either way," Troppmann said.

HEAD COACH at Tamalpais High, James Hanretty, is anxious about Friday night's tussle with Novato.

"The players are a bit weary at the end of the season . . . they have been putting out pretty hard all year," said the Indian coach. "If we fumble as much and fail to play any better than we did against Drake we will lose Friday night," added Hanretty.

"Novato has a real good line, one of the better in the league. Their backs are not as fast as ours, but they are strong—it's a solid ball club which can shove its way around the field and get away with it. Even though they have been hurt by injuries it will be a real tough game," Hanretty said.

Although Tam suffered no major injuries last week Warren Domino, one of the Indian tricky running backs, failed to make practice Tuesday due to a sore back and will undergo a medical examination this week. Whether he will be fit for Friday's action was not yet decided. Indian Pete Hanley, benched last week with a case of the flu, may not get into the strife this week either.

Although Hanretty did not feel assured of Friday's results he said he was "pleased with the team's performance for the season as a whole and that the boys have shown a real fighting attitude when they were behind."

"This team has been the best one at Tam for this kind of an attitude and I am confident they will finish Friday the way they have been extending themselves all season," said Hanretty.

NOVATO WILL go into the game healthier than any previous contests during which injuries have plagued the Hornets. However, Coach Marlin Olsen said second string end Harry Cassidy suffered a cracked arm in practice this week and will miss the final game.

Olsen said his squad would be at Kentfield tomorrow afternoon to cheer for a Drake victory. "We'll be Drake's biggest fans," he said, still clinging to the hope of a co-championship.

MARIN GIRL FUTURE CHAMP

Tabbed as a possible future champion by her instructor, Michele O'Bid of San Anselmo is pictured practicing for entry in the Northern California Figure Ice Skating championships Dec. 5-6 in Berkeley. A dedicated and tireless worker, the 11-year-old Michele "is the most promising skater and future champion I have seen in seven years here," said Ray Schram of Raydine Ice Skating Studio in San Anselmo. He added, "She works hard, maintains a high interest and has the talent to become a champion." Miss O'Bid recently passed her second test in a series of eight required by the U.S. Figure Skating Assn. for gold medalist honors. Next January Miss O'Bid may enter the Pacific Coast Championships in Los Angeles. She has been skating three and one-half years. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward V. O'Bid is a seventh grade student at Brookside School. (George Wheeler photo)

KIDS FOOTBALL AT KENTFIELD

Pop Warner Champs Battle All-Stars Saturday Night

First annual Marin Boys' Club All-Star football game will be launched under the lights at Kentfield Stadium Saturday between the Marin Pop Warner League champions, the Redwood Junior Giants, and the Marin Boys' Club All-Star team.

In the past the All-Star club has met the Sonoma All-Stars, but this year the outstanding players of the league will meet the two-time champion Junior Giants.

More than 2,000 fans, including parents of the 13-14 year old players, are expected to attend the clash between these two superior young teams.

Redwood Coach John Pagliaro, also a Larkspur fireman, will run a single wing against the All-Stars, coached by John McCarthy, Independent-Journal dealer.

"We have the team spirit, the will to win, and with a good team effort we will come out on top," said Pagliaro.

The All-Stars, made up of the best players from the San Rafael Rangers, Mill Valley Bulldogs, and the Fairfax-San Anselmo Hornets, will use a short punt formation, said Coach McCarthy.

"The boys ought to have run more plays together, but we have been handicapped by the rain and have had only four practices together," said the All-Star mentor.

"It will be a good fight . . . these boys have all played each other during league play and their spirits will be high," he added.

Kick off time Saturday will be at 8 p.m.

PIN TOURNAMENT

Women Bowlers Help Veterans Hospitals

Marin County Women's Bowling Assn. yesterday reminded members that this is their Bowlers Victory Legion Classic Tournament month and urged 100 per cent participation.

The tournament, an annual attraction, is sponsored for the benefit of purchasing sporting and recreation equipment for veterans hospitals.

JEAN BRIXON of Larkspur has upped her average from 108 to 117 and gives us a fascinating explanation for the improvement, to wit: "Last winter when I was pregnant I found it easier to bowl taking three steps. But today I changed back to four steps, and look what it has done for my bowling! I was ready to quit bowling with such a low average every week, but this changes everything."

Expectant mothers, please note.

The sixth week action of the North Bay Junior Travel League produced a complete reshuffle of the standings. The Country Club Bowl of San Rafael moved into a tie for the number one slot by scoring a crucial 3 to 0 win over the highly touted Nave Lanes. Ralph Garner, 12, turned on the steam and rocketed a 203 single and 535 series to vanguard the winners. Despite the loss, Rich Lazzarini shot beautifully for the losers, exploding for an envious 200 single and 553 series.

The Rose Bowl stunned Hamilton Lanes 3 to 0 and also moved up to share the top rung. For the winners, Greg Stras powered home a solid 213 single and 568 series to cop the weekly individual scoring laurels.

The Holiday Bowl, leaders from the offset, was dramatically upended 2 to 1 by Marin Bowl in a squeaker, losing the second and third games by 21 and 9 pins, respectively.

Warner Kids To Receive Grid Awards

Outstanding players in the Marin Boys Club's Pop Warner Conference football program will be honored tonight on the stage of the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

At the 9 o'clock break in the regular movie schedule awards will be made to the Redwood Junior Giants, champions of the league, and members of the league's All-Star selections.

Ames Ford Co. of San Rafael will present a championship trophy to the Redwood team. Each player for Redwood and the All-Stars will collect individual awards.

All players in the Boys Club are invited to the ceremonies as guests of the theater.

Also scheduled to make appearances are Joe DeMaestri, infielder of the New York Yankees, former Yankee pitcher Art Schallock, and former East-West football star, Councilman Dan Allen of Larkspur.

Maris Shades Mantle For American Loop MVP Award

BOSTON (UPI) — Outfielder Roger Maris of the New York Yankees today wearily adjusted his crown for winning the American League's most valuable player award after the closest finish in 13 years.

Maris, who helped the Yankees into their 10th pennant in 13 years by leading the league in runs batted in, squeezed through the winner over teammate Mickey Mantle yesterday, polling 225 points to Mantle's 222. Brooks Robinson, Baltimore's fine young third baseman, finished a close third with 211 points in balloting by the nation's baseball writers.

The only closer finish in 30 years of voting by the writers was in 1947 when Joe Di Maggio of the Yankees nipped Boston's Ted Williams by one vote, 202 to 201. This year was the first time that three players ever received 200 or more points.

Maris compiled a .283 batting average while topping the loop in RBIs and trailing league leader Mantle by one in home runs—39 to 40. It was Roger's torrid bat over the first half of the season, plus Mantle's hitting over the second half, that lifted the Yanks into the pennant despite their mediocre pitching.

"I thought it was possible but I wasn't expecting to win it," said a surprised Maris from his Raytown, Mo., home. "This certainly is a happy feeling. Every player in the American League likes to win this at least once before he retires. It's the greatest award that comes out of the league."

Oregon State Alumni Rally, Dance Tomorrow

OSC Coach Tommy Prothro, the rally squad and officers of the college will participate in the pre-OSC-Stanford game festivities.

The rally will start at 8 o'clock tomorrow night and a good portion of the 2,400 OSC alumni in the Bay Area are expected to attend.

Beverage License Fee Money Distributed

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state department of alcoholic beverage control announced Marin County has received $39,355 as its share of alcoholic beverage license fees and fines for the six-month period, March 1-Aug. 31.

This included $10,579 for the unincorporated area of the county and $360 for Belvedere, $910 for Corte Madera, $3,529 for Fairfax, $1,684 for Larkspur, $3,414 for Mill Valley, $360 for Ross, $4,117 for San Anselmo, $9,031 for San Rafael, $2,935 for Sausalito and $2,430 for Novato.

Color Ski Films Tomorrow Night

"Ski West, Young Man," a full-length feature color film, will be presented tomorrow night at San Rafael High School Auditorium by the Marin Ski Club.

Proceeds from ticket sales (at $1.25 each) will go to help finance the club's new Sierra ski cabin, which the group hopes to have finished for the 1961-62 ski season.

"Ski West, Young Man," produced by Dick Barrymore, shows a dozen world-famous skiers in action at Squaw Valley, Mammoth, Aspen (Colo.), Alta, and Sun Valley. Show time is 8 p.m.

MacKay Leads U.S. Tennis Team

SYDNEY (AP)—Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, led the United States Davis Cup team into the second round of the New South Wales Tennis Championships today.

MacKay, No. 1 overseas seed, beat John Souter, New Zealand, 6-2, 6-0, 6-4.

Chuck McKinley of St. Louis beat John Cottrill, Sydney, 6-0, 6-2, 6-2, and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., knocked out Richard Hawkes, New Zealand, 6-0, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

SPOT BOWLING

Fingers Give Hook To Ball, Says Keg Champ

(Last in a series on Spot Bowling, written for AP Newsfeatures by All-American bowler Dick Weber.)

There has been a gradual transition going on in bowling over the last 15 years, although some bowlers may not be fully aware of it. Until just after World War II, the best bowlers rolled a wide-breaking curve ball. They were able to control it on the relatively soft shellac-finished lanes and it was a beautiful thing to behold.

The curve ball is thrown with a pronounced counter-clockwise wrist turn that puts a great deal of spin on the ball. This spin "bit" into the lane surface and produced a ball that broke across as many as 20 boards on its path to the pins.

However, with the introduction and popularity of the easier-to-maintain but harder lacquer finish, bowlers found that the big rainbow curve would slam into the pocket one time and then skid in erratic directions on the next roll of the ball.

With the exception of a few veterans who found it difficult to make the change, all bowlers today must roll a small, sharp-breaking hook ball that covers only 5 to 8 boards to maintain consistently high averages in tournament and league play. The hook makes more and faster revolutions than the curve and is highly effective in the pin area.

It is rolled without any wrist turn at the point of release. The ball is gripped in the standard "handshake" position and released with the thumb coming out just before the fingers let go. The fingers apply side-spin to the ball which travels two-thirds of the way toward the pins in a straight line. Then it breaks to the left and into the 1-3 pocket.

The game of bowling has changed as the equipment and conditions in it have been altered. The old-timers maintain that theirs was the better game, but records continue to be broken every season, giving credence to the fact that the top-notch bowlers of today are performing at least as well as the stars of yesterday.

'Big Game' Parade Planned By Tam

Tamalpais High School students will hold a "big game" parade starting at 4 p.m., tomorrow, from Lytton Square in Mill Valley to the campus, to build up spirit for their football game with Novato at 8 p.m. at College of Marin in Kentfield.

The school band will play and majorettes will do their routines in the square prior to the 15-car parade, which will be escorted by Mill Valley police.

Raiders' Tickets To Sell For $2.50

General admission seats to the Oakland Raiders-Buffalo Bills football game at Kezar Stadium in San Francisco Sunday will be sold for $2.50. Children 12 and under, when accompanied by an adult, will be admitted for 50 cents.

Seats in the west end zone have been taken off the reserve list and are now being sold as $2.50 general admission seats. The east fenced-in end zone seats are still being sold for $2.50.

Charlie Powell May Miss Raider Contest

OAKLAND (AP)—Oakland will probably play Sunday's pro football game at Kezar Stadium against the Buffalo Bills minus Raider defensive end Charlie Powell.

Powell suffered bruised ribs in the Boston Patriot encounter last week. But offensive guard Wayne Hawkins and defensive tackle Ramon Armstrong should be back in action. Hawkins hurt an arm and Armstrong has been ill.

The FISHIN' FOOL

STEVENS

An oldtime fishing pal, Jimmy Harkness, called to bemoan the fact he had squatted in a skiff for six hours only to land one keeper bass of around six pounds. Two other anglers, Herbert and Lucille Green of Lawton Avenue, Oakland, just returned from a full week's fishing at the Smith River. The first day, Lucille hooked and landed a chub salmon of around five pounds. That was the sum total of the entire week. Yet, when we offered our sympathy to those good people, they assured us they had thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the trip . . . "Always do, whether we catch fish or not!" insisted Herb.

Don't get the idea from Jimmy's lament, though, that the local striper striving is fruitless. Quite the contrary. Some really fine results have been had the past few days in a wide range of locale.

ON MONDAY, four men in a boat fished BEHIND Buoy 9 in the upper San Pablo Bay and took four fine limits of bass to 12 pounds. About every skiff fishing that area (8-14 feet of water) has limited out on Sunday, Monday, and up until noon on Tuesday (our last check).

Frank Quan of China Camp reported good fishing straight out from his place near the radar marker. Fish running to eight and nine pounds. On Monday, Tom Wetton, Al Mesick and Jim Coglan came in with limits each to nine pounds. The trio told of losing many fish because of "short strikes." They got their fish on sliding sinkers and rather small hooks.

THE HARBOR ROCKET netted 35 stripers to eight pounds in the Red Rock sector. The action in the Racoon Strait slowed down a great deal the past day or so, which makes us believe the fish have started upstream in earnest.

Joe Nerviani reported good action on the Shell Banks out of his place at Santa Venetia Slough on Sunday, with Joe Casilli of Fairfax taking an easy limit to 12 pounds but no fish were caught in that area on Monday. Joe also reported the "never-miss" McGowans taking their limits to six pounds off China Camp.

The lads who have been working the lower Suisun Bay have been doing right well. Bass to six and eight pounds in limit quantities have been the rule. One chap, Joe Baiocchi, who used bullheads for bait almost exclusively, fished the Montezuma Slough two Sundays running, accounted for a 37-pound striper once and a 31-pound bass on the second trip.

IN THE McAvoy region fishing has been good also. Charlie Souza and Lou Zevanove took limits to eight pounds.

Out of Nelson's Resort on the lower Napa, a goodly number of bass, mostly large mediums with an occasional monster, came in on both Sunday and Monday.

Hundreds of boats, skiffs and cruisers fished the Sacramento between Emmaton and the Rio Vista Bridge on Sunday and hundreds of nice bass (mediums) were taken.

Ski Season Opens At Tahoe Friday

Up to three feet of good snow was reported in the resort's upper bowl. A new $250,000 chair lift will be put into operation for the first time.

Hamilton Hosts USF Grid Team Saturday

USF's low-pressure football team will have a chance to come up with a .500 season Saturday when it meets Hamilton Air Force Base, 2 p.m. at Hamilton Field. The game will be the last of the year for the Dons who have a one won two lost and one tie record in their other four games so far this season.

The Hamilton team has a 6-3 record to date. Among their victims have been the Cal Ramblers (37-20) and the College of Idaho (27-7).

The Hamilton team relies on 15 veterans who returned from the 1959 squad and former Arizona All-American "Skip" Corley, a fine passing quarterback.

The Dons, who defeated San Benito College 14-8 last week, emphasize running. Their big guns on the ground have been quarterback John Sterling, halfback John McCauley and fullback Ed Di Antoni. USF's passing attack this season has been unimpressive.

Padre Manager Stays

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Jimmy Reese, who had coached San Diego's Pacific Coast League baseball club for the past 13 years, today signed a two-year contract as manager of the Padres.

Wilt Tallies 46 In Warriors' Win

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers couldn't put the damper on Wilt Chamberlain and The Stilt scored 46 points as the Philadelphia Warriors scored a 125-118 victory last night.

It was the first game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader. St. Louis beat the Detroit Pistons 126-120 in the other game.

Elgin Baylor scored 40 points for the Lakers on 14 field goals and 12 free throws in as many tries, but Chamberlain set a new season record for an individual with 20 field goals and six free throws of 16 attempts.

Family Service League Prepares For Opening Yule Gift Gallery

Bright blue felt aprons with the Family Service League's "Organization Woman's" applique' will distinguish the staff members from the visitors at next week's Gallery of Gifts-to-order-for-Christmas which opens to the public free of charge Friday, Nov. 18 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday's hours are the same and on Sunday the display will be open from 11:30 to 5 p.m.

The Frances Young Gallery at the Marin Art and Garden Center will be sparkling with background and motif decorations in colors of bright blue and green, and including several huge handmade ornaments loaned by a local felt shop which also donated the aprons.

Leading Marin merchants have purchased display space for their most unique gift items which run the gamut from toddlers' shoes in calico, corduroy, or velveteen for the zwieback crowd, to handmade cone-shaped fruit trees, or pod or ball trees to enhance the home of the "woman who has everything."

In addition to gift items there will be two original designs in Christmas cards, both benefiting local community institutions. George Lichty, of "Grin and Bear It" fame, has designed a family Christmas scene with his usual humor, for the benefit of the Family Service Agency of Marin. Si Duhilfo, artist with the Bechtel Company, has designed a card for the Marin General Hospital Auxiliary, who will display it at the Gift Gallery to benefit the Marin General Hospital.

Those League members who have done the groundwork of getting contracts include Mesdames John Munson, Louis O. Britt, Barry Brennan, Louis Van Vliet, Herbert Hanson, Theo. Olsen, Alan Littman, William Searles, Ralph Cole and Enoch Callaway III. Mrs. Horace Henderson is in charge of tagging.

Mrs. John Barrie, Jr. of 40 Westwood Drive, Kentfield, is now taking reservations for the Champagne Preview on opening night, Nov. 17, from 6 to 9 p.m.

The Family Service League is a county-wide educational and service group which was formed to aid the Family Service Agency of Marin. The League has units in the Ross Valley, Mill Valley, Strawberry, Belvedere-Tiburon, and new groups in Novato and Sausalito. The Family Service Agency is a private, non-profit, professional family counseling service. It is a member of the United Bay Area Crusade and a project of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc.

St. Hilary's Club

Guy Roop, A.I.D., director of design at a San Francisco store will be the speaker at the next meeting of St. Hilary's Women's Club according to Mrs. Francis Ryan, president. The meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 15 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Mettalia, 100 Avenida Mira Flores, Del Mar Estates.

Roop will discuss the coordinating of color schemes and carpet fabrics as well as national trends in decorating.

Hostesses for the evening will be members from the Paradise Drive area.

Yolansdale P-TA Hears Kaye Hunt

Kaye Hunt, director of the Marin County YWCA was the guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Yolansdale Parent Teacher Association.

Miss Hunt described the background of the YWCA in Marin County and the aims of the National "Y." She enumerated the many classes available to both men and women, and the areas in which each class is available. She said that while the majority of classes are geared for the enjoyment of women, there are several classes such as bridge and ball room dancing where male attendance is a prerequisite. Many of the Yolandsdale P-TA members expressed an interest in joining into YWCA activities, and Miss Hunt said that although there are classes in progress at the present, because of the coming holidays, the next enrollment would be right after the first of the year.

Yolansdale P-TA sponsors San Anselmo Cub Pack 15, and they have purchased new 50-star flags for each den as well as for the pack. These new flags will be presented officially to the Cubs at their next pack meeting.

Plans were announced for the Christmas meeting. Each member will bring her favorite dessert and the recipe to the December meeting where the food will be served as dessert, and the recipes will be sold. "Christmas Goodies from Native lands" will be the theme for the evening.

Juvenile Officer Chester Orr, of the San Anselmo Police Department presented an interpretation of the new Bicycle Licensing Law which is soon to be enforced in San Anselmo, after which he answered the questions presented by the mothers about the new law.

'Puss In Boots' Cast Announced

"Puss in Boots" has been chosen as the play which the Belvedere-Tiburon unit of the Junior Theater will present on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 2 and 3 in the auditorium of the Bel Aire school according to Mrs. Walter Conner, president.

The play will be directed by Ann Brebner of the Playbox Theater School. She will be assisted by Miss Pat Murray.

Tryouts were held last week and the play cast as follows: Puss, Mike Gordon; his Master, Rick Conner; the Giant, Steven Dick; the King, Michael McKinney; the Princess, Lissa Coleman and Master of Ceremonies, Cissy Knox.

Hartzell P-TA To Meet Tonight

The Oliver Hartzell Parent Teachers Assn. will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the kindergarten room.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Walter Busher, Marin County Probation Officer. Busher's topic "The Fatal Odyssey" concerns young children's problems.

INVITATIONS EXTENDED FOR ST. STEPHEN'S SILVER TEA

Four hundred invitations have been extended for the St. Stephen's Guild Silver Tea to be held from 3 to 5 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 16 at the Belvedere home of Mrs. Clarence Kretchmer, according to guild president Mrs. John H. Flint.

The historic home, situated on the Point of Belvedere island, commands a spectacular view of San Francisco and the Bay from the lovely terraced gardens. Part of the estate of the late Gordon Blanding, it is known locally as the "organ house" because it houses a huge pipe organ. California tycoon Blanding used the home to display his collection of paintings and for the concerts at which great artists of the early 1900s performed for his guests.

The estate included a white mansion near the organ house, a large guest house, gardener's cottage, carriage house, boat house and pier. Mr. and Mrs. Kretchmer purchased the "organ house" when the estate was divided 20 years ago and although it has been extensively remodeled, the magnificent ceilinged concert room still contains the famed pipe organ. Here Mrs. Kretchmer, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Kretchmer and Mrs. Flint will greet tea guests.

The silver contributions will make possible the purchase of two silver tea services for St. Stephens parish. Mrs. Lee Larimer is chairman of the tea committee and will be assisted by Mesdames H. C. Armstrong, W. E. Long, Gary Gast, William Ballard, Walter Purdom and David Mushet.

Presiding over the tea tables will be Mesdames Frederick Palmer, Oliver Sollom, Edwin Weed and Robert Crockett.

A display of unusual metal products created at Dirk Van Erp's studio and workshop in San Francisco will be an additional attraction of the social afternoon planned by the Episcopal women's organization.

Mrs. Gilmartin Honored Guest A Champagne Party, Shower

Mrs. James Gilmartin (Beverly Kelly) was honored at a champagne party and shower on Saturday afternoon at the Corte Madera home of Mrs. James Baxter. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Baxter were Mrs. Romolo Brusati and Mrs. William Barr.

Mrs. Gilmartin was showered with gifts for herself and for the baby she and her husband will soon adopt.

Guests at the party were:

Mesdames Albert Bonfiglio, John Brusati, Wilber Carlson, Ray Cerutti, Warren Crane, Joseph Ferriter Jr., Elaine Howell, Frank Kelly, Walter Mazza, Richard Misuraca, Thomas McGrath, Richard Nave, Joseph Petretti, Dolores Thornhill, Carrie Vermeyen, Murray Baxter, Ray Brusati, O. J. Brovelli, Louis Castellani and George Curry, Thomas Cheetham, William Ghilotti, Robert Ghiringhelli, William Herup, Frank Kelly Jr., Richard Marowitz, Robert Hunter, David Menary, James McDonald Dominic Pensabene; Jasper Pizza, John Streckfus, Robert Williams, Edward Becker, James Bonfiglio, Michael Buckley, Donald Christensen, Warren Collins.

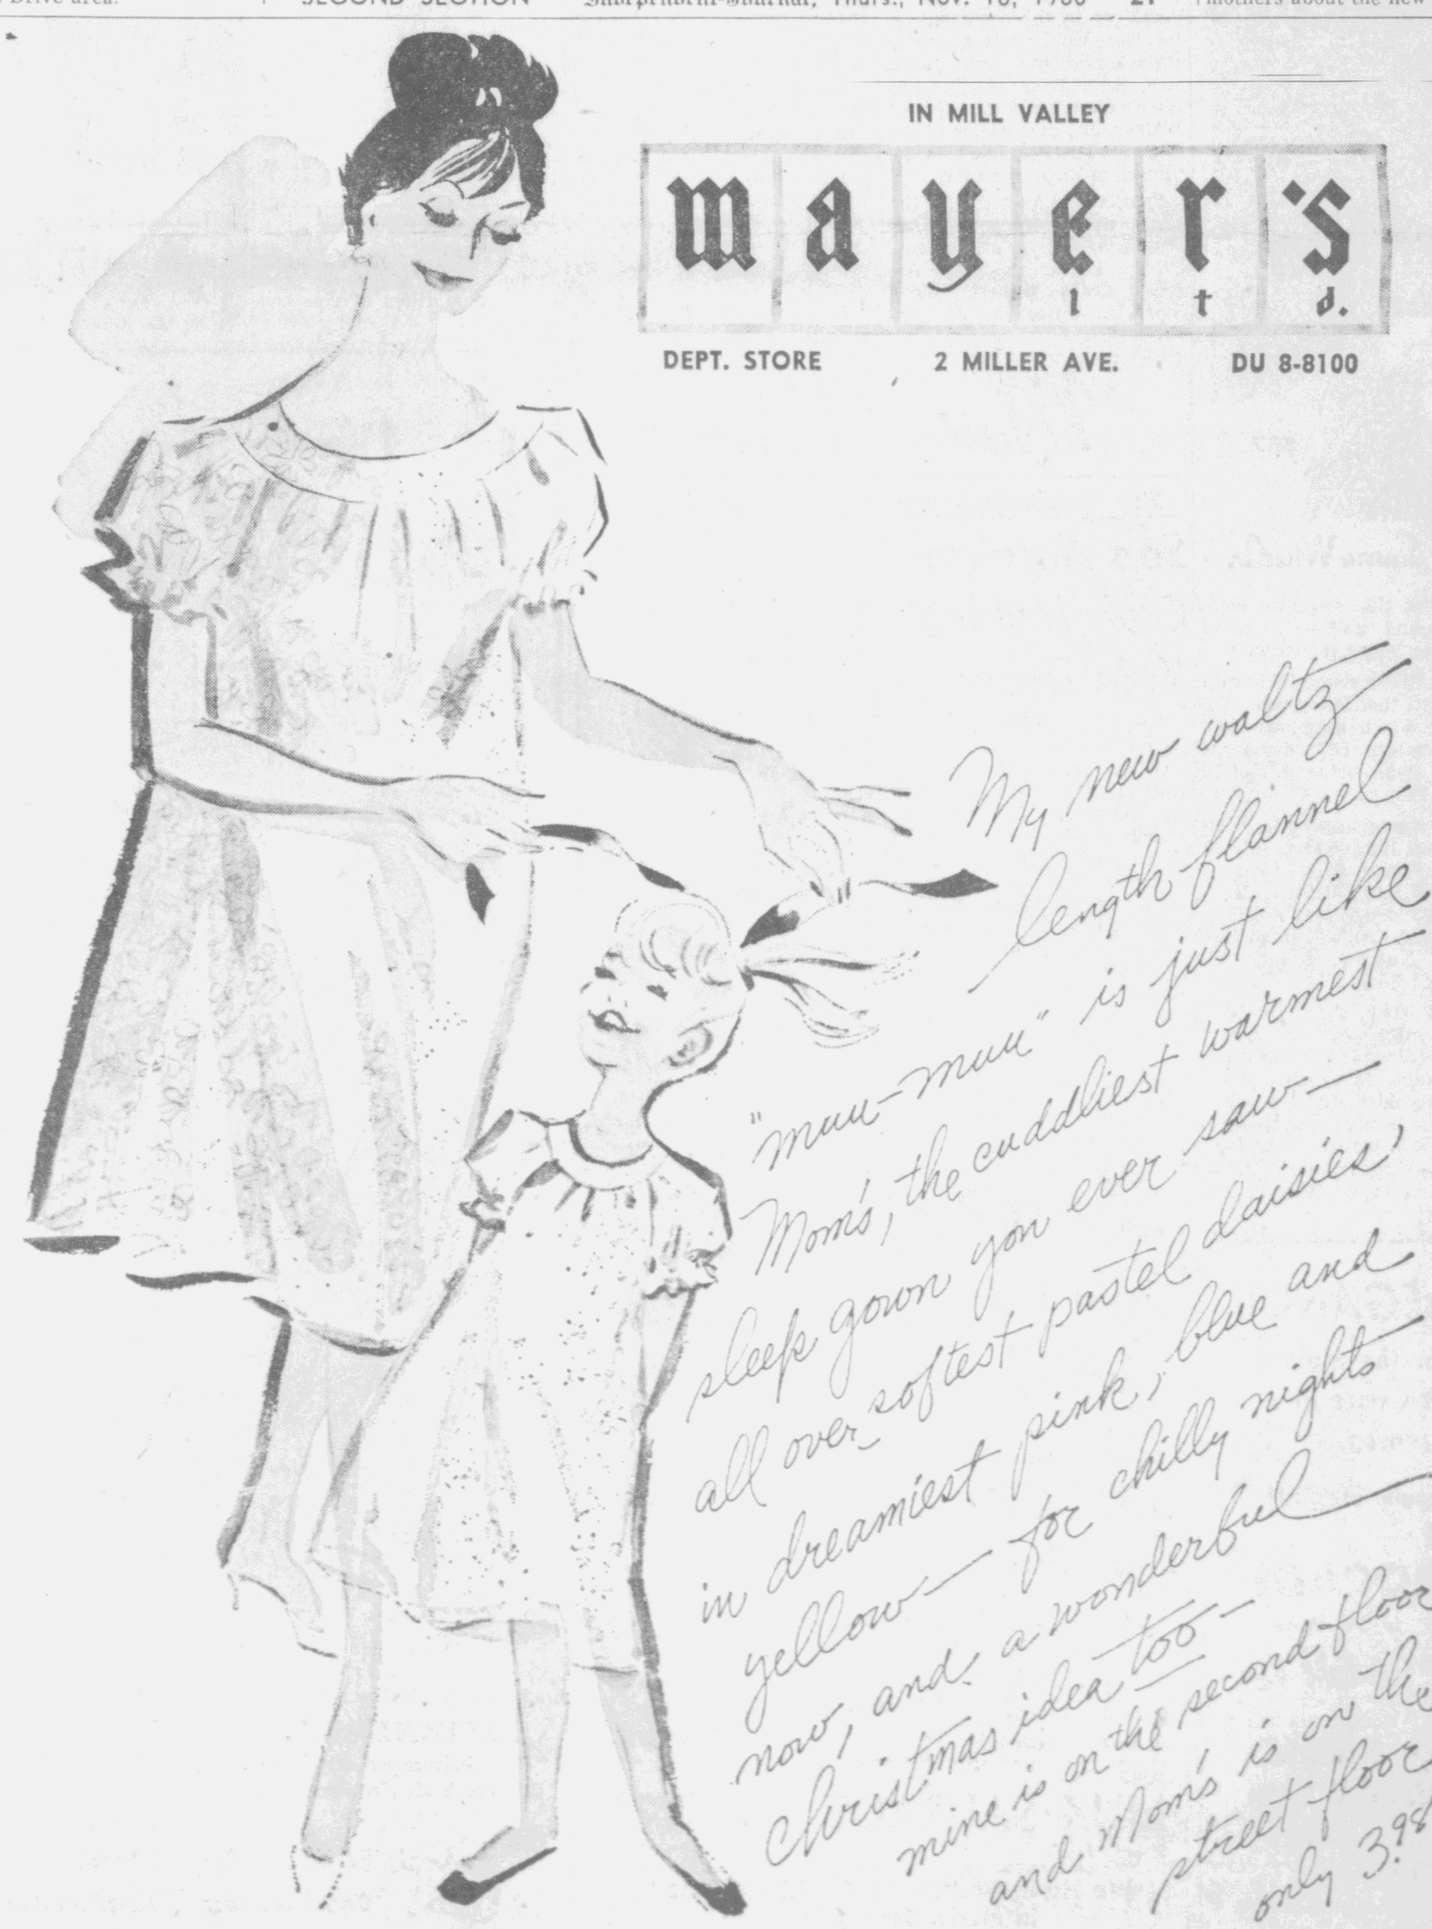
Henry Hall P-TA To Hear Panel

The Henry C. Hall Parent-Teacher Association meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 17 when a panel from Redwood High School will speak. The panel will explain what's expected of a freshman in high school and its general program. The changing trends in high school, and pressures from the universities will be outlined.

Monitor will be Robert Prather, district coordinator of child welfare and attendance. On its panel will be Jack Baat, dean of boys; Maurene Ballad, chairman of English Department; Robert Mahr, coordinator of work experience education program. Refreshments will be served following the meeting by the 6th grade room mothers, Mrs. James Linkamper and Mrs. Eugene M. Conway.



Lutheran Church Women Adopt A New Constitution

The women of Marin Lutheran Church of Corte Madera this week adopted the constitution of the newly-formed "American Lutheran Church Women" as a part of the merger process between the Evangelical Lutheran Church, the American Lutheran Church and the United Evangelical Lutheran Church.

This organization will replace the Women's Missionary Federation of which Marin Lutheran's "Mission Guild" was a part, and consists of 5,000 women's societies throughout the United States and Canada.

The name chosen for the local society is "Marin Lutheran Church Women." Mrs. Norman Andre of Mill Valley has been chosen as president; Mrs. Stephen Renertsen of Mill Valley, vice president; Mrs. Art Andre of Tiburon, secretary; Mrs. David Richards of Corte Madera, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Stager of Corte Madera, secretary of stewardship; Mrs. Roy Davis of Corte Madera, secretary of education.

The organization will consist of monthly circle meetings in the homes, with bible study and a presentation of a department of the church at each meeting. General meetings will be held bimonthly with all circles in atendance. Service projects under the department of Stewardship will be carried out from time to time. Membership includes all women of the church.

The purpose of the organization is stated in the constitution to be (1) Inspiring in the individual member a deeper consecration to our Savior, (2) developing stewardship of time, talents, and treasures. (3) disseminating knowledge of the program of the church of Jesus Christ and particularly of The American Lutheran Church. (4) Spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ throughout the world.

The Marin Lutheran Church Women are a part of the Golden Gate Conference of the South Pacific District. At the constituting Convention of the South Pacific District of the American Lutheran Church Women two of our Marin women were elected to office. Mrs. C. O. LeRud of San Anselmo was chosen for the presidency, and Miss Amanda Tufte, Marin Lutheran's parish worker, elected to the position of secretary.

Costume Contest Winners Listed

The party was sponsored by the Sparks, women's auxiliary, with a special assist from the center's teenagers who popped corn, polished apples, made the represhments and decorated the hall.

Among the teenagers who helped were Cubby and Connie Atterbury, Nancy and Mollie Love, Roxanne Neal, Sue Bryant, Tina Bertrand, John Osborn, Bill Anderson, Sam Mercer, Dennis and Chris Coombes and Don Shibley.

Judges in the costume contest were Cubby Atterbury who represented the teen group, Rev. E. J. Mohr of St. Stephen's church and Rev. George Walker, Jr., new pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Richardson Bay.

Sparks who helped with the party were Mesdames Fred Crawford, George Gurley, George Larson, Nicholas Andros, Craig Gilbert, Lloyd Stark, A. J. Casella, Jr. and Hugh Cox.

SANDOR SALGO, conductor of the Symphony Guild Orchestra, will be the guest speaker for the first preview of the Guild scheduled Monday, Nov. 21 at 11 a. m. at the Meadow Club.

Sandor Salgo Guest Speaker For Symphony Guild Preview

Sandor Salgo, conductor of the Symphony Guild Orchestra, will be the guest speaker for the first preview to be held Monday, Nov. 21 at 11 a.m. at the Meadow Club.

Salgo has been a particularly popular favorite at these informative activities of the Symphony Guild. He punctuates his presentation with humorous incidents in the lives of the composers he is discussing and demonstrates at the piano or by special recording the various themes of the music to be played at the forthcoming concert.

The first concert of the season will be Friday, Nov. 25, at Marin Catholic High School auditorium at 8:30 p.m. On the program will be Bizet's "Symphony No. 1 in C Major," "Death and Transfiguration" by Richard Strauss, and "Overture to the Magic Flute" by Mozart.

Luncheon will follow the preview at the Meadow Club. Members of the Symphony Guild and friends are urged to make their reservations early with the Meadow Club.

Entertaining guests will be Mrs. John Lesoine, Mrs. William Pemberton and Mrs. Jack McCarthy. Hostessing a no-host table will be Mrs. Barlow Ferguson.

Assisting with arrangements for the preview will be Mesdames Fred Drexler Jr., Richard Hughes, and Ralph Dewey, members of the Board of Directors of the Symphony Guild.

Those planning to attend this first preview are asked to note that it is being held on Monday, a day normally closed at the Meadow Club, Nov. 21 at 11 a.m.

Marinate green asparagus from a can or jar, using a tangy French dressing. Serve the spears atop slices of ripe red tomato.

Reed School Language Meet Tonight

Reed School District parents and teachers who are interested in language instruction in the district are asked to attend a meeting tonight from 8 to 9:30 p.m. in the Reed School library.

George H. Gregg, new staff member who is director of the instructional materials center will discuss the topic "Introduction to the Study of Foreign Languages in the Schools." Gregg will discuss the decisions that must be made if a language program is to be set up.

If enough are interested a study group to consider the problems may be set up in January according to Mrs. Ralph Dewey, program chairman for the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club.

St. Rita's Guild Will Meet Monday

The next regular monthly meeting of St. Rita's Women's Guild of Fairfax will take place on Monday evening, Nov. 14, at 8 p.m. in the parish hall.

Guest speaker for the Monday meeting will be Mrs. Victor Guilder who is decoration director of Marin Art and Garden Center. Mrs. Guilder's topic will be "Do It Yourself Holiday Decorations." All women of the parish are invited to attend.

Pink Ladies To Hold Christmas Gift Sale

Christmas is coming and the annual Christmas Gift cake sale sponsored by the Gift Cart chairman, Mrs. Arne Kionig of Kentfield and her committee of Volunteer Pink Ladies will be held Dec. 5, 6, and 7 in the Annex of Marin General Hospital.

On the committee are: Mrs. J. P. Redington of Greenbrae; Mesdames Jack Field, George Miller and Hans Fischel of San Anselmo and Mesdames George Steinert and Aaron Jacobson of San Rafael.

Donations of new stuffed animals, toys, aprons, tablecloths, mats, baby things, remnants of yardage and next-to-new clothing, jewelry and bric-a-brac are being solicited. They can be left at the volunteer office or with the Pink Lady at the information desk in the lobby of Marin General. Each donation to the Christmas sale should have the name of the donor attached. Donations have already been received from Mesdames Garold Clark, Lee Marriott, Marshall Keyes and Rufus Rhoades of San Rafael; Mesdames Lee Rockwood, Leslie Clason and Miss Julie Cox of Greenbrae; Mrs. Peter Rhodes of Mill Valley; Mrs. Thomas Davis of Kentfield; Mrs. Don L. Balensiefer of Terra Linda and Mrs. William Noon of San Anselmo.

Other donations which are needed include Christmas decorations, Santa Claus dolls, glamour mitts, tinker toys and other small new decorations suitable for tree or home decor.

Many Christmas items from the cart as well as specially designed gifts will be available. Among those working to present a selection of hand made gifts are Mrs. Redington, Mrs. Steinert, Mrs. Patrick McAlonan of San Rafael; Mesdames William L. Cuneo and Ira Johnson of San Anselmo; Mesdames Charles McCormick and James W. Libby of Mill Valley; Mrs. William Cain of Greenbrae; Mrs. Paul Chaffee of Corte Madera; Mrs. Beatrice Samuels of Kentfield and Mrs. Harry Hensler of Ross.

Also making gifts are the Mesdames Gerald Madson, Robert DeHoan, Edward Mitchell, John Siebler, Robert Amundson, Joseph Torruella, William Brennon, Irl Sells and George Nedd, all from Bel-Air.

Fellowship Chooses Its Official Name

The Congregational Women's Fellowship is the name chosen for the newly organized women's association of the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere-Tiburon.

Choice of a name was made at a luncheon meeting of the group last Tuesday at the Del Mar Estates home of Mrs. Jay D. Cason, president of the fellowship.

Dr. Marjorie Palmquist was elected secretary to complete the roster of officers. The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Benton S. Gaskell, 20 Bay View, Belvedere on Tuesday, Dec. 13 at 8 p.m.

FINISHING TOUCHES ARE being put on one of the dinner delicacies to be served at the Neapolitan party to be given by the San Rafael Improvement Club on Tuesday, Nov. 15. Mrs. Lewis A. Clapp holds the bowl while Mrs. Thomas M. Shine 'pours.'

MRS. LEITON ELDER, general chairman of the Neapolitan party, holds a dripped candle which will be a table decoration. It is admired by Mrs. Harold Geister, a committee member. Mrs. Andrew Ferrier is taking reservations for the party which starts at 7 p. m. (Independent-Journal photos)

SAN RAFAEL CLUB MAKES PARTY PLANS

Decorations, menu and program are all carrying out the theme for the Neapolitan party to be given by San Rafael Improvement Club on Tuesday night, Nov. 15 at the clubhouse. Talented and beautiful Jane Nickols, will present operatic selections and an Italian guitarist also will entertain the diners.

Colorful decorations are being arranged by Mrs. Edwin Spurling, Mrs. Sydney Frank and Mrs. James Goodale. The Italian dinner will be served on checked tablecloths. General chairman of the party which will begin at 7 o'clock is Mrs. Leiton Elder, the club's financial chairman. Assisting her are Mesdames Carroll Thomas, Harold Geister and Lewis Clapp. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Andrew Ferrier.

Gamma Phi Betas Will Observe Founders' Day With Luncheon

Honoring the four founders of Gamma Phi Beta, members of the Marin alumnae chapter will meet for luncheon at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 15, at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito. Mrs. Nelson King, president of the group has appointed Mrs. William Findeisen to serve as chairman of this 86th Founders' Day celebration.

It was on Nov. 11, 1874, at the University of Syracuse, New York that four young women, Helen M. Dodge, Frances E. Haven, E. Adeline Curtis, and Mary A. Bingham organized a literary and social society to be known as Gamma Phi Beta Sorority. Now there are 69 college chapters, and one colony, and 177 chartered alumnae chapters. These represent more than 35,000 women who are members.

Gamma Phi Beta maintains two of its own summer camps for underprivileged children which are located at Indian Hills, Colorado and Sechelt, B.C. These camps are operated by the national philanthropy board of Gamma Phi Beta and are staffed by volunteers from the college chapters of the sorority.

Gamma Phi Beta also sponsors the Lindsay Barbee Fellowship, which awards $1,000 biennially for advanced study in social service. This award is made through AAUW. The fellowship was established in 1915.

In addition to these national projects, the Marin alumnae gives a campership to a Marin child each year for Dr. Mary B. Olney's Diabetic Camp in Bearskin Meadows, Sequoia National Park. Recently the group has also contributed toward tuition scholarships for teachers taking courses in the gifted child field. This is a project of alumnae and student chapters in Northern California and Nevada. Also a recent project of the local group has been the Coffee and Iced Tea Booth at the Sunny Hills Grape Festival. Proceeds go to the Sunny Hills Home for Children.

Gamma Phi Beta was one of the seven sororities which founded National Panhellenic and attended their first meeting in 1891.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Nov. 10, the 315th day of the year with 51 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1917, 41 women from 15 states of the union were arrested outside the White House for suffragette demonstrations.

In 1918, Kaiser Wilhelm II and about 30 followers asked for asylum in the Netherlands.

A thought for today: German philosopher Georg Hegel said: "Peoples and governments never have learned anything from history, or acted on principles deduced from it."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden) Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Veterans' Day—Time To Remember The Sacrifices Of Our Servicemen

Tomorrow is Veterans' Day. What will it mean to you? A holiday for the children or family outing?

It should mean more than that.

You should tell your boys and girls how we got our freedom and how we've kept it. Tell them of the millions of men who have fought for us, of those who lost their lives.

I knew some of the men who died in the last war, and so did you. A brother, a school buddy, a neighbor. They've been gone so long we hardly miss them. Tragic how forgetful we are, isn't it?

I wonder how the men who died would feel if they could return today? I think they'd be dismayed. There's danger on every hand and our enemies never were stronger.

We know how our living veterans feel. They express themselves strongly. They fought to "make the world safe for democracy," risking their lives "to extend the blessings of freedom to all the world." Those slogans sound ironic now.

Tell your children about the World Wars and about Korea; explain the dangers we now face. Let them see why each boy must go through a period of military training. Teach them to love their country.

There are those who say patriotism is outdated. They're dead wrong. Without patriotism we would die quickly. Our freedoms would vanish overnight. We need patriotism more than ever.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Do war widows now receive adequate pensions? I understand their pensions have been increased during the last 10 years."

Mrs. A. C.

(A) There have been increases in war widows' pensions. However, inflation minimized the benefits. War widows with children must get full-time jobs to provide properly for their offspring. Many of their children show symptoms of neglect. Some of them are delinquent. They are war casualties, too.

Authority Notes Caseload Rise

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The caseload for the state Youth Authority increased during the summer and early autumn months by a total of 80 cases.

The agency reported to Gov. Edmund G. Brown that the number of cases in the department increased by 22 in August and 57 in September despite an increased number of persons discharged from detention by the authority.

The report said 350 cases were discharged in August and 342 in September compared with a normal release rate of 75 to 100.

Youth Authority Budget Planned

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An operational budget of $21,270,000 has been proposed by the California Youth Authority for fiscal 1961-62, according to a monthly report to Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

A spokesman said this would be an increase of 16.6 per cent over the current fiscal year and exceeded the Department of Finance allocation to the department by about $400,000.

The budget would include provision for 317 new employees.

Ability Program

Miss Eunice E. Reader, Tamalpais Union High School district director of guidance, and Frances Parks, Drake High teacher, will describe the special ability guidance program in the district to the California Personnel and Guidance Assn. meeting in Long Beach Feb. 22-24.

RESOLUTION NO. 854

RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF LARKSPUR FIXING TIME AND PLACE AND GIVING NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED ANNEXATION OF BON AIR ROAD ADDITION TO THE CITY OF LARKSPUR.

WHEREAS, a petition for the annexation of the hereinafter described lands of the City of Larkspur has been signed by Niels Schultz, Jr. and Alvin K. Schultz under date of September 19, 1960, and has been filed with and presented to the City Council of the City of Larkspur; and

WHEREAS, the proposal to annex this property to the City of Larkspur has been submitted to the Boundary Commission of Marin County; and

WHEREAS, said Boundary Commission has reported thereon and approved said annexation proceedings; and

WHEREAS, it appears to the City Council and said City Council does now find that territory proposed to be annexed is uninhabited territory within the meaning of Section 35003 of the Government Code of the State of California, and this Council has therefore determined to undertake annexation proceedings under and upon said petition under the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939; and

WHEREAS, it appears to this Council that the owners of more than one fourth of the property within the territory proposed to be annexed, and the owners of more than one fourth of the assessed value thereof, have signed said petition and desire said annexation; and

WHEREAS, this Council does now independently determine to initiate annexation proceedings upon said territory under the provisions of Section 35310 of the Government Code of the State of California; and

WHEREAS, it appears to this Council and it does now find that said property proposed to be annexed is contiguous to the City of Larkspur and that the same ought to be annexed; and

WHEREAS, the property referred to in said resolution is more particularly described as follows:

All that real property situate in the County of Marin, State of California, more particularly described as follows:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED AS FOLLOWS:

1. That each and every recital hereinabove set forth is true.

2. That said property proposed to be annexed ought to be and the same is hereby designated and shall be known as "Bon Air Road Addition" and such name is hereby found to be an appropriate name within the meaning of Section 35306 of the Government Code of the State of California.

3. Said petition for annexation shall be heard concurrently with proceedings now initiated by this City Council under the provisions of Section 35310 of the Government Code.

4. The matter of said annexation shall be heard and considered and the same is hereby set down for hearing before this City Council at the Council Chambers thereof, in the City Hall, in the City of Larkspur, County of Marin, State of California, upon Wednesday, the 7th day of December, 1960, at the hour of eight o'clock P.M.

5. Notice is hereby given that at said time and place the City Council of the City of Larkspur will hear protests against and objections to the said annexation by any person owning real property within the territory proposed to be annexed, or by any person interested therein, and will hear any and all other evidence which may be presented with respect thereto.

6. Notice of such hearing shall be given by the City Clerk of the City of Larkspur by causing this resolution to be published at least twice (once weekly) in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation printed, published and circulated in the City of Larkspur and in the County of Marin, State of California. Said City Clerk is hereby directed to complete such publication at least twenty days prior to the date set for hearing, as required by Section 35311 of the Government Code. Said Clerk is further directed to mail a copy of this resolution to each person to whom land within the territory proposed to be annexed is assessed in the last equalized County Assessment Roll, at the address shown on said Assessment Roll, and to any person who has filed his name and address and the designation of the lands in which he has any interest, either legal or equitable, with said Clerk. Said Clerk is directed to give further notice by delivering a copy of this resolution to each incorporated municipality within three miles thereof.

The undersigned City Clerk of the City of Larkspur does hereby CERTIFY that the foregoing resolution was duly and regularly introduced and adopted at a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Larkspur held upon the 2nd day of November, 1960, by the following vote:

Ayes: Councilmen Brixon, Allen and Mayor Storhaug
Noes: Councilmen Daveler and Lienkaemper
Absent: Councilmen None.

New '60 Buick
Convertible
$,1000 Off

Heres a 1960 Buick Invicta convertible that's as close to a new one as you can find. It's a Stenstrom Buick Co. car that has just over 1,000 miles on it.

The car delivers new for $4380, but we're discounting it $1,000 down, to $3380, this week. Its' Arctic white with a white nylon top. Full red-white leather interior. There's not a scratch or mark anywhere on the car.

Equipment includes Dynaflow, radio, heater, power steering, power brakes, safety group, windshield washers, EZI glass, foamtex cushions, deluxe wheel covers, white wall tires and many other small items.

'53 Buick Sta Wagon $345
This car belonged to one of our mechanics so you know it's in top mechanical shape.

'53 Pontiac Sed. $345
Here's as fine an older car as you can find. Its original owner just turned in to us on a Buick. He's a local man who bought from the local Pontiac dealer and put only 57,000 actual miles on the car. It's clean as a pin inside and out. Hydramatic, radio, heater and all the little features.

'52 Oldsmobile Sed. $345

Children's Author Due At Lagunitas Books Fair

Two popular children's authors, Laura Nelson Baker and Adrien Stoutenburg of Lagunitas plan to attend the opening of the Lagunitas Book Fair this evening at Lagunitas School.

In a room decorated in the manner of a 19th century drawing room, the two authors will chat with guests and will, of course, be glad to autograph their books. They plan to be at the Book Fair at about 8 o'clock.

The book fair will open at 7:30, continuing until 10 o'clock. It will be open tomorrow from 1 to 5 p.m. and 7:30 to 10 p.m., and Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Refreshments will be served and baby sitting service will be available.

Miss Stoutenburg has written more than 20 books for young people, among them, "Goodbye, Cinderella." Soon to be published is "The Blue-Eyed Convertible." She is also noted for her poetry which has been published by such magazines as the New Yorker and the Yale Review.

Miss Stoutenburg and Mrs. Baker have collaborated on three biographies for young people, the most recent one being "Scannon, Dog With Lewis and Clark." Mrs. Baker has published six other books to date. A recent publication for teenagers is "The Special Year," a Christmas favorite is "The Friendly Heart."

Sandol Stoddard Warburg of Belvedere will be a guest at the book fair tomorrow between 1 and 5 p.m. Her first book is entitled "The Thinking Book," and is illustrated by Ivan Schermayoff. He has also done the illustrations for her second book, "Something Special," which will be published next year.

Decoration of the rooms for the Fair is being planned by Mrs. Nairn Cherney, a former resident of Lagunitas.

Co-chairmen of the fair are Mrs. Joseph Johnston of Forest Knolls and Mrs. Frank Sommer of Woodacre.

The large ears of African elephants serve as fans. The animals keep them constantly in motion on hot days to circulate the air.

Hub City Offices In Hall During Face-Lifting

San Anselmo city office workers and police personnel are working in makeshift facilities in the council chambers while the city hall gets a $23,000 facelifting.

The job, being done by contractor Robert J. Smiley of San Anselmo, should be completed in about 30 days.

Workmen are painting and patching floors, bracing ceilings and putting up new partitions in the city offices. The police department will get a new squad room, bath and showers, interrogation room and chief's office.

Police radio receivers and office switchboard have also been moved temporarily into the council chambers.

The city council and other city groups meet meantime in the basement children's room of the city library.

Is Your Child's School Suffering From Malnutrition?

The symptoms of a school with poor financial nourishment are: a shortage of qualified teachers . . . crowded classrooms . . . double sessions . . . few library books . . . poorly equipped science laboratories, or none at all . . . a weak and unbalanced curriculum.

Look at the schools in your town. If they have these symptoms, your children are not receiving a fair start in life. They will have difficulty competing with graduates of superior school systems . . . competing for college admission, competing for jobs. Visit your schools, and check their financial health, during

Some New American Automobiles Have Dented The Foreign Fenders

With all the ado about new models in American cars, what has happened to imports? Are they on their way out?

Not exactly. The market has been badly dented and dealers are undeniably suffering from lacerations in their sales quotas. If the heat keeps up it may even happen that certain showrooms along Francisco Boulevard will display nothing more than the reflections of passing traffic in their windows.

But the success of foreign cars in this country was responsible for American manufacturers taking stock of their own shortcomings and giving us the compact. The continental yardstick for measuring economy and performance is still with us and many users aren't about to swap it for a 20-mpg dipstick made in Detroit—just yet.

The Mobil Mileage rally in New Rochelle last month turned up economy records by the 34 participating European cars far and away ahead of the best claims of their American big brothers. Average run for the field was better than 40 miles per gallon.

The Morris Mini-Minor topped all sedans with 55.44 miles per gallon and the NSU Prinz in the sports class raised it to 62.29.

The degree to which imports still maintain their foothold on American soil may be demonstrated by the interest shown in the 1960 Imported Car Show, the largest in the United States, which opens in Brooks Hall, San Francisco on November 21. The giant underground auditorium will be filled with 36 different makes and over 100 models from eight countries. All popular makes sold in Marin County will be on display.

OTHER AUTO FACTS: Many parts in 1961 cars are "glued" together. Adhesives are used in the decks and hoods, brake lining, carburetor and clutch facing of some new models. . . . Alternators used in new Chrysler-made cars instead of generators cannot be substituted in older models economically—too many other changes in the generator system are necessary. . . . A self-imposed noise abatement policy among truck owners may make living near the highways more pleasant. Drivers are being schooled to avoid excessive revving of engines and clashing of gears. . . More than 17 million U.S. households own two cars; almost 3 million are three-car families.

SALES TRENDS: American-made electric can openers recently enjoying a sales boom may be faced with competition from Japan — possibly by Christmas shopping . . . Newest in Swiss watches is one with the crystal actually a large diamond—only $7,500 . . . Tobacco products are by far the biggest selling item in automatic vending machines, averaging 38 to 40 per cent of all sales. Next come soft drinks . . . "Closed door" discount houses (with $2 memberships) are doing an annual volume of one quarter of a billion dollars.

THREE OUT OF FOUR supermarket shoppers buy in more than one store, but 94 per cent say they prefer one particular spot over others. Reasons for preference given are: Quality and freshness of meats, convenient location, low prices, attractiveness and cleanliness, variety and selection of merchandise and quality and freshness of fruits and vegetables. Slow checkout service is the major complaint.

About two thirds of all shoppers read newspaper ads regularly, check prices on special sales and clip free or discount coupons.

Burglary Not Much, But Hole Expensive

MEMPHIS (AP)—If James Harpole has to put up with any more burglars he hopes they find some other way to get into his grocery store.

The one who cut his way in through the roof during a rainy weekend got away with $200. But the real financial blow was that rain pouring in through the hole did an estimated $5,000 damage.

12 Nominated As Chamber Directors

Twelve San Rafael businessmen have been nominated to vie for election to the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

The chamber's 350 members will elect six directors to the 15-man board for two-year terms on Nov. 28. Nominations may be submitted from the membership at large until the middle of next week. The names submitted to the board yesterday by the nominating committee included six incumbents.

Also nominated were George Lawrence, Lachman Brothers; Frank Fogarty, J. C. Penney Co.; Irving Chapman, Chapman's Shoes; Charles Catania, Catania Sound; Robert Williams, Borden Milk Co., and Fred Acciari, Marin Products Inc.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS DIRECTOR—Former KPIX news director Jere Witter, 123 Circle Avenue, Mill Valley, will supervise production of special events, educational and public service programs for the San Francisco television station. He has been in the KPIX news department since 1957 and was formerly a newspaperman.

$100 Reward Offered In Poisonings

A $100 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of any person poisoning animals in Marin County has been offered by directors of the Marin County Humane Society.

The action was taken yesterday after the directors heard a report by executive secretary-manager Mel L. Morse that many poisonings have occurred during recent weeks at various places in the county.

At the same time it was pointed out that pets allowed to run at large and sometimes disturb neighbors are in special jeopardy.

Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. was elected a vice president to replace a longtime director, Charles Lund, who was made honorary vice president and given an expression of appreciation from his fellow-directors.

Minthorne M. Tompkins, nephew of Ethel H. Tompkins, who founded the society, was elected treasurer to replace Mrs. H. E. LeBas, who will continue to serve on the board's executive committee.

ON NATIONAL BOARD — Robert W. Corlett of San Anselmo has been re-elected to the national board of directors of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., at the annual meeting of the National Council in New York City. He is also chairman of Camp Fire Girls Region X including Northern California, Nevada and Utah.

Judge Fines Wife For Traffic Lag

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)— Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton Jr. fined his wife $20 for two overtime parking tickets and said:

"I hate to do this because it probably will come out of my own pocket."

Mrs. Glanton, an attorney, said she had not been in her office for eight weeks and had not received the notices.

Civilian 'Brainstorms' Save Air Force Money

"Brainstorms" of civilian employees at Hamilton Air Force Base last year saved the Air Force $53,146.

There were so many money and time-saving ideas submitted that Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, took note and sent the base an inscribed scroll honoring ideamen this week.

The base's civilian employes last fiscal year submitted 546 suggestions on faster and easier methods of doing day-to-day work, and on new equipment and tools. The Air Force adopted 135 of them — and turned over cash awards to those submitting them.

The commendation from General White to Frank McGill of Novato, in charge of civilian employes on the base, noted that Hamilton civilian workers were the best idea-makers in the Air Force. They submitted 100 per cent more per worker than the average air force civilian.

There were ideas such as the one from Alfred V. Mankedick of San Rafael, a civilian worker with the 78th Operations Squadron. He won $300 for inventing a verbal shorthand for pilots checking with the tower on flight plans before takeoff. The idea is being looked over by Air Force headquarters for possible use throughout the service, and the Long Beach municipal airport is trying it out.

One of four of the ideas submitted is good enough to be adopted, the commendation noted. The 135 adopted by Hamilton last year earned ideamen $3,280 in awards.

Fred D. Stevens, Santa Rosa, a civil engineer with the 78th Installation Squadron, picked up $70 for redesigning a shear pin for the base water pumping plant, which is a large factor in preventing breakdowns.

Keith O. Foutz of Petaluma, of the 349th Troop Carrier Reserve Wing, won $45 for his invention of a tool for working on brake assemblies of C-119 cargo planes. The tool means a saving of about $1,300 yearly, as one man can do the job which once took two men.

Sanitary Inspector Appointed By Board

The Tiburon Sanitary District board of directors has temporarily employed David Teather as sanitary inspector, pending a final appointment by the board. He replaces Jack Ishmael, who died recently.

Secretary Robert A. Sterling reported that the 350-acre Tiburon upland area recently annexed into the district is forming an assessment district.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Despite a dwindling popular margin from a record voter turnout, Sen. John F. Kennedy held 300 electoral votes today as he prepared to take over the presidency 71 days hence.

With counting continuing in California and Alaska, Kennedy had captured 22 states with 300 electoral votes —31 more than the needed 269. Vice President Richard M. Nixon took control in 25 states with 188 votes. Eight electors in Mississippi and six in Alabama were not committed.

But in the popular vote, Kennedy held a margin of less than 325,000 votes in a tally of more than 66 million for the major party candidates. With returns yet to come and tallies for minor parties, it appeared that Kennedy's presidential victory might come on less than a majority of the popular vote cast. His 50.2 per cent of the popular vote made it the tightest election since the first Benjamin Harrison-Grover Cleveland race in 1888. Republican Harrison won an electoral victory then while running more than 100,000 behind in popular vote.

Plans already were under way for Kennedy representatives to work with administration officials in arranging for the changeover next Jan. 20.

Foreseeing a "difficult and challenging" period during the next four years, Kennedy said yesterday that "there is general agreement by all our citizens that a supreme national effort is needed to move this country through the 1960s."

Working with him will be a Democratic-controlled Congress in which, however, Republicans will show some gains over the present lineup. For the last six years, Congress and the White House have been controlled by different parties.

Tuesday's election provided a Senate makeup of 64 Democrats and 36 Republicans to replace the 66-34 division of the present Senate. With tabulations in five House races incomplete, the Democrats had elected 257 members and the Republicans 175. The old lineup, including vacancies, was 283-154. The Republicans had gained 22 seats.

But the Democrats registered a net gain of one among state governors, raising their statehouse total to 34—their highest since 1938. Of the 27 state posts at stake, Democrats won 15 and the Republicans 12, with political changes taking place in 13 states. Six incumbents were defeated.

Kennedy has said he will wait at least two weeks before designating any of the top officials who will make up his administration.

But he will need to designate soon the man he expects to step into the shoes of Christian A. Herter as secretary of state. Among those mentioned for this role are Adlai E. Stevenson, Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut, Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and the former New York governor, W. Averell Harriman.

ELECTIONS AT GLANCE

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The popular vote for president at 10:30 p.m, PST:

Nixon 33,098,293; 49.74 per cent.

Kennedy 33,444,507; 50.26 per cent.

Kennedy had won 22 states with 334 electoral votes (including 18 uncommitted electors in Alabama and Georgia.)

Kennedy was leading in two more states with seven electoral votes.

The vote was from 163,218 of 166,140 precincts.

Senate: Democrats lost two seats to Republicans, in Delaware and Wyoming, but will retain control by a wide margin, 64 seats to 36 for the Republicans.

House—Democrats won 257 seats and were leading for two others in still-undecided contests, for indicated total of 259. Republicans won 175 seats, leading for three others, indicated total 178.

Governors: Democrats won 15 contests, Republicans 12. Democrats will now control 34 statehouses, Republicans 16.

Makes Initial Four Staff Appointments

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today began the construction of a new administration by announcing that he will retain Alien W. Dulles as head of the Central Intelligence Agency and J. Edgar Hoover as director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

In his first press conference since the national election, the Democratic victor also announced plans for cooperating with President Eisenhower in the transition of one administration to another.

Kennedy expects to meet personally with Eisenhower, probably in Washington, late this month.

He also disclosed plans to fly to Texas next week to visit briefly with Vice-President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson.

Tackling a vast amount of organization work at his Cape Cod home here today, the president-elect also sent a message to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev saying "the achievement of a just and lasting peace will remain a fundamental goal of this nation."

FIRST APPOINTMENTS

The incoming president also made his first formal White House staff appointments. They include:

Theodore C. Sorensen, Lincoln, Neb., as special counsel to the president.

Kenneth O'Donnell, Worcester, Mass., special assistant.

Pierre Salinger, Falls Church, Va., press secretary.

Andrew Hatcher, a Negro, and California State Labor Department official on leave, as associate press secretary.

In response to Eisenhower's offer to help speed the transition of government, Kennedy telegraphed the president his appreciation. He said he looked forward to meeting with Eisenhower in the near future.

NAMES REPRESENTATIVE

Kennedy designated Clark M. Clifford, former special counsel at the White House during the Truman administration, as his representative to meet with Gen. Wilton B. Persons, the assistant to President Eisenhower, for coordinating handover of authority.

Clifford also will arrange for meetings between specialists on the Kennedy staff with representatives of cabinet departments designated by the White House.

Before holding his crowded news conference in the National Guard Armory in neighboring Hyannis, Kennedy had extended telephone conversations with Adlai E. Stevenson, as well as Johnson.

He declined to say whether he was preparing to offer Stevenson a post in the government.

TO DEFER DISCUSSION

He told reporters he wanted to defer public discussion of administration appointments until later in the fall.

Kennedy will leave tomorrow for a vacation in Palm Beach, Fla., interrupting his holiday next Thursday for a one-day visit on the Johnson ranch in Texas, then returning to Palm Beach.

The president-elect said he hoped to remain in Florida for a few more days, and then return to Washington two weeks from today.

Kennedy's press conference was swift, the questions were rapid, and the answers for the most part concise and to the point.

Brown Asks Loan In Water Project

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown today proposed that the State of California loan one million dollars from its 1.75-billion-dollar water bond to the federal government to start pre-construction planning on the San Luis dam and reservoir.

He also made public plans for a water conference between local, state and federal agencies to start water activities.

California voters Tuesday approved the huge bond issue to construct a gigantic spiderweb of canals to take water from northern and central California to the thirsty southern part of the state. (See story on page 6.)

At his first news conference since the election, and his last one before a trip to South America which starts this weekend, Brown suggested the one-million-dollar loan to the federal government to expedite construction of the multi-million-dollar San Luis project, a keystone in California's water plan.

The water project probably qualified as the greatest water development conceived by modern man and its only rival was the ancient taming of the Nile River.

Bridge Board Votes Road Widening Plan

Final plans for a $1,200,000 widening project on the Marin end of the Golden Gate Bridge were approved today by the bridge directors.

The project would widen the west entrance to the bridge by 20 feet, ease the first curve on the span and make possible easy transition to four lanes of traffic in one direction across the bridge.

CALL FOR BIDS

The directors authorized a call for bids on the project as soon as military officials approved the final plans. The work will be carried on in conjunction with a $175,000 highway widening project to be undertaken by the Division of Highways at the beginning of the bridge.

Sverdrup and Parcel, engineering firm which drew up the plans, said the bridge alteration would take about eight months.

The directors approved the plan by a 9-0 vote, with Director Phillips Davies abstaining. Davies said that he did not want to approve the work until the bridge district had decided on an "over-all plan" which would include improvements in the toll plaza area.

ACTION URGED

Marin Director Leland Murphy urged action now because of the highway widening, and pointed out the easing of the curve would add to the bridge's safety whether the over-all plan was carried out or not.

Director Daniel Del Carlo, chairman of the bridge building and operating committee, reported that the over-all plan and the toll plaza improvements had been before his committee at a meeting yesterday. At least two alternate plans for the toll plaza are under consideration, he said. One involves increasing the number of toll lanes at the place they

Hub City Council Hires Firm For Precise Plan

San Anselmo last night hired Wilsey, Ham and Blair of Millbrae to give the city a precise plan for downtown development at a cost of $12,800.

The decision to go ahead came in a split 3-to-2 decision of the San Anselmo City Council. John M. Reichmuth and Arthur W. Smith voted "no," while Mayor William Franchini and Councilmen Carleton G. E. Little and Robert E. Rouse voted in favor.

The precise plan will include a review of the existing master plan for the downtown area. This calls for a new street on the east side of the creek from Tunstead Avenue to Center Street (where the bus depot is now located), a new street parallel to and east of Cedar Street, pedestrian mall on the main portion of San Anselmo Avenue, creek development, and off-street parking areas.

In about six months, the engineering and planning firm will complete planning, engineering and architectural analyses, and turn in a report on feasibility and estimated cost of the various projects.

Smith said he is for downtown revamping, but not in favor of spending $12,800 now for a precise plan for the entire downtown area. For example, the pedestrian mall may not be ready for 10 or 11 years, said Smith. He said he would prefer to go ahead now on two new streets, one through the bus depot property and the other east of Cedar Street.

Reichmuth said he thinks the study would be re-doing

PUBLIC OFFICES TO CLOSE

Big Veterans' Day Observance Slated

Public offices, schools and post offices will close tomorrow in observance of Veterans' Day.

Marin's biggest Veterans' Day observance in recent years is planned at Hamilton Air Force Base, with youth groups and veterans' organizations throughout the county participating along with the military. Open house will be held at the big North Marin base from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., with a parade beginning at 10:15 a. m. in which some 200 youth groups and 20 veterans' groups are expected to participate.

A patriotic program will follow the traditional minute of silence at 11 a.m., during which jet trainers will fly over the base. Other fly-overs and plane flight demonstrations are scheduled at 1:15, 2 and 3 p.m. Aircraft and equipment will be displayed on the ground.

While schools and public offices are closed, the day will be ideal for family shopping. Banks will be open until 6 p.m. Most stores will be open for business as usual, and the customary late Friday store hours will be in effect. And to top it all, the shopper in San Rafael needn't worry about parking meters: it will be a meter holiday.

The Independent-Journal will publish as usual.

There will be no mail delivery.

U.S. Blocks Move Against Congo Debate

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States succeeded today in blocking a Soviet-Arab move to adjourn a U. N. Credentials Committee debate on the seating of a Congo delegation headed by President Joseph Kasavubu.

The vote came after the U. S. S. R. accused the United States of trying to railroad a decision with the aim of disrupting U. N. efforts to bring political peace in the turbulant African country.

The committee rejected a Moroccan adjournment motion by a vote of five against, three in favor and one abstaining. Only the Soviet Union, Morocco and the United Arab Republic supported the proposal. New Zealand, as chairman, abstained.

The commitee then began debate on a U. S. proposal that it act now on the seating of a Congo delegation, headed by Kasavubu. This proposal was vigorously opposed by the Soviet Union, which is backing a rival delegation named by disposed Premier Patrice Lumumba. The committee quickly approved the U. S. proposal 5-3 with one abstention.

County Engulfed By Morning Fog

Dense fog engulfed much of Marin this morning, but lifted before noon.

Meantime the Weather Bureau forecast a storm in the Pacific Northwest, now moving south, might reach Santa Rosa tomorrow and would likely bring snow to the high mountains south as far as Lake Tahoe.

Assessor Bids For Approval Of Employees

Marin County Assessor Bert W. Broemmel, stung because the board of supervisors balked at two meetings over six of his recommended promotions, read a 15-page letter of both defense and offense before four members of the board today.

He was promised action later in the day when Supervisor William Gnoss would be present after attendance at a San Francisco meeting.

'STRONG RUMORS'

Broemmel even brought up what he termed "strong rumors" that the new board next January "will make it impossible to carry on with an assessment equalization program by curtailing the assessor's appraisal staff so that only new construction can be appraised.

"This could mean that two out of three appraisers could lose their jobs."

Broemmel said that since last August, whenever personnel matters concerning his office have come up for consideration "they have been subject to unfavorable criticism."

'SPIRIT OF SYSTEM'

"Yet in every instance," he continued, "the requests have been, in my opinion, consistent with the letter and spirit of the merit system, the personnel commission's regulations, the salary ordinance, and sound business practice."

He said all his appointments had been cleared through the commission.

Broemmel said assessor's employees were "greeted with an insult, barraged with condemnations of the courthouse bandits . . . and high taxes are the fault of the appraiser."

He also spoke of "resistance on the part of a highly vocaliz-

WELFARE PLANS FACE TOUGH CONGRESS FIGHT

Kennedy Package Includes Wage, Medical Care, Aid To Education

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect John F. Kennedy's promised package of economic-welfare measures will face a number of tough hurdles in the first session of the 87th Congress.

But the new chief executive also will have several things in his favor as he tries to put through four proposals which he repeatedly told his campaign crowds would be high on the agenda of Kennedy administration.

The four are minimum wage liberalization, a medical care program tied to the social security system, federal aid to education, and depressed areas legislation.

On the debit side for Kennedy in his drive to win passage of the measures will be:

1. The closeness of his popular vote victory, which foes of the measures can interpret as meaning he has no mandate for his program.

2. The falling off of Democratic majorities in both Senate and House.

3. The stiff opposition of many groups and particular economic interests to the four measures; this has contributed heavily to their defeat so far.

4. The likelihood of a continued conservative Democratic-Republican majority on the House Rules Committee. This body has wide roadblock powers, but efforts may be made to trim these when the new Congress meets.

On the credit side:

1. The important powers of a new president, which Kennedy has had a chance to study from the congressional viewpoint for 14 years. These include the appointive power and the job of drawing up the federal budget with all its far-reaching ramifications.

2. The affirmative White House leadership which Kennedy will give in behalf of the measures, in contrast to President Eisenhower's opposition to them.

3. The switch in the chairmanship of the House Labor and Education Committee from conservative Rep. Graham Barden (D-N.C.), to liberal Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (R-N.Y.). This committee handles the wage and school bills. Barden is retiring from Congress.

Depressed areas legislation would seem to have the best chance of quick action in the 1961 session. Democrats got such a measure through in 1958 and 1960 but Eisenhower each time killed it with a veto.

The legislation is designed to help areas of high and chronic unemployment attract new industries with federal loans, grants and technical aid.

The question of writing a medical care program into Social Security stirred one of the biggest fights of the 1960 session.

In the end Congress rejected this and instead increased greatly the federal share of medical costs under the public assistance program for indigent persons.

But the Senate vote against the social security proposal was close and several Democrats said they favored the alternative because Eisenhower had indicated he would veto the social security plan. They said they expected medical benefits to be added to social security when the time was ripe.

The new Senate will be 64-36 Democratic instead of 66-34 as in the past Congress. In the House, the Democrats apparently lost a net of 22 seats.

Five Counties Still Are Weathervanes

NEW YORK (AP) — Up until Tuesday there were eight counties, scattered across the country, known as "weathervanes" in presidential elections.

All eight had unbroken records for at least a half century of voting for the winner in presidential elections.

Today only five had survived. Three counties—Albany in Wyoming, Vanderburgh in Indiana, and Jasper in Iowa—broke the tradition and cast a majority of their votes for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The veteran of weathervanes, Crook County, Ore., kept its slate clean and voted for the winner as it has for the past 78 years, although the state went to Nixon.

Two New Hampshire counties that have voted for the winner since the turn of the century—Coos and Stafford—also chalked up majorities for the victor again.

Iowa's other weathervane, Palo Alto County, went for Sen. John F. Kennedy and, with Jasper County falling by the wayside, became the only one of Iowa's 99 counties that has never voted wrong in this century.

Wyoming remained with one weathervane intact. Although its Albany County gave Nixon a slight edge in nearly complete returns, Laramie County picked a winner again.

Chicago Fire Kills 5

CHICAGO (AP)—Five persons including a mother, two of her children and a playmate of the children, perished early today when fire swept their three-story brick tenement building.

Another resident of the building was slightly injured, as were three firemen.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Russ Charge Buzzing

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass said yesterday a U.S. military planeETA day a U.S. military plane buzzed the Soviet research ship Vityaz in the Arabian Sea on Monday. Tass also charged that on the previous night a military aircraft had buzzed the Vityaz five times.

Captain Acquitted

SAN DIEGO (AP)—The captain of one of the two Navy destroyers that collided has been acquitted of two remaining specifications resulting from the collision, which took 11 lives.

Cmdr. Walter T. Ford, skipper of the Collett, was acquitted by a court-martial yesterday of specifications concerning adequate watches in the combat information center and bridge and bow of the Collett. He had pleaded guilty as the trial opened to a general charge of negligently hazarding his ship.

Strike Continues

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — Strikers defying government threats of dismissal have decided to continue the nationwide walkout which has crippled rail and sea travel in Brazil this week.

Strike leaders last night demanded the release of union officials jailed in connection with the walkout, saying this was an essential preliminary to the achievement of "new understandings with the authorities."

Atom Plant Permit

BERKELEY (UPI)—Pacific Gas and Electric Co. was awarded a permit by the Atomic Energy Commission yesterday for the construction of a nuclear reactor at its Humboldt Bay power plant near Eureka.

The reactor—which will add a gross electrical output of 50,000 to 60,000 electrical kilowatt to PG&E's Humboldt Bay plant—is designed to answer the company's need for additional generating capacity in the isolated Eureka area.

Pope Wires Kennedy

The pontiff's message made no mention of the fact that Kennedy is the first Roman Catholic ever elected to the U.S. presidency. This was in line with the Vatican's policy throughout the campaign of publicly ignoring the issue of Kennedy's religion.

Finch Trial Probe

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The district attorney will investigate reports by three jurors that the Finch murder trial jury No. 2 reached a partial verdict once but was directed by the judge to continue deliberating.

Three jurors said the panel agreed after a week and a half to convict Dr. R. Bernard Finch of second-degree murder and to declare itself deadlocked on the murder charge against Carole Tregoff. They said Judge Le Roy Dawson sent word, on being told of their agreement, that they should continue to try to agree on a verdict against Miss Tregoff. The defendants are accused in the gunshot death of Finch's wife last year.

Gable 'Satisfactory'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Clark Gable was reported in satisfactory condition last night in Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital where he is recuperating from a heart attack. Gable, 59, is not allowed visitors.

Nixon Takes Whittier

WHITTIER (AP) — Although Vice President Richard M. Nixon lost the presidential election, he was a better than two-to-one choice in his home town. Final returns from this Los Angeles suburb showed 14,417 votes for the Republican nominee to 6,713 for the Democratic winner, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Hawaiian Balloting Up In Air

HONOLULU (UPI)—Citizens of the 50th state will have to wait several days before they learn the official outcome of Tuesday's general election.

Three electoral votes are at stake in Hawaii's first presidential election — and they could go either way.

The election outcome took a turn yesterday, when auditors found a small but glaring error in the tallying. When the final tally sheet was recorded by the lieutenant governor's office early yesterday, president-elect John F. Kennedy was declared the winner by a scant 102 votes.

However, the figure was reduced to 92 votes later—and then it was discovered that one precinct on Oahu failed to give Vice President Richard M. Nixon 200 votes credited to him. The 200 votes gave Nixon a 108 margin and victory in the Hawaii race.

The official announcement as to who will get Hawaii's three electoral votes will be decided when the outside island tally sheets are received and tabulated. A spokesman said this would take several day.

Both Parties Attempt To Tell 'Why' Of Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Democratic strategists said today that televised campaign debates played the vital role in their presidential victory, but some Republican leaders blamed defeat on loss of the Negro vote.

In post-mortems on the closest presidential race in history, leaders in both parties also differed on the effect of president-elect John F. Kennedy's Catholic faith on Tuesday's balloting.

Kennedy's 34-year-old brother Robert, who managed the senator's successful campaign for the White House, was one of the Democrats who called the debates essential to victory. Without them, he said, "it wouldn't have been close."

Democratic National Chairman Henry M. Jackson also said the TV debates were the greatest single factor in the victory. The two Democratic campaigners agreed that Kennedy's bearing in the debates completely destroyed the Republican argument that the Democratic candidate was immature and no match for Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Republican National Chairman Thruston B. Morton put his finger on the drop in the GOP Negro vote as the principal reason for the GOP defeat. He said Nixon got only 10 to 12 per cent of the Negro vote compared to the 26 per cent won by President Eisenhower.

Morton also contended that the religious issue was a "very important" factor in the election result. He said that "on balance" the religious question was a factor against the GOP because Catholics in big industrial cities gave their support to Kennedy.

Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) said Kennedy and Vice President-elect Lyndon B. Johnson, had "the greatest appeal to youth and women and all others." He said the nation was disappointed with the Eisenhower administration's handling of foreign affairs and concerned about a possible recession.

Britain Hangs Pair

LONDON (AP) — Two British youths were hanged today for kicking a man to death after robbing him.

The hanging of Francis Forsyth, 18, and Norman Harris, 23, was preceded by the usual protest against capital punishment in Britain. But in contrast to the noisy demonstrations that have accompanied some previous executions, only small silent crowds stood outside the two prisons where the two were hanged separately.

RED NATIONS SPLIT IN VOTE REACTION

Khrushchev Sends Congratulations, Hope For Era Like That Of FDR

LONDON (AP)—The giants of the Communist world split today in their reaction to the election of John F. Kennedy. Moscow was friendly, Peiping hostile.

While most of the free world looked to the U.S. president-elect for dynamic new leadership, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev fired off a congratulatory telegram to Kennedy declaring readiness for "most friendly relations" and proposing negotiations on disarmament, Germany and other cold war issues.

Khrushchev, who blamed President Eisenhower for the U-2 incident and collapse of the Paris summit, said he hoped Soviet-American relations "will again follow the line along which they were developing in Franklin Roosevelt's time."

Red China's official New China news agency, however, described the president-elect as a member of one of America's richest families, and called him an advocate of military spending and war preparations.

The comment made clear that the election has not altered Peiping's hate-America policy.

The differing Red reactions reflected the Moscow-Peiping argument over peaceful coexistence—with Khrushchev holding that war is not inevitable because communism can triumph by peaceful competition, and the Red Chinese arguing that "just wars" are inevitable as long as capitalism exists.

Pope John XXIII, in a congratulatory cable to Kennedy, prayed that "Almighty God may assist you" and expressed his good wishes to "the beloved American people."

Along the coast of Ireland's County Wexford, from which Kennedy's great-grandfather emigrated during the famine of 1847, a chain of bonfires burned last night. The little town of Newross was gay with flags in celebration.

Most Western newspapers viewed the election in the light of the cold war and looked to Kennedy to put new life in the Western alliance.

"The big sleep ends" said a headline in London's conservative Daily Mail.

Stockholm Expressen, Scandinavia's largest newspaper, said the tremendous task ahead of checking Communist advances and said the free world hopes Kennedy "will be able to turn the tide."

Cuba's government-controlled press gave the expected secondary—and acid—treatment to the election. La Calle, referring to Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, said one candidate was "as much a bandit as the other."

But many Latin-American newspapers expressed the hope a new administration would give more attention to their national problems.

The Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, who had favored Vice President Nixon for his stand on Quemoy and Matsu, put on a brave face at the Kennedy election. President Chiang Kai-shek and other officials sent congratulations, and Formosa newspapers said no basic change in America's China policy would result.

Salinas Woman Pleads Innocent To Check Charge

Mrs. Elizabeth Grace Mauras, 35, represented by Marin Publice Defender Peter Allen Smith, then waived preliminary hearing. Judge Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court bound her over to Marin Superior Court for prosecution. She will probably be arraigned in superior court on Monday.

According to San Rafael poloce, Mrs. Mauras said she cashed the check at Ed's Auto Supply on Fourth Street to pay for two bicycles for her daughters. Her husband, Harry N. Mauras, said he returned the bicycles to the store without uncrating them, as soon as they arrived at the Maurases' Salinas home. Mrs. Mauras was arrested by Salinas police on a warrant issued by the Marin district attorney.

ON LARKSPUR CHANNEL

Air Waves Warmed By Video Dispute

A dollar-a-year man is the center of a dispute in Larkspur School District, with such phrases as "scurrilous treatment" and "rooking the school district" being used.

The dollar-a-year man is Oakley Dexter, Larkspur radio and television dealer. For the past decade, he has been doing repairs on radios, phonographs and television sets in the district's schools. At first he charged nothing for labor; later he charged $1 a year; last year he charged $2. He also claims he gave the district 25 per cent discount on the cost of parts.

All this was under an informal arrangement with a former superintendent.

A short time ago, the school district, through the music department, asked all Larkspur and Corte Madera television and radio repair firms to offer estimates on doing the work.

Dexter, miffed, did not bid. Only one bid was received—from All-Channel TV of Larkspur. It got the contract.

C. F. Pendleton, Corte Madera radio broadcaster, brought the matter up at a Larkspur School District Board meeting Tuesday night. He accused Vaughn D. Seidel of "scurrilous treatment" of Dexter.

Seidel said it was simply policy to get bids from as many firms as possible. When only one concern bid, it got the job, he said.

Questioned today as to the amount involved, Seidel said All-Channel TV was to receive $75.40 for repairing seven "machines."

Dexter said today he had done the repairs free, and almost free "because I live in the district and this is one way to return something to the community."

Dexter said he and Superintendent Seidel had a disagreement last March over the purchase of some phonographs and Seidel told him he was "rooking the school district and in the future wouldn't get an opportunity to do so again."

Seidel denied any row with Dexter. He said he had put no obstacle in the way of Dexter's continuing to do the repairs, but thought it was bad policy to allow an individual to "make constant sacrifices for the district" or to have an exclusive franchise without any terms spelled out. He said he did not know Dexter had done repairs for nothing.

Broemmel said low marks in examinations for advancement were partly due to the board nature of the tests for his department. He defended his policy of hiring college graduates for training and gave specific background on men he sought to promote from junior to auditing appraiser.

The last part of his letter dealt specifically with the higher positions, contrasting Marin salaries unfavorably with those of Contra Costa County. He asked that the board consider raises in salary levels for supervising appraiser and appraiser II at a cost to the end of this year of "under $1,900."

This all followed an earlier discussion of appointments which finally was straightened out, though two for juvenile hall were held over.

Chairman Walter R. Castro stirred this by asking why the name of Kenneth C. Finn had been sent in to the treasurer's accountant at $530 in replacement of Leo Vaughan. He has not been a county employee.

"Didi't a county employee pass No. 1 on the list?" he asked.

County Administrator D. A. Jensen said the personnel commission had certified five names and it was "up to the department head"—M. F. Donohue in this case—"to make the choice."

Castro persisted that the employee with top mark, not named but proving to be in the office of County Clerk George S. Jones, ought to be called in and matters explained as a courtesy. But on assurance from Supervisor William D. Fusselman that the merit system wasn't being violated, he desisted.

Finn was therefore appointed. Also appointed were:

Put over to Tuesday, due to need for consideration of a letter from Probation Officer Walter H. Busher on overtime and other matters, were appointments of two group supervisors at $420—Lucinda Michel, replacing V. Borland, resigned, and Charles Moor, to fill a vacancy.

Hub Man Hospitalized After Seizure In Car

Henry E. Feldman, 53, bartender of 27 Floribel Avenue, San Anselmo, was in good condition at San Rafael General Hospital today after being found slumped in his car in a San Raafel city parking lot yesterday afternoon. He apparently suffered a heart attack.

He was discovered unconscious in the car by a police officer who summoned an ambulance to the municipal lot at Third and Cijos Streets.

Novato Holds 'Quickie' Council Meet

The Novato City Council held another "quickie" meeting yesterday to discuss the problem of the Wylie subdivision and the extension of San Jose Boulevard.

Newspapers were notified of the meeting 24 hours in advance of the time it convened—but not in time to publish notices in advance so the public would know about it and be able to attend.

Representatives of H. C. Wylie are protesting a Novato Planning Commission decision that the proposed 11-acre subdivision must leave room for a 100-foot right of way for extension of San Jose Boulevard.

The subdivision would be located south of San Jose Creek, next to land owned by Paul I. Trousdale. Wylie backers are protesting a county-Trousdale agreement routing the road through the Wylie lands.

At least one other discussion meeting will be scheduled before the problem comes up for city council decision at the Nov. 22 meeting, Mayor Wayne Womack reported today.

Little and Rouse argued that before any portion of the work is started, economic feasibility and cost estimates for the whole downtown area should be available.

If this study shows the proposed downtown development will not bring more shoppers and more revenue to the city, then the city should not spend another cent, Rouse held. "I think this $12,800 is a good, sound expenditure."

Caryl Chessman Finally Finds A Resting Place

Convict-author Caryl Chessman, executed last May after 12 years in San Quentin's Death Row, has found a final resting place at an undisclosed cemetery.

Rosalie Asher, Chessman's attorney, disclosed today that Chessman's ashes were removed from Mount Tamalpais Cemetery this week for burial.

Chessman originally wanted his ashes scattered, but that was not possible under the law, Miss Asher explained. He then wanted to be buried at Forest Lawn Memorial Park where both his mother and father are buried. However, Forest Lawn said it would not accept because that would "break faith with those who rest here."

Attorney Seeks Help In Election Debate With Wife

Kentfield attorney Warren Alfred Palmer, 48, who says he was shot in the thigh by his wife last month, called for sheriff's help last night when an election argument got too hot.

Deputy Sheriff Edward McKamey, called to their home at 135 South Ridgewood Road about 8:40 p.m., said Palmer wanted the officer to stand by while he packed his clothes and left.

The attorney said he was trying for a reconciliation with socially prominent Beatrice C. Palmer, 48, since the shooting episode of Oct. 21. He went to see his wife on election day. He is a Republican and she a Democrat. Mrs. Palmer told Deputy McKamey that Palmer stayed up until about 6 a.m. yesterday watching television.

Mrs. Palmer said he got up yesterday afternoon, angry that Richard Nixon had lost. She told him she was glad Nixon had been beaten. The fight was on.

Mrs. Palmer still has a felony assault charge pending against her for allegedly shooting her husband with a .22 caliber rifle last month.

'Love Rides Rails' Planned Tonight

"Love Rides the Rails" will be presented by the Twin City Troupers at a ladies' night program of the Corte Madera Lions Club at 7:30 p.m. today in the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

The Independent-Journal in yesterday's paper mistakenly reported the presentation would be last night.

Ex-Turncoat In Trouble Once Again

LaRance Vante Sullivan, 29, of Marin City, ex-soldier who chose Red China and then returned to Marin in 1958, may be in more trouble.

Sheriff's deputies said he apparently set fire to his bedding and bedspread at his apartment this morning, then vanished.

Deputy Sheriff Boyd Burnham investigated the fire shortly after 2 a.m. and reported smoking in bed may have caused it. The smouldering bedding was dragged outside and doused with water before the apartment caught fire.

Sullivan's grandmother, Mary B. Frost, 81, of House 511, reported the fire. She said she woke up and found her room filled with smoke.

Last year, Mrs. Frost complained that Sullivan tried to choke her to death. Sullivan has been in and out of state hospitals several times, mostly because of a drinking problem.

are now located; the other would move the whole toll plaza 150 feet or so south. Sverdup and Parcel will present detailed plans and recommendations later, he said.

The directors also gave approval of the $200,000 landscaping of the Vista Point on the east side of the Marin end of the bridge. However, they made it contingent on installation of sanitary facilities by the Division of Highways. The division's present plan does not call for any such facilities. Neither does it provide a method for entrance to the vista area from the Marin side without crossing the bridge and returning.

Adenauer Plans Kennedy Meeting

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said today he will meet the new president of the United States next February.

"I will discuss with him everything that I have on my mind," the chancellor told foreign correspondents at a luncheon held a short time after the government had issued a communique announcing the chancellor's meeting with President elect John F. Kennedy.

Frank J. Latini, Fairfax, Succumbs

Frank J. Latini, a 37-year resident of Fairfax, died unexpectedly last night in a local hospital. He was 74.

Born in Italy, he served for a time in the Italian navy before coming to the United States 50 years ago. Settling in San Francisco, he became an employee of the Bank of America. In 1923 he left the bank to become an insurance broker. Later he was an elevator starter in the Humboldt Bank Building in San Francisco.

He retired in 1951 and devoted his time to his hobbies of gardening and amateur painting. He was one of the founders of the Club Italia of San Rafael.

He moved to Fairfax in 1923 and lived there at 131 Cascade Drive with his wife, Mary and a son, David, who survives him. He is also survived by two other sons, Albert, of San Francisco, and Edward of Larkspur, and three grandsons.

Mrs. Alice Park, Mill Valley, Dies

Mrs. Alice Park, a resident of Mill Valley for 15 years, died Tuesday at a San Francisco rest home after a long illness. She was 88.

A native of Wisconsin, she resided at 29 Park Avenue. Mrs. Park was a member of the San Francisco Tea Club.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley. Interment will be private.

Alto Girl, 14, Leaves Her Home

San Francisco police were helping search for a 14-year-old Alto girl who vanished yesterday—the day her mother was going to take her to Idaho to enter a private school there.

Mrs. Arlene M. Esparza of 990 Redwood Highway, Alto, said her daughter, Sharon Marie, left a note saying she was going to school yesterday morning. Mrs. Esparza said she learned that Sharon had gone to see her father at the San Francisco city engineer's office, then disappeared.

Sheriff's deputies asked San Francisco police to be on the lookout for the girl. She is 5 feet 4 inches, 130 pounds, and has short black hair.

Nixon Back In Washington, Receives Many Job Offers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Several universities, law firms and corporations already have offered positions to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, an aide says.

But his press secretary, Herbert G. Klein, said last night he had absolutely no idea what Nixon plans to do after leaving the vice presidency next Jan. 20.

There was no immediate word on any possibility of his remaining in politics.

The Nixons were cheered last night by a crowd of about 500 when they returned by jet airliner from California. With the vice president and his wife were their two daughters, Tricia, 14, and Julie, 12.

For Nixon, it was the end of a 64,000-mile quest for the presidency in which the grand prize had gone to Democrat John F. Kennedy.

In the airport crowd greeting the Nixons were Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, son of the president, and his wife, Barbara. The president had left during the day for a golfing vacation in Augusta, Ga.

Nixon told the greeters that the airport turnout was "the nicest thing that's happened to us in the whole campaign." Mrs. Nixon nodded agreement, and the crowd applauded.

Newsmen aboard the plane did not have an opportunity to question the vice president about his future plans, or anything else. But Klein said Nixon had received quite a sheaf of telegrams offering him positions before he left Los Angeles.

Klein said he knew nothing about Nixon's plans for the next few days, but speculated that the Nixons probably would want to get away soon for a vacation.

Lost Ring Turns Up 60 Years Later

CLARION, Iowa (AP)—A ring that Arthur Mechem of Clarion lost more than 60 years ago was found recently by James White in the driveway of his farm home.

Mechem, now more than 80 years old, recalled that when he was a teen-ager he frequently visited friends on the farm now operated by White. He said he had lost the ring during one of these visits.

Rockefeller Certain To Be '64 Contender

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who failed to carry his home state for the Republican standard-bearer this week, nevertheless appears certain to emerge as a contender for the Republican nomination for president in 1964.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon lost New York by 400,000 votes, although President Eisenhower carried it by 1.5 million in 1956, and Rockefeller was elected by more than a half-million votes two years ago.

But, despite this setback to Republican fortunes, Rockefeller's name is certain to loom large when the GOP starts seeking a national leader to restore the party to the victory trails.

Despite the handicaps, Rockefeller is in position to move into national leadership.

He established himself as a dominant influence in party affairs last summer when he prevailed upon Nixon to incorporate a large portion of the Rockefeller views in the GOP national platform.

Rockefeller would have two major barriers to assuming control of GOP national affairs: home-front problems and the animosity of the conservative Republican bloc.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a leader of the conservative element in the GOP, told a reporter at Phoenix, Ariz., last night: "If Mr. Rockefeller can't carry New York, he can't be reckoned a figure to be contended with in the Republican party."

There is no question that Rockefeller has lost ground in his home state since his upset election victory against a Democratic tide in 1958.

Shortly after his inauguration, Rockefeller put through a record tax increase that has been a source of controversy ever since.

To keep in the public eye, Rockefeller would have to win reelection in 1962. A victory seemingly would be much more difficult than it was two years ago.

But Rockefeller has shown ability to cut across party lines and win support from Democrats and independents. In addition, New York Democrats do not now appear to have a potential candidate to match Rockefeller's crowd appeal and grass-roots campaign techniques.

As governor of New York for at least two of those years, Rockefeller will be in an ideal position to keep himself before the public, to remind the GOP that he is ready, willing and, most likely, readily available.

Winter Quarter Tam Adult High Courses Planned

Classes for the winter quarter of the Tamalpais Union High School district adult evening school will open Jan. 3, Principal Harry Russell announced today.

Twelve courses will be given at Tamalpais and 12 at Drake high. Tam courses include Americanization, art, ceramics, dramatics, english for the foreign-born, fundamentals of high school subjects, interior decoration, rapid reading, sewing and tailoring, symphony orchestra, typing and bookkeeping and woodworking.

Aboard Escort

Jim A. Knock, Navy fireman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Knock of 539 Manzanita Avenue, Corte Madera, and Scott S. Johnson, seaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Johnson of 102 Woodland Avenue, San Anselmo, are serving aboard the escort destroyer Nicholas operating with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

Absentee Ballots May Decide Who Won In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California may not know for sure who won out in its presidential election until absentee ballots are counted.

Sen. John F. Kennedy squeezed out a hard-fought lead of just 36,546 in nearly complete returns on better than 6.2 million votes that trickled in from Vice President Nixon's home state.

The standings (30,666 of 30,682 precincts): Nixon 3,083,727, Kennedy 3,120,273.

There were more than enough absentees out—an estimated 150,000 to 200,000—to award the state's unneeded 32 electoral votes to either candidate.

Herbert Klein, Nixon's press secretary, declared the absentees assured the vice president "an easy margin." He said Republicans traditionally carry these ballots—a statement open to dispute.

The law requires the 58 counties to start counting absentee ballots by next Monday.

FOLLOW PATTERN

These returns often follow the pattern of the direct voting, but the unpredictable twists of Tuesday's polling suggested it might be better to wait and see.

Kennedy's lead settled down after bouncing around crazily from a high of 101,000 to a low of 7,266. Nixon at no time pulled ahead in the long count of the record vote.

L.A. SWITCHED

It appeared for a while from Los Angeles County returns that Kennedy would carry the state by a fairly substantial margin.

But when Los Angeles, with more than 40 per cent of California's seven and one-half million voters, switched from its snap tally to semi-official tabulation, the president-elect's advantage began to dwindle.

Even so, Nixon's heavily Democratic home county gave his Democratic rival a plus of 42,547 in the count of all 11,851 precincts.

Legislature Control Goes To Democrats

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — California Democrats, improving on their 1958 victory in Tuesday's election, today held their firmest control of the State Legislature in three-quarters of a century.

One race was likely to remain undecided until the absentee votes are in, but it made little difference.

The Democrats already had pushed their domination of the Senate to 30-10, biggest for either party since 1935, and were assured of 47 of the 80 Assembly seats with one race in doubt.

The Democrats won control of both houses two years ago for the first time since 1889.

The Republicans and Democrats traded seats in two Assembly districts and Democrats held onto the rest for the 47-32 majority.

Water Bonds Approved By Slim Margin

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California voters approved Proposition 1, the 1.75-billion-dollar water bond plan, by a margin of less than 150,000 votes in Tuesday's election.

It's the biggest bond issue ever authorized by any state.

It will finance the world's largest water transportation system — dams and aqueducts to carry surplus water from the northern Sierra as far south as San Diego.

The vote was a major victory for Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

HEAVY VOTE

The heavy vote in the dry Southland barely overcame the strong opposition in the water-rich North.

That confirms that the 10-year North-South fight which stymied water plans in the Legislature accurately reflected public opinion.

Brown, who led a Democratic sweep of the state in 1958, managed to squeak the compromise plan through the 1959 Legislature. Voter approval was needed because it involved the huge issue of general obligation bonds.

The bonds are supposed to be paid back by the users of the water and power.

INFLATION SEEN

But a private consultant's analysis released a few weeks before election said inflation will probably boost construction costs, requiring general taxpayers to pay part of the bill.

Californians on the Mexican border voted 4-1 for it. On the Oregon border they were 4-1 against it. In central California the vote split nearly 50-50.

In the final countdown it was a 286,000 plurality in Los Angeles County that put it over. The margin there had been expected to be much larger.

Estimated Value Of State Put At About $125 Billion

The figure is based on the assessed valuation of all property in the state, 31.2 billion dollars yesterday by Controller Alan Cranston.

Assessed valuation, on which local property taxes are based, averages less than 25 per cent of real value.

Not all the property is subject to taxes, however. Exemptions this year reduce the taxable total to 29.6 billion dollars nearly 8 per cent higher than a year ago.

Los Angeles County leads the way with a 11.7-billion-dollar valuation. San Diego County is second in value at more than 1.5 billion, and San Francisco third at slightly under that figure.

The head of the sperm whale comprises one-third of its body.

GOP Counties Stay That Way

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's three Republican counties stayed staunchly in the GOP column in today's election.

Tiny Alpine County, with 132 Republican voters registered and 78 Democrats, voted 107-34. Neighboring Mono County registered 799 to 760 and voted 707 to 352.

Marin, with 36,633 registered Republicans and 32,619 Democrats, voted 35,067 to 26,439.

Reapportionment Proposal Buried

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California voters buried a plan to reapportion the state senate.

With all but 49 of the state's 30,682 precincts reporting, Proposition 15 stood 1,791,093 yes, 3,321,153 no.

AS AN EXPERIMENT

Four-Hour Parking Meters Proposed

Tired of feeding parking meters every two hours while shopping in San Rafael? Then here is good news.

The Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce board of directors this week decided to ask the city to convert half of its 112 two-hour meters to four hours on the city lots at Fifth Avenue and C Street and Third and Cijos Streets.

They asked the city to make the change on an experimental basis after the Christmas Season. The chamber said four-hour meters would allow more time for shopping and might increase the use of the lots. Increased revenue could be used to buy more city-owned parking lots, they suggested.

The board also directed the chamber's offstreet parking committee to see if the city would build a pedestrian walkway from the Fifth Avenue and C Street parking lot east to B Street. The route to provide better access to B Street shopping would be between the Bank of America parking lot and the alley behind the Fourth Street stores.

San Rafael Ski Shop Expanding

Dawson's Ski Specialists shop at 1403 Fourth Street, San Rafael, will open tomorrow in new and enlarged form, according to Howard Dawson, president of Dawson's Sports, Inc.

Roland (Cod) Carrier, formerly a major with the 10th Mountain Infantry and a certified ski and mountaineering instructor both in Europe and the United States, will be manager.

The shop will sell and rent clothing and sports equipment.

Hub Council Wants Cedars School To Have Only Secondary Access

The Cedars Development School for mentally retarded children, which plans to build recreational facilities just south of Mount Tamalpais Cemetary, should use San Anselmo streets for access only when the cemetery road is impassable.

San Anselmo City Councilmen took that position last night, as some 50 residents of Sequoia Park packed the council meeting to protest proposed access via Sequoia Drive and Grove Hill Avenue.

Attorney Bryan McCarthy, representing Cedars Development School, said the primary access would be from Fifth Avenue in San Rafael via the Mount Tamalpais Cemetery gate. He said Sequoia Drive would be only a secondary" access with "minmal use" by only a few cars per day.

Bart Benedict of 66 Grove Hill Avenue and other objectors protested that streets are too narrow, children walking along the streets would be endangered, and traffic would create a death trap in case of fire. They asked for a definition of "secondary" use and said they feared this would be the opening wedge for full use of the narrow streets to the new school project.

After almost two hours of debate, punctuated by heated exchanges and a brief flareup between attorney McCarthy and City Atty. John G. Buresh, the council decided that Sequoia and Grove Hill should be only for "emergency" use and not as a secondary" route.

At one point, City Attorney Buresh turned to McCarthy and roared: "Don't tell me what my duties are! I know what they are!" A partisan crowd applauded.

On a motion by Councilman Robert E. Rouse, the city fathers asked City Administrator Douglas Flautt to present this recommendation to the county board of supervisors today:

The county grant a use permit for the new school facility on condition that Sequoia and Grove Hill be used as emergency access only when the primary access is phsically impassable.

City Attorney Buresh said he would check to see if Grove Hill actually touches The Cedars Development School property and whether the road is a publicly accepted road.

Mrs. Marie D. Tappendorff, president of The Cedars school, attended the meeting. The school is now located at Bolinas Avenue and Upper Road in Ross, with about 75 students. The school bought 20 acres of land between Mount Tamalpais Cemetery and Sunnyhills and plans to put in a swimming pool and recreational building.

Attorney McCarthy said actual construction of the school itself may be one, 10 or 20 years away.

There are three possible accesses to the area: via Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, via Sequoia and Grove Hill, and through Sunyhills property. He said the main entrance would be either from San Rafael through the cemetery, or from Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through Sunnyhills.

ONE DISSENTER

Hub Council Hires New City Mechanic

On recommendation of City Administrator Douglas Flautt, city councilmen last night hired Hearn at $458 per month on a non-civil service basis.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith, the only dissenter, said he is against the creation of the city mechanic's position.

Hearn, who lives at 39 Strawberry Circle, Mill Valley, is getting about $500 per month at his present job, the administrator reported.

Hearn's job will be to supervise maintenance and repair of the city's equipment, with headquarters at the city corporation yard at the end of San Francisco Boulevard. Hearn will also handle purchasing of supplies and parts for the city's equipment.

About 10 applied for the job, Flautt reported.

The city council set an adjourned meeting for 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday to get a detailed report on how the city's financial records can be brought up to date. City Auditor Frederic D. Kerr said he would be present to make recommendations and suggestions.

Kerr presented the annual audit of the city's books last night. During the questioning of Kerr, city councilmen learned that the city's bookkeeping is not keeping up with current revenues and encumbrances.

Kerr said the lag in bookkeeping does not represent "a major breakdown," but he had calculated the city should have caught up some months ago.

Kerr reported he had discussed the city's accounting work with Mrs. Anne Grant, city controller, and Mrs. Grant estimated that 12 days work would bring the accounts up to date. Kerr said he is convinced Mrs. Grant could do the job without additional outside aid.

Next Tuesday night, Kerr will present specific recommendations. Last night, he noted that the city should have an account for fixed assets, and the collection of revenues from permits and other fees should be channeled through a single office.

Musical Satire Due In Sausalito

"Whoops!", a new musical revue which takes a satirical look at the '60's and a nostalgic look at the '30's, will open at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Gate Playhouse in Sausalito.

The revue, which is to be produced at an off-Broadway theater in New York in the spring, will make its debut in Sausalito.

Suspension Under Fire By Parent

San Rafael High School's policy of suspending students for rule infractions came under fire from a parent last night.

The father of a high school boy (who shall remain nameless because he spoke on behalf of his own son) told the San Rafael Board of Education: "I fail to see suspension as a solution to the child's problems . . . It is merely an easy way out for the teacher."

The father said his son had been suspended for a week for disobeying school rules. During the suspension, he drove to the high school to pick up home work so he would not get behind in his classes. He park-in the school parking lot at 3:15 p.m. and waited for school to let out.

At 3:35 p.m., according to the father, Principal Ralph H. Phelps approached the car and told the boy to get off the campus—without his home work.

Then the boy went to a high school football game, although he knew his suspension forbade him to attend the game. There, he encountered Phelps. The principal, according to the father, told the boy "you will not get another week's suspension for coming to the game," but added—after the boy was out of hearing—"you will get two weeks." The boy returned to school Monday to find he was suspended for two more weeks.

Supt. Frank L. Lucas displayed a rather bulky file which he said was the case history of the boy in question since elementary school days.

"I don't like to take this up in a public meeting," said Lucas. "I don't think it is the proper place."

The father wanted to know who has the discretion in suspending a student. Lucas said state law gives the discretion to any teacher.

The superintendent reported that since the school year started, 37 San Rafael High students have been suspended.

Fourteen of the suspensions, he said, were just until the students returned to school with their parents, to provide opportunity for a conference with the parent over the student's infraction. This generally took place the day of suspension or the day following, he said.

Two students were suspended for three days.

Eighteen were suspended for one week.

Three were suspended for two weeks.

He said nine of the students were suspended for smoking on campus. "This is an automatic suspension at the high school. The kids know it; everybody knows it," said Lucas.

Five were suspended because they did not dress for physical education class.

Six were suspended for truancy, which Lucas said consists of at least three unexcused absences "but usually many more."

Two were suspended for fighting.

Five, said Lucas, were suspended "for violations of rules of the school of one kind or another," and two for "something to do with automobiles."

Board member Roderick P. Martinelli declared the board certainly should look into the district's policy on suspensions.

Lucas asked that the father and his son call tomorrow at the superintendent's office. Board chairman C. Paul Bettini asked the father if this was satisfactory with him.

Shrugging, he replied, "There's nothing else I can do, I guess. I want the boy back in school. I want him to get an education."

Education Board Asks Band Uniforms Study

San Rafael High School Band uniforms are nine years old, out of date, faded, in need of repair, and "they are not designed for girls," the San Rafael Board of Education was told last night.

The derogatory comments on the band uniforms appeared in a letter accompanying a resolution from the high school's student congress asking that the high school district purchase new band uniforms.

Both letter and petition specified that "this idea comes directly from the student body and should not be connected in any way with the faculty."

The letter was signed by Kathleen Cazassa. The resolution, adopted at a meeting of the student congress, was signed by student president Jim Costello.

The band has about 100 members. Supt. Frank L. Lucas told the board new uniforms would cost about $75 each.

"I don't think that's a bad investment," commented board chairman C. Paul Bettini. "If they last 10 years again, that's $750 a year to have the band look nice . . . I have to agree with the girls."

The board instructed Lucas to get definite figures on the cost of uniforms and present them at the next meeting.

Some budding artist in a San Rafael school may get a free trip to Warsaw, Poland, it was disclosed in a letter read to the board by the superintendent.

The letter invited participatoin by San Rafael children under 15 in an art contest sponsored by Warsaw Radio. Ten winners from the United States will get the free trips. Lucas will turn the announcement over to school art departments.

"I'm in favor of sending our bright young people on trips abroad, as advocated by Senator Kennedy," commented Bettini.

Also at last night's board of education meeting:

1. Contractor Ray Johnson advised that Terra Linda High School would be ready for final inspection and certification of completion next Monday.
2. A new plot plan by architect Carl Gromme for the new Laurel Del School was studied but held over.
3. Resignation of Mrs. Irene Patrick, part-time teacher at Santa Venetia School, because of illness was accepted.
4. Superintendent Lucas announced appointment of Mrs. Dora H. Berling as clerk at Short School, replacing Mrs. Yolanda Brusatori, who has been transferred to San Pedro School.
5. Abbot-Hanks, Co. was named testing for the Terra Linda High School swimming pool, excavation for which is already virtually completed.

Green Trimmings Needed By Guild At Ross Center

Marin County residents who are planning to trim their evergreens were asked today by the Marin Art and Garden Center to wait until the early part of December, when they can be put to use at the center in Ross.

"We can use them in our workrooms," said Mrs. Gordon Zimmer, president of the Center's Decorations Guild. She explained that evergreen cuttings are needed by Guild members for making wreaths and other articles for the annual Christmas Greens Sale Dec. 16, 17 and 18.

Holly, mistletoe and dried materials such as cones also can be used, Mrs. Zimmer said.

Delivery may be made to the Decorations Guild building at the center, or pick-up can be arranged by calling the center office. It is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Officer Fined For Petty Theft

Former San Quentin Correctional Officer Henry Edward Carlson, 41, who took a prison typewriter and other supplies for his own private use, must pay a $50 fine and remain on two years' probation for petty theft.

He was sentenced yesterday by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court.

Carlson was convicted of taking the typewriter and supplies from the prison last Aug. 21 and using them at his home at 19 Sentinel Court, San Rafael. Investigators later recovered the stolen goods at Carlson's home and arrested him.

Pleas Delayed In TV Charges

NEW YORK (UPI)—Twelve of 13 former contestants on "rigged" television quiz shows charged with lying to a grand jury appeared in court to plead today, but obtained a delay until Dec. 1.

Lawyers for the contestants, including Charles Van Doren, told special sessions court Chief Justice John M. Murtagh they need more time to prepare motions in behalf of their defendants.

The attorneys indicated their motions would attack the legality of the grand jury information which charged the defendants with second degree perjury on two counts.

San Rafael School Aides Decide Program Stacks Up With Conant's

San Rafael school officials compared their two seventh-eighth grade schools with educator James Bryant Conant's conception of what a junior high school should be, and decided they stack up pretty well.

A point-by-point comparison was presented orally to the board of education by Dr. Mildred B. Barnard, assistant superintendent in charge of elementary instruction, and Principals Homer E. Hoyt of Davidson School and Lawrence Geiger of Santa Venetia School.

The two San Rafael seventh-eight grade schools devote 62½ to 75 per cent of the school day to basic subjects, the three administrators said. Conant recommends at least 60 per cent of the day go to such subjects.

In what educators are fond of calling "the enrichment program"—a term not, however, used by Conant or any of the three who spoke last night—the San Rafael schools fall short in foreign languages but stack up well in all others. Some introduction to foreign languages is offered at Davidson, but only about 10 per cent of the pupils get to take it because of scheduling problems, said Hoyt.

San Rafael schools also are far below Conant's standards in a guidance and counselling program, Hoyt and Dr. Barnard noted. Conant suggests a specialist in guidance or testing for each 200 pupils. San Rafael has one for the entire elementary school district.

But in some areas—particularly extra-class activities, physical education and reading—San Rafael offers more than Conant sets up as a standard at which to aim, the three reporting officials noted.

Decrease In Funds Hits Dixie Schools

Dixie School District is in a bind for operating funds because district officials over-estimated the increase in enrollment, state appraisers last year found Marin assessments too low and the state aid fund was below expectations.

The combination of the three has reduced the district's expected receipts from the state by some $42,000, Supt. Dennie B. Willis told the board of trustees last night.

District officials had estimated Dixie schools would have 400 more pupils this year than last. But so far, said Willis, the increase is only 325. The other 75 pupils would mean $18,000 to the district in state aid.

About $12,000 of that has been saved because it was not necessary to add two more teachers for the increased enrollment that was expected but has not yet materialized, he said.

Before last year's county reappraisals went on the tax rolls, State Board of Equalization representatives sampled Marin appraisals and found them 7 per cent too low, said Willis. That cost Dixie District another $13,000, because state aid is based on a complicated formula which includes the amount of assessed valuation behind each pupil.

State funds for aid to school districts proved smaller than expected, he went on. The amount for each pupil was therefore reduced by 20 per cent. This cost Dixie another $11,000.

The result, he said, is that the district will have to cut its reserve from $48,000 down to $21,000, eliminate some planned landscaping and ground improvements and purchase of playground equipment.

The board moved from distressing finances into distressing homework. Penrod Moss, district curriculum consultant, presented a report on homework. The report did not go into how much homework is assigned or what it is. It read carefully around a definition of what homework is, not accepting the simple definition that homework is any work a pupil must do for school while at home.

Willis wanted to know whether the school board wanted to make a firm policy on homework. Trustees felt they should leave this up to principals and and teachers.

The homework discussion took so long that the board postponed scheduled discussion of disaster plans, field trips, teachers taking outside jobs, leave for religious holidays and the San Francisco Schools Report.

WELL, NOT QUITE

San Rafael Planners Won't Fence In Tennis Player

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night compromised with the tennis set by allowing a nine-foot fence to be built around the tennis courts of Melvin Marlow at 50 Arguello Circle.

Marlow had applied for a 12-foot fence constructed of decorative redwood panels — six feet higher than the zoning ordinance allows. The nine-foot fence approved by the planners will be of wire mesh supported by redwood posts four feet apart.

The commission approved legalizing establishment of rubbish dumps in the city's commercial and heavy manufacturing zones. The matter will go to the city council for a final hearing.

A proposal to change the name of Rafael Street in East San Rafael was put over to the next regular commission meeting, Nov. 22. The change was asked by Postmaster Warren H. Williams to prevent confusion for postmen delivering to Rafael Drive, Rafael Way and San Rafael Avenue.

Also put over until the next meeting was consideration of revoking a use permit granted Spero P. Spilotis and Co. for a skating rink between Rafael and Belvedere Streets.

City Planner Donald Newmark recommended the commission not re-zone the area around Chris Craft Sales at 25 Third Street from duplex to commercial. The planners concurred with Newmark's recommendation.

In other action, the commission:

1. Approved a tentative map of a proposed subdivision, Seaview Estates Unit 2 on San Pedro Road. The map must show the lots to be 75 feet wide with an approximate area of 7,500 square feet, improvements must be made on one-half of San Pedro road contiguous to the subdivision, the main entrance to the development must be realigned and the plans must have approval of the city engineer.

2. Unanimously approved an amendment to the zoning ordinance which would require architectural supervision on construction in all zones except single and two-family residential.

3. Approved a 35 by 17-foot sign at the entrance to the proposed Northgate Shopping Center in Terra Linda providing the architect can prove the sign does not jeopardize any proposed highway landscaping.

4. Approved two temporary signs measuring 12-by-36 and 10-by-30-feet advertising the Northgate Shopping Center and the proposed Northbridge apartments at the intersection of Albion Way and Las Gallinas. The Northbridge sign must be set back 50 feet at the corner of Manuel Freitas Parkway and Del Presidio Boulevard.

5. Refused renewal of a use permit for a sign advertising the proposed Vista Del Agua apartments on the south side of Canal Street opposite Belvedere Street because the sign is not on the property to be occupied by the development.

6. Put over until the next meeting a decision on approval of a 20-unit apartment house on the south side of Canal Street near Bellam Boulevard. At that time the builder is scheduled to submit a revised plan showing setback variances requested.

Lunch Survey Letters Go To Parents

Letters surveying parents' preferences for a school lunch program were sent out yesterday by the Larkspur school district.

The parents will be asked if they are willing to pay the full amount of a lunch program (probably 40 cents per lunch) so the district does not have to subsidize it.

They will also indicate whether they prefer a frozen food lunch or a local kitchen-cooked entree; the number of children in their family who will eat in the cafeteria, and wether the children will eat there occasionally or regularly.

The district hopes to have replies back by next Wednesday in order to make a decision on the program. The three schools in the district have been without a lunch program since the opening of this school year.

Prohibition Party Vote Detailed

The secretary of state's latest semi-official returns, from 30,126 of the state's 30,632 precincts, show that the Kansas City, Mo., minister drew his largest support — 8,749 votes from Los Angeles County.

He got no votes at all in Alpine or Tehama counties.

Tam Board Delays Bond Vote Decision

Tamalpais Union High School District trustees last night were unable to decide whether to explore again a plan for a six-million-dollar, five year construction program, or to resubmit to the voters on April 18 the same three-million-dollar bond issue that failed to win approval last month.

The board postponed action, to next Monday night, since one member was absent and there were differences of opinion.

Trustee Delman Smith of Sausalito made a motion that the board accept the citizens advisory committee recommendation to put the three-million-dollar proposal on the ballot again. The motion was not seconded.

Trustees Howard I. McGill said he wanted to explore the idea of going for more money, as in the original proposal which called for a six-million dollar program. The citizens advisory committee had agreed that amount was needed, but added it was not realistic to ask such a large bond issue. McGill said the six million was needed, and he thought the board should concentrate on the district's needs. He received no support for his stand from other board members.

Smith said the board must be realistic and that the recommendation of the advisory committee was sound. He agreed, however, that three million dollars was not enough for long range planning.

Trustee Wallace Hayes of Mill Valley said the $604,000 allocation in the bond proposal for acquisition of sites should be dropped altogether. He said he felt this had caused the defeat. He later suggested the item could be put on the ballot as a separate measure.

Board member Edmund J. Thomas Jr. was absent.

In other business, the board:

1. Decided to study the fee schedule for the adult education program to see if it would be possible to pay a portion of administrative costs of the program from fees. The program now breaks even, but administrative costs are not included. Some fees might have to be raised.

2. Authorized the superintendent to release test data and grades of graduates from an elementary district who are in the Tamalpais District now, for use by that district when such procedures are in the interest of students.

3. Approved Mill Valley's plan for improvement of the Miller Avenue and Camino Alto intersection, part of the Mill Valley master plan for the Miller Avenue approach to the city. It involves some site improvement on Tamalpais High property. The board allocated funds for curbing, drainage and access and authorized architect Ralph Priestley to prepare cost estimates.

TIRE BLOWS

Prunes Cook In Truck Trailer Fire

McPherson's relief at Ray's arrival rapidly turned to gloom when Ray's pump refused to work, but Ray attacked the fire with a hand extinguisher, checking it until Al Fleming arrived with a county fire fighting truck.

As the fire was quelled, McPherson explained that his inside rear tire blew out on near the top of St. Vincent's Hill. Fearing to stop there because of thick fog and a narrow shoulder, he rode the rig south to the bottom of the hill. By the time he stopped it, both tires on the wheel were ablaze from the friction.

Damage to the trailer was estimated at $500, and $2,500 worth of prunes were ruined. Traffic was slowed in the area for about 45 minutes, California Highway Patrolman William Gregg said.

School Plans To Select Queen Tonight

The San Rafael High School football squad will select Homecoming queen tonight thirty minutes before running onto the field to meet the Marin Catholic Wildcats in the last game of the season.

The candidates vieing for the queen's crown are Pamela Stettler of 417 First Street, Victoria Olson of 8 Eva Street, Barbara Woodhurst of 15 Echo Place, Pamela West of 205 Spring Grove Avenue and Ruth Fagundez of 309 G Street. The five girls are seniors.

The game will follow a 3 p.m. rally in the gymnasium and a Homecoming Day parade that is slated to start in front of the high school on High Street at 6:15 p.m.

The queen candidates will ride on floats accompanied by 30 cars filled with students, a fire truck, clown and horses and riders.

The Homecoming Queen will be crowned at 7 p.m. She will reign over the game and the Homecoming Dance to be held Saturday from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the high school gym.

After the game the second alumni reunion to be held in 20 years will be staged in the San Rafael High School gym

MUST 'DISABLE' STOVE

Ross Man Fined $150 In Zoning Violation

Anthony J. Curro of Ross, convicted of operating a two-family home in a one-family area in San Anselmo, paid a $150 fine yesterday and must "disable the kitchen stove in the downstairs unit to the satisfaction of the city building inspector."

This ruling was handed down by Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court in what he believed to be the county's first criminal conviction of its kind.

Curro's property is at 41 Austin Avenue. When Curro put in cooking facilities, he told San Anselmo city officials that his sister would live upstairs and his mother downstairs. In September, when city officials learned that other tenants were living in the house, they asked City Atty. John G. Buresh to press charges.

Curro fought the charge but was convicted after a two-day jury trial.

Yesterday, City Attorney Buresh asked the judge to impose a fine and order built-in kitchen appliances removed from the downstairs unit. He said the city considers the violation a flagrant one.

Curro's attorney, Kenneth Larson of Greenbrae, argued it was only a technical violation, and the city is trying to make an example out of Curro to frighten other violators. He asked that Curro be given a minimum fine and that only the gas line for the stove be disconnected and sealed off. He pointed out that removing the built-in kitchen appliances would be quite expensive.

Judge Wilson put Curro on one year probation on condition he pay the $150 fine, disconnect the gas to the stove, and dismantle the stove to the satisfaction of the building inspector.

Curro said he would comply with the court order but plans to appear before the San Anselmo City Council again to seek a variance legally permitting him to have cooking facilities downstairs.

Curro is an insurance agent.

Board Adjourns

The Tamalpais Valley Sanitary District board last night adjourned its meeting to Nov. 17 at which time it will discuss the Peralta Drive line extension and revisions to its ordinance 3 which concerns setting new connection charges, Chairman Richard P. Bovaird said today.

Escapee From Napa Hospital Caught Here

California Highway Patrol men early today apprehended in Marin one of three men who walked out of Napa State Hospital some time yesterday.

Rinaldo Regnani, 39, who was found to be missing from the hospital at the 10 p.m. bedcheck, was spotted walking west on the shoulder of Highway 37 near the Highway 101 intersection at 3 a.m. today.

Highway Patrolmen Charles Heart and Richard DeMarco, noting Regnani's odd actions and clothing, questioned him and learned of the escape. They booked him at Marin County Jail for safekeeping. Hospital attendants were scheduled to pick him up this afternoon.

Also found to be missing at the same hour were Jessie Maxwell and John Flynn. Hospital authorities said today that Maxwell's family lives in Vallejo and Flynn's in San Francisco.

Flynn was described as 39, white, male, 5 foot 8 inches and 131 pounds. He has dark eyes and graying black hair. Maxwell is a 32 year-old Negro, 5 foot 8½, weighing 166 pounds.

U.C. Student Rebel Paper Calls It Quits

BERKELEY (UPI)—The Independent Californian, a daily tabloid newspaper published by a group of "rebel" university of California journalists, suspended publication yesterday after two and a half weeks of life.

Mary Ellen Rose, assistant managing editor, said a shortage of funds made the paper's staff decide on ceasing publication as a daily. An effort will be made to publish weekly, Miss Rose said. At least until the rebels settle their differences with the Associated Students Executive Committee.

The rebels were editors and staff members of five U.C. campus publications, including the Daily Californian, who resigned en masse during a heated dispute with the executive committee over alleged "meddling" in the paper's editorial policies.

Neider Asks Extension Of Fill Permit

Samuel R. Neider's Marin Land Co. of 648 Redwood Highway, Mill Valley, has applied to the Army Corps of Engineers for three-year extension of a dredge and fill permit issued five years ago for a residential island along the northeast shore of Harbor Point in the Strawberry area.

The project was one of three Neider developments in this area before the Marin County Planning Commission recently and it will come before the Board of Supervisors No. 22. This one got planning approval for a change from an agricultural classification with 10,000 square feet required for a home to a planned single-family residential category requiring 7,500 square feet.

Original permit was issued by the engineers June 8, 1955, for fill to make an island separated from the point by a channel.

Proceedings before the planners revealed that the ground will be approximately 25 acres in size. It will be bounded on the bay side by the Salt Works Canal and 80 feet of channel must be dredged by the developer eight feet deep, mean lower low water, as part of the canal.

An existing channel of similar depth is shown between mainland and the proposed fill which will make the residential island.

Anyone wishing to oppose the proposed three-year extension of the engineers' permit should submit his reasons in writing before Dec. 7, addressing the Corps of Engineers at 180 New Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

Interviews Set For New Firemen

Applicants to fill eight new positions as firemen will be interviewed by the San Rafael Fire Commission at a special meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the city hall.

The additional firemen are needed to staff the Joseph Sauer Firehouse No. 3 when it opens in Terra Linda on Jan. 1. The firemen will start work on Dec. 1 at a salary of $447 per month.

The top three applicants interviewed in August will be hired tonight if they are available, the commissioners declared last week. Eleven others on the eligibility list, who have completed their physical and written examinations, will be interviewed tonight.

Sausalito Residents Hit Plans For Road

Rodeo Avenue in Sausalito could stand some paving but residents in the area are not at all in favor of its becoming a four-lane highway between Highway 101 and Bridgeway.

As Dominic L. Pizzano of 529 Olive Street suggested to the Planning Commission last night, "why don't they use Spencer Avenue or Monte Mar Drive? We already have a road coming into Sausalito just seven-tenths of a mile down the road at Marin City. . . . Anyway, how are you going to get cars down Gordon Street or Spring Street without moving the houses back?"

T. Howell Breece of 141 Woodward Avenue said he felt the same as Pizzano. "In order to save four minutes time for tourists, you propose to disturb a residential neighborhood," he said. "Many of us bitterly resent what has happened to our city in the last 10-15 years. I do my shopping in Mill Valley because downtown Sausailto is so unbearably crowded."

City Engineer John L. Hunter proposed three choices: (1) improving the present Rodeo Avenue to four lanes; (2) A new Rodeo Avenue to the east of the present one; (3) Two two-lane one-way roads.

Robert E. McCabe, acting chairman in the absence of Gilbert P. Murphy, appointed a four-man committee headed by Carl G. Wooley to review the subject and report back Dec. 14. Also on the committee are Paul Micou, Dr. Thomas Wiper and Charles E. Finney.

Hunter said costs for the first proposal were estimated at $230,000; for the second, $158,000. The state has set money aside for an interchange on Highway 101 when it is needed, he reported.

Hunter said his studies tried to project the needs of the city 25 years from now and stressed the advantage of an improved Rodeo Avenue which would distribute traffic and eliminate some from the south end of town.

"Many people want to get into this town. The town is 6,000 now and will be 12,000 before we know it. We will have to have aditional accesses into Sausalito," he declared.

Pizzano asked, "Is it for tourists or for the people in town?"

McCabe answered, "they are not mutually exclusive."

F. Bruce Bernhard, who has applied for a use permit and variance to build nine buildings with a total of 90 apartments in the Rodeo Avenue area, said a through street would "ruin the character of the whole area." He said "I would like to see the main access at Waldo near Marin City."

Planners Reflect On Steel Building

Whether a steel roof on a Sausalito waterfront building would reflect sun into the eyes of the residents on the hills was a question which caused a small furor at the Sausalito Planning Commission meeting last night.

A one-story steel building, 50 by 94 feet, is planned to be erected by Sausalito Marine Corp. at Bridgeway and Locust Street, on the site of the old Madden and Lewis boat yard.

Peter MacGowan, representing architect John Lord King of Belvedere, a corporation director, said the steel roof would be buff-colored and would have "little effect on the hill people except possibly very early in the morning when there might be some mirror effect."

"What about Belvedere?" asked commissioner Carl G. Wooley.

Commissioner Ruth Sisson said: "I can't see it from my house . . . but it could be an onerous thing to a large part of the community."

MacGowan passed a small square of the roofing material around for the commissioners to see.

F. Bruce Bernhard, in the audience, jumped up saying: "Can the planning commission decide what color anybody can paint their building? I think that's out of line. . . . I do look down on this property and I think the glare would affect my view. Still I don't think it's within the commission's province to decide what kind of roof or what color of roof should be given buildings."

"I agree with Mrs. Sisson 100 per cent," spoke up Mary Hoffman.

The commission then approved a use permit for the building, unanimously, the matter to go next to the city council.

The commission also:

1. Set for Nov. 30 a public hearing on the findings of the Marinship study by planner Frederick Allen, the report being due to the commission Nov. 18.
2. Set for Dec. 14 discussion of the citizens' waterfront plan committee report.
3. Approved a use permit for a three-unit apartment by S. R. McLaughlin at Bridgeway and San Carlos Avenue.
4. Put over until next meeting discussion on whether reasonable fees can be levied to offset the cost of a parking facility when offstreet parking is required.
5. Went on record favoring participation in the Marin County Planning Council which is planned to be re-activated.
6. Approved a use permit for Richard Bennet and Victor Bright for a business in Marinship to manufacture decorative cork wall pieces.

Display Of Photos Set In Sausalito

A photographic portrait of Sausalito will be opened 10 a.m. tomorrow in the city hall on Bridgeway, to continue through Nov. 15.

On completion of the exhibit's run, the 71 black and white photographs will be sent to Sausalito's sister city, Vina Del Mar, as part of Sausalito's people-to-people program, Mrs. Loren Jay said today.

The exhibit was originated by the late Sausalito photographer, Dulce Duncan Ray and was completed by Ted Castle with the help of Michael Bry and Georgia Longini. It contains many fine photographs showing street and waterfront scenes, children and civic leaders. The exhibit closes daily at 9 p.m.

Hub School Board Will Meet Monday

A series of reports on financial affairs and educational program will be discussed by the San Anselmo School District board of trustees at their meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Isabel Cook School multi-use room.

An audit report for the 1959-60 is first on the agenda. Later the status of district bonds and state loans will come up. There will be preliminary discussion of the 1961-62 salary schedule.

Reports will be given on the speech program, the English educational system and possible offering on a foreign language program. Proposed legislation on programs for gifted children will also be discussed and there will be a continuation of previous consideration of the administrative handbook.

Symphony Unit Threatened By Support Lack

Curtailment of youth and community music programs of the Symphony Guild of Marin is threatened because of weakened community support, according to president Barry Boland.

He said that fewer than 175 Marin business firms have joined as business members and program advertisers this year, while approximately one-third of the individuals and families who were members in the past two years have failed to subscribe.

Boland said the organization has been able to maintain itself since its fourth year and it ended its eighth season last years with a $480 surplus as well as a special memorial scholarship fund of $1,200.

But an increase of 10 per cent in the musicians' union rate and higher costs for the Youth Orchestra raised this year's budget 13 per cent to an all-time high of $14,500.

Boland said a renewed effort is being made to obtain additional memberships at $15 for business and $10 per family, both providing two admissions to three symphony concerts, three concert previews and two concerts of the Youth Orchestra.

Memberships or contributions should be sent to Symphony Guild of Marin, Box 144, Mill Valley, he said.

Marinite Will Go To Church Meeting

Rev. Thomas Holden of Greenbrae, executive secretary and stated clerk of the Presbyterian Church in the Synod of California, will be an active participant in the general assembly of the tri-annual meeting of the National Council of Churches in San Francisco, Dec. 4 through 9.

At the assembly, religious leaders from 50 states, representing 33 denominations, will review their work as a cooperative agency, elect new officers and make plans for the future work of the council.

Williamson Lecture Set In San Anselmo

Dr. George Hunt Williamson, chairman of the anthropology department of Great Western University in San Francisco, will speak on "New Quest For the Holy Grail" at the Women's Improvement Club, 167 Tunstead Avenue, San Anselmo, at 8 p.m. tomorrow under auspices of Understanding, Inc.

In his own hunt for the grail Dr. Williamson has worked at Glastonbury Abbey and ancient Stonehenge in England. He was one of six witnesses to George Adamski's reported contact with a man from Venus on the California desert Nov. 20, 1952.

Tam Language Laboratory Hinges On Federal Grant

Installation of language laboratory facilities at Tamalpais High School in Mill Valley will begin in February—if a $15,000 project for the Tamalpais Union High School district is approved by the federal government.

Half of the language laboratory project would be financed by federal funds apportioned through the state, and half by district funds.

The district has applied for a grant under the national defense education act. A similar grant was received last year and provided language laboratory facilities at Drake and Redwood High Schools.

Bulk of the $15,000 or project would be for installation of facilities at Tamalpais High, which now has no laboratory. Language teachers there have long used electric equipment for instruction, district director of instruction Robert D. Torrey said.

Interesting, Exciting Election Over—Now Back To Work

Looking back over the election now two days past—and nothing catastrophic has happened yet—brings out a number of impressions.

First, the remarkable way in which the people of Marin County went to the polls.

It would be exceedingly difficult under any circumstances, short of force, to get many more than 92½ per cent of the registered voters to cast ballots. We can be exceedingly proud of our residents.

Another thing that struck us was the almost without exception high quality of the candidates. In the race for the vacant Assembly seat for Marin-Sonoma, as an example, we could have been well represented by any of the five individuals who ran for the job in the primaries. And we will be by the one who won.

The campaigns themselves were not only hard fought, but cleanly fought. There were several opportunities in our local battles, as well as in the national campaigns, to throw mud. Without exception, the local party organizations and the candidates and their staffs, refrained. It was a rather remarkable achievement.

Particularly we'd like to refer in this regard to the Democratic State Senate candidate, Charles Geller. Even with the background of the national religious issue discussion, Geller, a Mason, at no time referred to or made any inference to the fact his opponent, John F. McCarthy, is a Catholic. We didn't hear a whisper in this regard and it speaks highly of Geller's ideals and motives.

We don't know anyone who was 100 per cent pleased with the results. The correlarary of this, of course, is that no one was 100 per cent displeased.

It was an exciting and interesting election all around.

Fabulous Fuchsias

Of all the various flowers which grow and thrive in Marin, our favorite is the fuchsia.

One reason fuchsias do so well in Marin is our climate is not far different from the damp Central and South American mountain forests which were their native home.

There are fuchsias of combinations of white, pink, purple or blue to suit every taste. Rich, vivid colors which make one think of the tango of a Mexican or, on the other hand, a bridal pink or polar ice.

Not only do fuchsias capture the imagination in themselves, but they also attract that ethereal, fairy-creature, the hummingbird.

Put them all together and you have a bit of evocative magic in the garden. A bloom for every phantasy. Small wonder we call them fabulous.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

TO COMBAT STUDENT VANDALISM

School property is seldom damaged when students appreciate that the institution is theirs just as much as it is anybody's.

Such is the conclusion of Dr. Nathan Goldman of Syracuse University, after a two-year study.

"When members of the school group have a sense of belonging to the school," he said, "and when they feel that the school belongs to them, morale tends to be high and damage low."

When, however, there is a "couldn't care less" attitude on the part of the young people, the resulting boredom often leads to vandalism.

The energies of youthful trouble-makers can be turned from liabilities into assets once they realize that they are entrusted by God with talents that can help everybody.

Do all in your power to remind such students that they are both needed and wanted in improving both the little world of their schools and the bigger world into which they will soon go.

"Have we not all one Father? Hath not God created us?" (Malachias 2:10)

Promote in us, O God, a spirit of cooperation with our superiors and fellow workers.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

Many Presidents Wed Widows, Came From Very Big Families

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Here's another White House oddity: You are more likely to become president if you come from a large family.

Eighteen came from families of six or more. None was an only child. When you are born into a large family, you have to learn how to get along with people—the politician's art.

Prosperity note: Singer Brian Hyland owned one suit and one pair of shoes before he made his hit recording. Now he has 20 suits and 30 pairs of shoes.

The ladies are getting their hands on more money all the time. More than half of the 625,000 people employed by U. S. banks are women.

Our quotable quotes: "Most people," said John Erskine, "have some sort of a religion—at least they know which church they're staying away from."

A piano looks simple but it has 7,500 parts—more than an auto.

Salesmanship in signs: a shoe store advertises: "Shoes—$8.50 a foot" . . . a barber proclaims: "We need your head to run our business." A downtown pet shop announces: "Everything must go—lost our leash."

The power of the press: The U. S. newspaper industry gives jobs to more than 280,000 people—who earn better than a billion dollars a year.

The agile Indian: The world's fastest typist, S. N. Nikalee, a Hindu, can hit the typewriter keys accurately at a speed of 145.9 words a minute. How does he compare with the stenographers in your office?

20 YEARS AGO

The California Highway Patral opened a campaign against holders of 1927 and 1928 driver licenses who had not reported for re-examination. Licenses for these years had been cancelled but 1929 licenses, "good until revoked," were still accepted. No charge was being made for license renewals.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Liberty Strong Enough For Now

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

We often hear arguments along this line:

Traffic lights were not needed in Daniel Boone's environment, but are necessary today. Likewise, as other aspects of society become more complicated and congested, it is necessary for the government to regulate nearly all of our lives.

This line of reasoning overlooks the simple fact that traffic lights are on highway property and are for the conduct of highway business. If they shine through someone else's property, they should have an easement through that property. All businesses, public or private, have to make up their own internal rules and procedures.

Traffic lights point up the necessity for having specific property for specific uses and under specific management. The concept of specific property for specific use includes the concept of private property for private use.

In a broad sense an individual's private property is not only his possessions and real estate, if any, but also his body and his life. These specific pieces of property are for specific uses, mainly to help the individual develop himself. Therefore they should be managed by the individual who owns them.

Government should exist to prevent an individual or a group of individuals from committing the crime of attempting to regulate or otherwise interefere with the self-government of others.

As society becomes more developed it becomes more important for the government itself to be regulated and limited to specific functions. We should thoroughly understand and stick to the greatest self-regulation of government known to man: namely, parts of the United States Constitution.

Not in spite of the fact that the world is becoming more crowded, but precisely because the world is becoming more crowded.

Not in spite of the fact that people are more interdependent, but precisely because people are more interdependent.

Not in spite of, but precisely because, our economy is more technical, etc.

Liberty is not so pitifully weak that it is suited only to a primitive society. Liberty is strong. It enabled our wonderful civilization to develop in the first place and so logically is needed for its conservation and further progress.

Money You Lost In Election Bets Illegal, You Didn't Have To Pay

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Although someone has discovered an old law which prohibits betting on elections in California, it's a pretty fair supposition that a lot of money changed hands when the final votes were counted.

In 1939, the state legislature place a section in the elections code of the state which prohibits wagering on:

1. The result of any election.
2. The success or failure of any candidate.
3. The total number of votes to be cast or the total for any candidate.
4. The vote to be cast by any person.

REPORTEDLY, THE section is an outgrowth of a law which was in the penal code since 1872, when the legislature made it a misdemeanor to bet on an election.

It still is a misdemeanor, subject to a maximum fine of $500, or a year in county jail, if caught. (It was also a misdemeanor during the prohibition years to partake of moonshine.)

Be that as it may, if a person happened to have bet on an election, and lose the bet, after which he refused to pay up, the winner couldn't collect by going to court. This has been upheld by the State Supreme Court in a case rendered some years ago. So if any surreptitious bets are made outside the law, and the loser doesn't want to pay off, he can't suffer legally. Of course, he might lose face with his friends.

THIS CHECK into California's law resulted from the question of betting in Nevada, where bets on almost anything are usually accepted without question.

The State of Nevada has a similar law, enacted in 1919. Just why Nevada and California should single out elections as illegal betting fields, and let horse racing open in California and dozens of other things in Nevada, isn't explained anyplace.

But it may be the two sister states, Nevada wide-open, and California just partially open had some moral scruples about degrading an election to the point where balloting was the subject of wagering.

RECENTLY, A CITIZEN of California told the story of how he had wagered on the outcome of the current election, and how he was brought to time by his high-school age son.

"My son was somewhat shocked," he said, "when he found out I was betting on the election. He told me he didn't believe it was dignified to make a wager on who the next President of the United States would be!"

The young fellow had a good point.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

"Kampus Kutups":

1. "Tomorrow's Tom and Mary's wedding — so we bridesmaids are staying in this evening to give Mary a shower."

"That's not a bad idea. I guess we ushers will stay home and wash off Old Tom a little bit."

2. "Have you got a fast pick-up in your new car?"

"You idiot. That's my grandmother."

3. "I wonder who can be sending us this telegram?"

"It's Western Union. I recognize the stationery."

4. "Do you like bathing beauties?"

"I dunno. I never bathed any."

Prof. Outgo J. Schmirkase estimates that married women spend 29.6% of their time persuading their husbands that when they make a sudden right turn from a left lane, they are being merely careless and not what the driver behind calls them.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

A lot of people in Marin, and especially in San Anselmo, will remember young Bill Rayner, the exchange student from New Zealand who attended Sir Francis Drake High School in 1959.

Drake Counselor Frances Parks has received a letter from the New Zealander, back home and working in an office.

"Looking back now, two years afterwards," Bill writes, "the initial, rather false sense of fun and excitement has consolidated to a deep, inner satisfaction and understanding of American Field Service ideals. I now regard myself as having almost two nationalities, although in this time and age, nationality should not mean too much.

"To me, America is no longer a rich, slightly crazy country, full of crime and corruption, but is a second home, thought of in the full sense of the word."

THE NEW ZEALANDER remembers his two sets of "parents," Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Youngclaus of Fairfax and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Prather of San Geronimo, in whose homes he lived, "who would welcome me anytime I could make the trip back," and many friends.

"It was a wonderful experience to say the least, and I will forever be grateful to the AFS and the people of Marin who did so much in so many ways for," he writes.

Bill also reminisced about some of his fellow exchange students at Drake and "that cute little blonde who sat next to me, a typical homegrown Yank."

SPEAKING OF exchanges, students in freshman English at Redwood High are corresponding with students in Salisbury, Southern Rhodesia.

MRS. MARIE CLEMONS, third grade teacher at Greenbrae School, is still shaking over her son's narrow escape from injury recently.

The family lived at 3 Coleman Drive in San Rafael then. It was about 9:45 p.m. Mrs. Clemons was already in bed, and both her son Sansing and daughter, Dana Marie, were asleep. Suddenly an empty car crashed across the street into the Clemons house and Sansing's bedroom. It hit the bed and knocked it across the room.

Mrs. Clemons found her son in bed, uninjured, and part of the front end of the car inside the house through a hole two feet square. Dana Marie slept through it all.

A week later the family moved to 105 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo (they had planned to move anyway before the accident). Said Sansing to his sister: "You change beds with me. I had bad luck with this one."

SOMETIMES, ON a very few occasions, it's a handicap to be a woman reporter. But mostly, we've found, it's an advantage.

Take last week, for example.

We caught Perle Mesta, the famous "hostess with the mostest" as she was leaving station KTIM, popped a few questions at her as she dashed down the corridor, then followed her into the powder room while she primped for her next stop.

How did she stand all the dashing about and speech making?

"I'm an old campaigner," she laughed as she pinned on a corsage and sped off for another stop.

DAMNED EITHER WAY

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

The Algerian rebels hint from time to time that Red China and Soviet Russia may dispatch "volunteers" to aid the fight against the French. But most experts discount these reports. Things already are going too well in Algeria for World Communism.

Russia has sent at least one shipload of supplies to aid the rebels, but it knows that any large-scale participation by Russian of Chinese Communist troops could turn Algeria into a second Korea and perhaps touch off a world war. And the longer the fighting drags on the better the Kremlin's position becomes.

FRENCH EXPERTS do not discount the possibility the Communists may send in a handful of technicians to aid in such fields as communications, but the problem of logistics probably would defeat a large-scale Red move. Red China, for example, would have to move supplies half way around the world.

Chinese Communist leader Mao Tze-Tung himself appeared to have ruled out large-scale help. The Tunisian magazine "Afrique Action" quoted him as telling rebel leader Ferhat Abbas: "This is essentially the war of the Algerian people, and the Algerian people in this war must not county essentially on anybody but themselves."

MAO AND PREMIER Nikita Khrushchev know that continuation of the Algerian war must steadily weaken France, now pouring $1 billion a year into the seemingly endless fight. They know, also, that its continuation steadily damages both NATO and United States prestige in Africa.

Moscow has stepped up its propaganda broadcasts to North Africa and has hit the theme that the United States and its NATO allies were trying to perpetuate colonialism. It also blamed the Congo troubles on Belgium and linked the United States through its NATO ties.

The growing hostility to the United States became so pronounced early this month that huge anti-American demonstrations broke out in Tunis where a crowd of 30,000 shouted "Down with America" and "Down with NATO."

THE UNITED STATES position—its failure to denounce France, its ally, was having a major effect in both Tunisia and Morocco. Both have aligned themselves closely with the rebels, and each year of fighting pushes those countries closer politically to the Communist bloc, which is bidding for African support by calling itself the champion of Algerian independence.

The United States is in an increasingly difficult spot, damned if it does and damned if it doesn't. If it supports France, its NATO ally, it loses friendship among the new African nations and the Arab nations of the Middle East. If it aids the rebel cause it loses the friendship of France.

In the meantime the Algerian rebel cause appears to be growing stronger. Soviet recognition of the rebel government of "Premier" Abbas has added to his stature and may have prompted him recently to announce he was no longer willing to resume cease fire talks with the French government.

READY FOR NOVATO HIGH CORONATION

Jobless Increase Noted For October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment increased by 191,000 in October although the idle rate normally declines in the fall. Employment dropped by 277,000.

When the figures were released at the Labor Department, a government spokesman acknowledged in response to questions that the report could have been announced before Tuesday's election.

Some Democratic partisans had contended the administration was holding up an unfavorable employment report for political reasons.

Seymour Wolfbein, the Labor Department's manpower chief, said that the over-all employment-unemployment data was available around the first of every month.

But he said it was the usual procedure to hold up the figures until supplemental data was available.

The October report showed that unemployment rose by 191,000, increasing from 3,388,000 in September to 3,579,000. The idle figure usually declines by around 200,000 in October.

This contra-seasonal climb in unemployment sent the seasonally adjusted employed rate from 5.7 per cent in September to 6.4 per cent in October. This is the highest such rate of the idle in proportion to the total work force since December, 1958.

Employment declined from 67,767,000 to 67,490,000. October usually brings a seasonal increase of about 400,000 jobs.

The number of long-term unemployed, those idle 15 weeks or longer, rose to nearly one million.

Panel To Discuss Aid To Retarded

A panel of four specialists in vocational rehabilitation of young mentally retarded adults will discuss progress in Bay Area industry placement at an 8 p.m. meeting of Marin Aid to Retarded Children Monday at 10 High Street, San Rafael.

Services offered by the State will also be described by the group comprising Mrs. Will Connelly, secretary of Aid to Retarded Children, San Francisco; Dr. Nathan Nelson, workshop consultant for California Rehabilitation Service; Douglas Clark, chairman of a state pilot program for adult rehabilitation, and John Yetter, director of the Marin organization.

Marin Medal Of Honor Winner Closing Shop To Take Part In Veterans' Day

Vito Bertoldo, A 4-F, Talked His Way Into World War II Battle

By ELLEN BRY

Today he is the derby-wearing owner of Vito's Nursery at the highways 101-37 intersection. And tomorrow, Veteran's Day, he'll close shop to watch the parade and listen to the speeches from the reviewing stand at Hamilton Air Force as the only Medal of Honor winner in Marin.

Vito is a small and wiry 43 today, with hair beginning to gray. In 1942 he was a 4-F who could safely have fought the war on the home front.

But his younger brother got into the fight, so Vito talked his way into "limited service in the military police in the states, leaving coal mining and truck driving behind in Decatur, Ill.

He volunteered for the infantry "to do something more than just stand guard or do the cooking." He was a private first class with the 42nd (Rainbow) Division, walking through France in 1945 when he hit the town of Hatten and won "the medal."

The citation which goes with it tells the story of Vito Bertoldo, who stayed 48 hours at his post without relief "escaping death only by the slightest margin."

Vito was guarding a command post against the enemy, who had overrun the battalion's main line of resistance, the citation explains.

He left the protection of a building and set up a machine gun in the street, staying for almost 12 hours, driving back attacks while in full view of the enemy and under fire from 88-mm. guns and small arms.

He moved back to the building and set the machine gun on a table. Shell blasts from tanks only 75 yards away knocked him across the room. He returned to the machine gun.

VITO BERTOLDO
He remembers

Two enemy vehicles moved in, shielding infantry. Vito waited until the troops got down, leaned out the window and killed more than 20 Germans.

The command post was moved to another building. Vito stayed behind all night to cover.

In the morning he broke up an attack by a tank and 15 infantrymen.

The tank, with muzzle almost in the room, fired again, knocking him down, seriously wounding others. He returned to his gun. They evacuated the post in darkness, while Vito stayed behind to throw phosphorous grenades and break up another attack.

Another tank, less than 50 yards away, fired and knocked him down again. He returned to fight with his rifle.

He had a year of continuous fighting during his four years in the service, "walking all the way across Germany," helping to liberate Dachau: "We didn't realize—we thought it was just a prison camp."

He picked up a Bronze Star and an Oak Leaf Cluster for it, in addition to the Medal.

Vito doesn't think people have forgotten the war, although they don't talk about it much, any more.

"We that actually were in the battles—I don't think we'll ever forget it."

Vito was awarded the Bronze Star after returning 12 to 14 kilometers to pick up a wounded buddy, as the men moved out from the encircling Germans at Hatten. "It was snowin,'" he recalls.

He won the French Croix de Guerre with Silver Star and the Oak Leaf Cluster for the Bronze Star, but "I forget exactly what it was that they gave me those for."

His Congressional medal action also won him the Purple Heart. Six weeks in Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D.C., President Harry Truman awarded the medal, with its wide blue ribbon.

Vito got out of the Army and worked for the Veterans Administration for awhile. He met his wife, Mae, while working there. He later returned to landscaping, something he'd known as a youth. He opened Vito's Nursery last year but is closing it now to concentrate on landscaping.

U.N. Troops Advance On Congo Tribesmen

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP)—United Nations soldiers advanced from three sides today on a tribe of fanatic savages suspected of having killed nine Irish soldiers in a north Katanga ambush Tuesday.

The mutilated bodies of five of the ambush victims were found yesterday by an Irish search party. A U.N. spokesman said they could not be identified. Four other men are missing and presumed dead.

Two members of the 11-man patrol survived the ambush without injuries, but were too shocked to give any immediate information, the spokesman said.

The ambush was at first believed to have been staged by members of the Baluba youth movement, supporters of ex-Premier Patrice Lumumba and violently hostile to Katanga's secessionist premier, Moise Tshombe.

Later information raised a suspicion that the attackers may belong to the fanatic Kikiwat tribe, outlawed to the remote and desolate area many years ago by the Belgian colonial administration.

The Kikiwats were converted into Jehovah's Witnesses by American missionaries during the 19th Century. They interpreted their new belief as requiring the killing of non-believers.

Redwood's Giants, unbeaten in two league seasons, can pick up all the marbles tomorrow afternoon if they defeat the Drake Pirates in their 2 o'clock battle at Kentfield. Redwood already has clinched at least a tie for the title with its 4-0 record.

Should Drake upset the Giants tomorrow then the winner of tomorrow night's Tamalpais-Novato contest, each with a 3-1 record, would tie for the honors. Tam-Novato also meet at Kentfield.

The final weekend gets started early with San Rafael and Marin Catholic clashing tonight at San Rafael, 8 o'clock. San Rafael (1-3) and Marin (0-4) fought to a thrilling 12-12 tie in a practice game earlier in the season.

Here's a roundup of this week's activities:

SAN RAFAEL will tackle scrappy Marin Catholic tonight at San Rafael stadium in which the senior players, as in most of this week's game, will be going all out for that last high school game.

The Bulldogs' wingback, Alan Finley, suffered a sprained ankle last week against Novato and will only be in for a limited amount of time, said Head Coach Dick Read. Junior fullback Bob Mile, who tore through Novato's middle line last week for one of the Bulldogs' two touchdowns, will take over Ron Melton's spot while the first string fullback will fill in for Finley at wingback.

Halfback Gary Ledson, plagued with injuries this season, will be back for full time action. Last week he got in on only two plays.

"Marin Catholic is a very aggressive club and it will be a real good and close ball game," said Read.

MARIN CATHOLIC'S Wildcats, who've lost their last three league games by a total of only 13 points, hope to generate an offense against the Bulldogs. In four league games the Wildcats have scored only 26 points.

Expected to give the Bulldogs a rough time of it all evening are the Wildcats' great stars, guard Tony Giusti and fullback Jerry Crowe. As linebackers they have won praise from friends and foes alike. Crowe is a jack-of-all-trades on offense and rated one of the best backs in the league.

NEITHER REDWOOD nor Drake suffered any injuries in their last games or in practice so far this week and will go at each other in a healthful manner. The big game will be broadcast by radio KTIM.

The giant of the Giants, six-foot-four, 235-pound Ben Chollar will be in most of the combat, alternating at the fullback position with Ned Griffith. This will probably not be good news to Drake which has had trouble setting the cement in the middle of its line.

Drake's head man, Bob Franceschini, said the Pirates have been working this week to strengthen their defensive game.

Fans may be treated to some real aerial exhibits because Giant Coach Bob Troppmann said his club has continued to concentrate on its passing combinations. At the same time Franceschini expressed hope that Pirate quarterback Sam Johnson is "hot so that ends Gary

Novato's 'Toe' Named Marin Prep Of Week

Novato High School's "big toe" has been selected Marin County Athletic League's "Prep of the Week" by the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM selection committee, it was announced this morning.

The "toe" is tackle John Cook whose two placements last week carried the Hornets to a 14-13 victory over San Rafael and kept Novato's championship hopes alive.

Besides his crucial kicks, Cook played a starring role both offensively and defensively. The 5-11, 205 tackle is only a junior and more great things are expected of him next year, Coach Marlin Olsen said.

Cook is one of the best high school place kickers Marin has seen in recent years. In 15 tries this season he has made 11 conversions, and two of those missed were blocked.

In league play he has made seven and missed only two, which were blocked by Marin Catholic.

He will receive a beautiful "Prep of the Week" certificate. Cook is the 10th star to be honored by the I-J and KTIM this season and the fifth lineman.

TRAINING

Cal Cagers Have Their Ups, Downs

BERKELEY (AP) — Those fellows running up and down hills around here on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons aren't cross country runners. They're trying out for California's basketball team.

They have a new coach, Rene Herrerias but an old hill — named in honor of Pete Newell who stepped up to athletic director.

"Of one thing I am sure," declared Herrerias who aided Pete in past seasons. "There's just nothing else that can match 'Newell hill' for building solid legs and stout lungs. The confidence that comes with this kind of conditioning and the esprit that running together gives our squad just can't be beat."

Newell's rigid conditioning program helped with two of the school's greatest squads, the 1958-59 NCAA champion and last year's runnerup. Pete wound up his basketball coaching with the U.S. Olympic team that won gold medals at Rome.

Herrerias seems more enthusiastic about the cross country conditioning than was Newell. The runs extend from 4½ to 6½ miles, paced by a member of the track squad.

Herrerias figures the rugged workouts determine who really wants to play basketball. The large initial turnout for practice cuts itself automatically.

And when the season starts, California can be sure its players won't suffer from game fatigue.

Raiders To Stay In Kezar Now, But May Move In '61

Earlier in the week, the club's eight-man board decided it was too late to move their final home games from San Francisco across the bay this year, but again vowed that they would find some eastbay arena next year.

Pacific High in San Leandro was considered the most likely site, although additional stands would have to be installed by Oakland.

Further proof that rumors of a Raider franchise shift were unfounded came when the league announced that all eight teams in the league would be back at the same old stand next season.

Muir Woods Meeting

The Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. will meet at 8 p.m., tomorrow in place of its regular meeting date on the third Friday of the month, according to secretary Margaret Hardy. Raising of annual dues from $3 per person to $6 per person is one matter on the agenda.

Golfers Hail New Marin Course; DeMaestri May Stay With Yanks

Golfers who have tested the brand new Marin Bay course on San Rafael's San Pedro Road are excited about the newest Marin recreation development.

Located in beautiful country, the course features plenty of hazards and traps and demands accuracy. Former Yankee pitcher Artie Schallock and his wife, Donna, were among the first to play Marin Bay last Saturday and Artie will attest to its accuracy requirements. "My wife," said Artie, "beat me!"

Only nine holes are playable now, but the back nine will be completed for next spring. The course is now open to the public, but eventually will switch to private membership.

JOE DE MAESTRI is still mum on his future in baseball and says any announcements will have to come from his employers, the Yankees. At the end of the season Joe hinted he may retire, but recent discussions with the Yanks might possibly have changed his mind.

TWO VERY outstanding young San Rafael tennis players have enough money to travel to St. Louis this month to compete in the National Indoor Championships.

Getting there has been assured; getting them back home, however, is another problem. The San Rafael Elks have donated enough money for one-way transportation to St. Louis for Steve Stockton and Harvey Klyce. But their parents say the boys are still shy about $200 to complete the trip.

Where the money comes from is a puzzle, and the boys, their parents and friends hope to raise it soon because the deadline for entry in the nationals over Thanksgiving is very near.

Steve, a transplanted easterner, and Klyce are top players on San Rafael High's tennis team. Observers feel they have excellent chances at the nationals—both individually and as a doubles team. They're both 14 years of age.

SPORTS COLUMNIST John Watson of the San Quentin News: "And speaking of Mr. Stoneham, owner (and manager) of the Giants, this corner feels sure that his team will stay in Japan as long as the baseball fans over there have a yen for him."

I keep hoping that the S. Q. News will start a wrestling column and title it: "No Holds Barred."

COUNCILMAN Dan Allen of Larkspur has a unique distinction to his credit: He played for both the East and the West in the Shrine All-Star grid games years ago.

One year he was selected from Yale to play for the East; the following year he came to the Bay Area to play for the Olympic Club and was selected again for the Shrine game, this time for the West.

PROS—Buffalo over Oakland by 7; and the 49ers definitely will not lose this week, thanks to an open date.

COLLEGES — Washington over Cal by 20, Oregon State over Stanford by 21, Baylor over U.S.C. by 8, U.C.L.A. over Air Force by 14, Utah State over College of Pacific by 7, San Jose State over Fresno State by 6, Oregon over West Virginia by 7, Washington State over Idaho by 22.

HIGH SCHOOLS — Redwood over Drake by 7, San Rafael over Marin Catholic by 1, Novato over Tamalpais by 2.

COLLEGE GRID scouts are drooling over the ability of Drake High's fullback Scott Moriarty and hope he selects their school to further his education—and football playing.

A look at Drake's records show the scouts have very good reason to cast hopeful eyes on the big, strong runner. He has scored 7 of Drake's 21 touchdowns, leads league runners in rushing with more than 850 yards, including 160 against Tamalpais last week, and is ranked high among northern California runners.

Scott is a favorite of Drake fans because he is the work horse of the go-go-go school of rugged football. Give him the slightest hole in the line and he'll supply the power.

Schools Planning 'Golf Workshop'

A "golf program" for a workshop of the California Assn. for Health, Physical Education and Recreation from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday will be conducted for teachers, administrators and families of secondary and elementary schools at Rickey's Rancho Rafael and the Las Gallinas Golf Course.

Sponsors include the office of the Marin County Superintendent of Schools, the San Rafael City Schools, the Tamalpais Union High School District and the Novato Unified School District, with golf organizations.

Homers Pace Giants To 4-1 Victory

HIROSHIMA, Japan (AP)—Back-to-school home runs by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda in the fourth inning helped the San Francisco baseball Giants defeat the Japanese All-Stars 4-1 today.

It was the Giants' 10th win against three losses and one tie in their 16-game goodwill tour which ends Sunday.

After three scoreless innings, Mays started the Giants rolling in the top of the fourth when he hoisted his No. 7 circuit wallop into the leftfield stand. Cepeda followed with another solo blow into center—to put the Giants into a 2-0 lead.

It was also a good day for both sluggers. Mays got three hits in three official trips and Cepeda had three for four. But the National Leaguers were outhit by the Japanese All-Stars 7 to 10.

RALLIES FAIL

The Japanese missed two big chances to overtake the visitors when they loaded the bases both times with one out. In the sixth the Japanese filled the bases on two successive singles and an error but Giants' starter Sad Sam Jones struck out the next batter and forced the third to ground to second baseman Don Blasingame to retire the side.

The Japanese again filled the bases in the eighth when reliefer Stu Miller allowed two straight base hits and walked the next with one out. Miller got himself out of the jam by inducing the next batter to pop, fly and the final hitter to ground out.

Former Giant Heroes Jansen, Lockman Return As Coaches

Alvin Dark made his first decisions as manager of the San Francisco Giants yesterday. He hired two former teammates as coaches.

Dark, signed last week, selected Larry Jansen and Whitey Lockman and retained Wes Westrum and Salty Parker for his coaching staff. Bill Posedel was released to make way for Jansen as boss of the bullpen.

Dark, Lockman, Jansen and Westrum were all key figures for the Giants that October day in 1951 when Bobby Thomson's home run beat the Brooklyn Dodgers in a National League playoff and gave the Giants their first pennant in 14 years.

Dark, Jansen and Lockman—stars when they played for the Giants—have a lot in common. They all have reputations as gentlemen, quiet craftsmen who let their feats on the field speak for them.

Dark hit .322 in his rookie season with the Boston Braves and was named Rookie of the Year 1948 by the major league baseball writers.

As a lean, smiling youngster of 18, Lockman stepped into Mel Ott's No. 3 batting spot in mid-summer of 1945 and rapped a home run the first time he faced a major league pitcher.

Jansen's big league debut was one of the most heartwarming ever. It took the big right-hander seven years to get his first crack at the majors. When it finally came, after a 30-6 season with San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League, Jansen ran into dismal luck.

Pitching against Cleveland in a spring exhibition game, Jansen was struck by a line drive hit by Bob Feller and suffered a fractured jaw. Larry missed the first six weeks of the 1947 season.

He finally got his chance on May 30, pitched and won his first Giant game and went on to a 21-5 record, best in the major leagues that season.

We believe that the vast majority of car buyers are intelligent individuals who resent being taken for fools. When they read the blatant ads that promise new cars "at cost" and at ridiculous prices stripped of excise taxes, freight and basic equipment, they are, indeed, being fooled.

Frankly, we can't and don't sell our cars at cost because we are in business for profit. But, we are a profitable concern because we sell in volume with very low unit markups.

If you are seriously interested in a new Ford or Falcon or a quality used car, you cannot buy it for less than right here at Ames Ford Sales. We refuse to insult your intelligence with phony "cost" claims and unrealistic prices. Smart people know you can't get something for nothing.

Gratifying To See Hickey Shift Blame To Offensive Backfield

HANLEY

"In the dressing room after the game I said our primary breakdown was in offensive line blocking but after watching the films I found it was more of a breakdown in the offensive backfield," Hickey acknowledged.

This was personally gratifying because we have been contending all along that the basic flaw in the 49er attack this year is lack of outside speed. All other NFL teams know the 49er backfield as now constituted does not have one man who can turn the corner for a breakaway run even when given effective blocking. So they have concentrated on the middle, ignoring the threat of any outside stuff.

It is to Hickey's credit that he corrected the first impression he created by his statement "It doesn't matter who is in the backfield when you are getting licked at the line of scrimmage." If he hadn't corrected it, 49er team morale, already down as a result of the 3-4 record, might have dipped to an irretrievable low. Both Hickey and his players know what the basic team weakness is, just as other NFL teams have cased it.

FOOTBALL FANS who have been watching the 49ers since early season were hopeful that Hugh McElhenny might recapture some of his old outside speed. Now, they are fairly well convinced that Mac is bowing to age as all great athletes must.

The average fan, without film corroboration of his immediate judgment as to why one play clicks and another fails, may hesitate to give a firm opinion on an inside shot —but not outside stuff which he can see better from his seat in the stands than even a coach on the sideline.

INCIDENTALLY, the films used by coaches to correct or corroborate their first impressions are not the same as those shown on TV a couple of days after each game. Films taken for TV seldom show all 22 players but those taken for coaches show every player and official on the field on every play.

Furthermore, they are shot in semi-slow motion, 32 frames a second as against normal 24 frame speed. And to insure that every player is clearly shown in every play, an anamorphic lens is used. This lens acts like an accordion in compressing the wide field of action onto the narrow film.

Then, a cinemascope projector lens plays a reverse role, like an accordion being extended instead of compressed. Without this gimmick, a coach would be lost in trying to reconstruct precisely what did happen during a game.

JUST LIKE everyone else at a football game, a coach has ability to see only a segment of each play—and he normally watches the ball carrier just like everyone else. Football is a complicated game because of the number of men involved but it quickly bcomes uncomplicated in slow-motion and before those anamorphic and cinemascope gadgets.

Final Games This Weekend

"We will be running against a fine line in Redwood and may meet our match in their tackle, Mike Hoffman," said Franceschini.

"The boys have been waiting all year to play this one . . . they are confident in their ability, but it will be a real ball game and could go either way depending on the breaks," Franceschini said.

Redwood's student body has been waiting for Friday's big one, said Coach Troppmann. He said his players are not cocky about the game at all, but "they are positive thinking athletes and determined to win the whole thing and don't want to share it with anyone."

"Too many critics feel we have been just lucky this season; we want to discredit this attitude by exhibiting a real fine game," added Troppman.

"Regardless of the record this particular game will be like a Stanford-Cal game, with the chances of it going either way," Troppmann said.

"The players are a bit weary at the end of the season . . . they have been putting out pretty hard all year," said the Indian coach. "If we fumble as much and fail to play any better than we did against Drake we will lose Friday night," added Hanretty.

"Novato has a real good line, one of the better in the league. Their backs are not as fast as ours, but they are strong—it's a solid ball club which can shove its way around the field and get away with it. Even though they have been hurt by injuries it will be a real tough game," Hanretty said.

Although Tam suffered no major injuries last week Warren Domino, one of the Indian tricky running backs, failed to make practice Tuesday due to a sore back and will undergo a medical examination this week. Whether he will be fit for Friday's action was not yet decided. Indian Pete Hanley, benched last week with a case of the flu, may not get into the strife this week either.

Although Hanretty did not feel assured of Friday's results he said he was "pleased with the team's performance for the season as a whole and that the boys have shown a real fighting attitude when they were behind."

"This team has been the best one at Tam for this kind of an attitude and I am confident they will finish Friday the way they have been extending themselves all season," said Hanretty.

NOVATO WILL go into the game healthier than any previous contests during which injuries have plagued the Hornets. However, Coach Marlin Olsen said second string end Harry Cassidy suffered a cracked arm in practice this week and will miss the final game.

Olsen said his squad would be at Kentfield tomorrow afternoon to cheer for a Drake victory. "We'll be Drake's biggest fans," he said, still clinging to the hope of a co-championship.

MARIN GIRL FUTURE CHAMP

Tabbed as a possible future champion by her instructor, Michele O'Bid of San Anselmo is pictured practicing for entry in the Northern California Figure Ice Skating championships Dec. 5-6 in Berkeley. A dedicated and tireless worker, the 11-year-old Michele "is the most promising skater and future champion I have seen in seven years here," said Ray Schram of Raydine Ice Skating Studio in San Anselmo. He added, "She works hard, maintains a high interest and has the talent to become a champion." Miss O'Bid recently passed her second test in a series of eight required by the U.S. Figure Skating Assn. for gold medalist honors. Next January Miss O'Bid may enter the Pacific Coast Championships in Los Angeles. She has been skating three and one-half years. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward V. O'Bid is a seventh grade student at Brookside School. (George Wheeler photo)

KIDS FOOTBALL AT KENTFIELD

Pop Warner Champs Battle All-Stars Saturday Night

First annual Marin Boys' Club All-Star football game will be launched under the lights at Kentfield Stadium Saturday between the Marin Pop Warner League champions, the Redwood Junior Giants, and the Marin Boys' Club All-Star team.

In the past the All-Star club has met the Sonoma All-Stars, but this year the outstanding players of the league will meet the two-time champion Junior Giants.

More than 2,000 fans, including parents of the 13-14 year old players, are expected to attend the clash between these two superior young teams.

Redwood Coach John Pagliaro, also a Larkspur fireman, will run a single wing against the All-Stars, coached by John McCarthy, Independent-Journal dealer.

"We have the team spirit, the will to win, and with a good team effort we will come out on top," said Pagliaro.

The All-Stars, made up of the best players from the San Rafael Rangers, Mill Valley Bulldogs, and the Fairfax-San Anselmo Hornets, will use a short punt formation, said Coach McCarthy.

"The boys ought to have run more plays together, but we have been handicapped by the rain and have had only four practices together," said the All-Star mentor.

"It will be a good fight . . . these boys have all played each other during league play and their spirits will be high," he added.

Kick off time Saturday will be at 8 p.m.

PIN TOURNAMENT

Women Bowlers Help Veterans Hospitals

Marin County Women's Bowling Assn. yesterday reminded members that this is their Bowlers Victory Legion Classic Tournament month and urged 100 per cent participation.

The tournament, an annual attraction, is sponsored for the benefit of purchasing sporting and recreation equipment for veterans hospitals.

JEAN BRIXON of Larkspur has upped her average from 108 to 117 and gives us a fascinating explanation for the improvement, to wit: "Last winter when I was pregnant I found it easier to bowl taking three steps. But today I changed back to four steps, and look what it has done for my bowling! I was ready to quit bowling with such a low average every week, but this changes everything."

Expectant mothers, please note.

The sixth week action of the North Bay Junior Travel League produced a complete reshuffle of the standings. The Country Club Bowl of San Rafael moved into a tie for the number one slot by scoring a crucial 3 to 0 win over the highly touted Nave Lanes. Ralph Garner, 12, turned on the steam and rocketed a 203 single and 535 series to vanguard the winners. Despite the loss, Rich Lazzarini shot beautifully for the losers, exploding for an envious 200 single and 553 series.

The Rose Bowl stunned Hamilton Lanes 3 to 0 and also moved up to share the top rung. For the winners, Greg Stras powered home a solid 213 single and 568 series to cop the weekly individual scoring laurels.

The Holiday Bowl, leaders from the offset, was dramatically upended 2 to 1 by Marin Bowl in a squeaker, losing the second and third games by 21 and 9 pins, respectively.

TEAM STANDINGS

Country Club Bowl	12-6
Rose Bowl (Santa Rosa)	12-6
Holiday Bowl (Santa Rosa)	11-7
Boulevard Bowl (Petaluma)	11-7
Marin Bowl (San Rafael)	10-8
Greenbrae Lanes	10-8
Nave Lanes	9-9
Hamilton Lanes	6-12
Kentwig Lanes (Vallejo)	5-13
L&L Lanes (Sebastopol)	4-14

HERM SALKIN fired a 580 including a beautiful 253 in the 850 Scratch at Greenbrae and followed it up with a 559 in the Koch of California League. Other Koch leaders were Shirley Endy with 497 and Dot Tuttleman with 460.

Warner Kids To Receive Grid Awards

Outstanding players in the Marin Boys Club's Pop Warner Conference football program will be honored tonight on the stage of the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

At the 9 o'clock break in the regular movie schedule awards will be made to the Redwood Junior Giants, champions of the league, and members of the league's All-Star selections.

Ames Ford Co. of San Rafael will present a championship trophy to the Redwood team. Each player for Redwood and the All-Stars will collect individual awards.

All players in the Boys Club are invited to the ceremonies as guests of the theater.

Also scheduled to make appearances are Joe DeMaestri, infielder of the New York Yankees, former Yankee pitcher Art Schallock, and former East-West football star, Councilman Dan Allen of Larkspur.

Maris Shades Mantle For American Loop MVP Award

Maris, who helped the Yankees into their 10th pennant in 13 years by leading the league in runs batted in, squeezed through the winner over teammate Mickey Mantle yesterday, polling 225 points to Mantle's 222. Brooks Robinson, Baltimore's fine young third baseman, finished a close third with 211 points in balloting by the nation's baseball writers.

The only closer finish in 30 years of voting by the writers was in 1947 when Joe Di Maggio of the Yankees nipped Boston's Ted Williams by one vote, 202 to 201. This year was the first time that three players ever received 200 or more points.

Maris compiled a .283 batting average while topping the loop in RBIs and trailing league leader Mantle by one in home runs—39 to 40. It was Roger's torrid bat over the first half of the season, plus Mantle's hitting over the second half, that lifted the Yanks into the pennant despite their mediocre pitching.

"I thought it was possible but I wasn't expecting to win it," said a surprised Maris from his Raytown, Mo., home. "This certainly is a happy feeling. Every player in the American League likes to win this at least once before he retires. It's the greatest award that comes out of the league."

Oregon State Alumni Rally, Dance Tomorrow

OSC Coach Tommy Prothro, the rally squad and officers of the college will participate in the pre-OSC-Stanford game festivities.

The rally will start at 8 o'clock tomorrow night and a good portion of the 2,400 OSC alumni in the Bay Area are expected to attend.

Beverage License Fee Money Distributed

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state department of alcoholic beverage control announced Marin County has received $39,355 as its share of alcoholic beverage license fees and fines for the six-month period, March 1-Aug. 31.

This included $10,579 for the unincorporated area of the county and $360 for Belvedere, $910 for Corte Madera, $3,529 for Fairfax, $1,684 for Larkspur, $3,414 for Mill Valley, $360 for Ross, $4,117 for San Anselmo, $9,031 for San Rafael, $2,935 for Sausalito and $2,430 for Novato.

Color Ski Films Tomorrow Night

"Ski West, Young Man," a full-length feature color film, will be presented tomorrow night at San Rafael High School Auditorium by the Marin Ski Club.

Proceeds from ticket sales (at $1.25 each) will go to help finance the club's new Sierra ski cabin, which the group hopes to have finished for the 1961-62 ski season.

"Ski West, Young Man," produced by Dick Barrymore, shows a dozen world-famous skiers in action at Squaw Valley, Mammoth, Aspen (Colo.), Alta, and Sun Valley. Show time is 8 p.m.

MacKay Leads U.S. Tennis Team

SYDNEY (AP)—Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, led the United States Davis Cup team into the second round of the New South Wales Tennis Championships today.

MacKay, No. 1 overseas seed, beat John Souter, New Zealand, 6-2, 6-0, 6-4.

Chuck McKinley of St. Louis beat John Cottrill, Sydney, 6-0, 6-2, 6-2, and Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., knocked out Richard Hawkes, New Zealand, 6-0, 6-4, 4-6, 6-2.

SPOT BOWLING

(Last in a series on Spot Bowling, written for AP Newsfeatures by All-American bowler Dick Weber.)

There has been a gradual transition going on in bowling over the last 15 years, although some bowlers may not be fully aware of it. Until just after World War II, the best bowlers rolled a wide-breaking curve ball. They were able to control it on the relatively soft shellac-finished lanes and it was a beautiful thing to behold.

The curve ball is thrown with a pronounced counter-clockwise wrist turn that puts a great deal of spin on the ball. This spin "bit" into the lane surface and produced a ball that broke across as many as 20 boards on its path to the pins.

However, with the introduction and popularity of the easier-to-maintain but harder lacquer finish, bowlers found that the big rainbow curve would slam into the pocket one time and then skid in erratic directions on the next roll of the ball.

With the exception of a few veterans who found it difficult to make the change, all bowlers today must roll a small, sharp-breaking hook ball that covers only 5 to 8 boards to maintain consistently high averages in tournament and league play. The hook makes more and faster revolutions than the curve and is highly effective in the pin area.

It is rolled without any wrist turn at the point of release. The ball is gripped in the standard "handshake" position and released with the thumb coming out just before the fingers let go. The fingers apply side-spin to the ball which travels two-thirds of the way toward the pins in a straight line. Then it breaks to the left and into the 1-3 pocket.

The game of bowling has changed as the equipment and conditions in it have been altered. The old-timers maintain that theirs was the better game, but records continue to be broken every season, giving credence to the fact that the top-notch bowlers of today are performing at least as well as the stars of yesterday.

'Big Game' Parade Planned By Tam

Tamalpais High School students will hold a "big game" parade starting at 4 p.m., tomorrow, from Lytton Square in Mill Valley to the campus, to build up spirit for their football game with Novato at 8 p.m. at College of Marin in Kentfield.

The school band will play and majorettes will do their routines in the square prior to the 15-car parade, which will be escorted by Mill Valley police.

Raiders' Tickets To Sell For $2.50

General admission seats to the Oakland Raiders-Buffalo Bills football game at Kezar Stadium in San Francisco Sunday will be sold for $2.50. Children 12 and under, when accompanied by an adult, will be admitted for 50 cents.

Seats in the west end zone have been taken off the reserve list and are now being sold as $2.50 general admission seats. The east fenced-in end zone seats are still being sold for $2.50.

Charlie Powell May Miss Raider Contest

OAKLAND (AP)—Oakland will probably play Sunday's pro football game at Kezar Stadium against the Buffalo Bills minus Raider defensive end Charlie Powell.

Powell suffered bruised ribs in the Boston Patriot encounter last week. But offensive guard Wayne Hawkins and defensive tackle Ramon Armstrong should be back in action. Hawkins hurt an arm and Armstrong has been ill.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

An oldtime fishing pal, Jimmy Harkness, called to bemoan the fact he had squatted in a skiff for six hours only to land one keeper bass of around six pounds. Two other anglers, Herbert and Lucille Green of Lawton Avenue, Oakland, just returned from a full week's fishing at the Smith River. The first day, Lucille hooked and landed a chub salmon of around five pounds. That was the sum total of the entire week. Yet, when we offered our sympathy to those good people, they assured us they had thoroughly enjoyed every minute of the trip . . . "Always do, whether we catch fish or not!" insisted Herb.

Don't get the idea from Jimmy's lament, though, that the local striper striving is fruitless. Quite the contrary. Some really fine results have been had the past few days in a wide range of locale.

ON MONDAY, four men in a boat fished BEHIND Buoy 9 in the upper San Pablo Bay and took four fine limits of bass to 12 pounds. About every skiff fishing that area (8-14 feet of water) has limited out on Sunday, Monday, and up until noon on Tuesday (our last check).

Frank Quan of China Camp reported good fishing straight out from his place near the radar marker. Fish running to eight and nine pounds. On Monday, Tom Wetton, Al Mesick and Jim Coglan came in with limits each to nine pounds. The trio told of losing many fish because of "short strikes." They got their fish on sliding sinkers and rather small hooks.

THE HARBOR ROCKET netted 35 stripers to eight pounds in the Red Rock sector. The action in the Racoon Strait slowed down a great deal the past day or so, which makes us believe the fish have started upstream in earnest.

Joe Nerviani reported good action on the Shell Banks out of his place at Santa Venetia Slough on Sunday, with Joe Casilli of Fairfax taking an easy limit to 12 pounds but no fish were caught in that area on Monday. Joe also reported the "never-miss" McGowans taking their limits to six pounds off China Camp.

The lads who have been working the lower Suisun Bay have been doing right well. Bass to six and eight pounds in limit quantities have been the rule. One chap, Joe Baiocchi, who used bullheads for bait almost exclusively, fished the Montezuma Slough two Sundays running, accounted for a 37-pound striper once and a 31-pound bass on the second trip.

IN THE McAvoy region fishing has been good also. Charlie Souza and Lou Zevanove took limits to eight pounds.

Out of Nelson's Resort on the lower Napa, a goodly number of bass, mostly large mediums with an occasional monster, came in on both Sunday and Monday.

Hundreds of boats, skiffs and cruisers fished the Sacramento between Emmaton and the Rio Vista Bridge on Sunday and hundreds of nice bass (mediums) were taken.

Ski Season Opens At Tahoe Friday

Up to three feet of good snow was reported in the resort's upper bowl. A new $250,000 chair lift will be put into operation for the first time.

Hamilton Hosts USF Grid Team Saturday

USF's low-pressure football team will have a chance to come up with a .500 season Saturday when it meets Hamilton Air Force Base, 2 p.m. at Hamilton Field. The game will be the last of the year for the Dons who have a one won two lost and one tie record in their other four games so far this season.

The Hamilton team has a 6-3 record to date. Among their victims have been the Cal Ramblers (37-20) and the College of Idaho (27-7).

The Hamilton team relies on 15 veterans who returned from the 1959 squad and former Arizona All-American "Skip" Corley, a fine passing quarterback.

The Dons, who defeated San Benito College 14-8 last week, emphasize running. Their big guns on the ground have been quarterback John Sterling, halfback John McCauley and fullback Ed Di Antoni. USF's passing attack this season has been unimpressive.

Padre Manager Stays

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Jimmy Reese, who had coached San Diego's Pacific Coast League baseball club for the past 13 years, today signed a two-year contract as manager of the Padres.

Wilt Tallies 46 In Warriors' Win

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Los Angeles Lakers couldn't put the damper on Wilt Chamberlain and The Stilt scored 46 points as the Philadelphia Warriors scored a 125-118 victory last night.

It was the first game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader. St. Louis beat the Detroit Pistons 126-120 in the other game.

Elgin Baylor scored 40 points for the Lakers on 14 field goals and 12 free throws in as many tries, but Chamberlain set a new season record for an individual with 20 field goals and six free throws of 16 attempts.

Family Service League Prepares For Opening Yule Gift Gallery

Bright blue felt aprons with the Family Service League's "Organization Woman's" applique' will distinguish the staff members from the visitors at next week's Gallery of Gifts-to-order-for-Christmas which opens to the public free of charge Friday, Nov. 18 from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday's hours are the same and on Sunday the display will be open from 11:30 to 5 p.m.

The Frances Young Gallery at the Marin Art and Garden Center will be sparkling with background and motif decorations in colors of bright blue and green, and including several huge handmade ornaments loaned by a local felt shop which also donated the aprons.

Leading Marin merchants have purchased display space for their most unique gift items which run the gamut from toddlers' shoes in calico, corduroy, or velveteen for the zwieback crowd, to handmade cone-shaped fruit trees, or pod or ball trees to enhance the home of the "woman who has everything."

In addition to gift items there will be two original designs in Christmas cards, both benefiting local community institutions. George Lichty, of "Grin and Bear It" fame, has designed a family Christmas scene with his usual humor, for the benefit of the Family Service Agency of Marin. Si Duhilfo, artist with the Bechtel Company, has designed a card for the Marin General Hospital Auxiliary, who will display it at the Gift Gallery to benefit the Marin General Hospital.

Those League members who have done the groundwork of getting contracts include Mesdames John Munson, Louis O. Britt, Barry Brennan, Louis Van Vliet, Herbert Hanson, Theo. Olsen, Alan Littman, William Searles, Ralph Cole and Enoch Callaway III. Mrs. Horace Henderson is in charge of tagging.

Mrs. John Barrie, Jr. of 40 Westwood Drive, Kentfield, is now taking reservations for the Champagne Preview on opening night, Nov. 17, from 6 to 9 p.m.

The Family Service League is a county-wide educational and service group which was formed to aid the Family Service Agency of Marin. The League has units in the Ross Valley, Mill Valley, Strawberry, Belvedere-Tiburon, and new groups in Novato and Sausalito. The Family Service Agency is a private, non-profit, professional family counseling service. It is a member of the United Bay Area Crusade and a project of the Junior League of San Francisco, Inc.

St. Hilary's Club

Guy Roop, A.I.D., director of design at a San Francisco store will be the speaker at the next meeting of St. Hilary's Women's Club according to Mrs. Francis Ryan, president. The meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 15 at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Mettalia, 100 Avenida Mira Flores, Del Mar Estates.

Roop will discuss the coordinating of color schemes and carpet fabrics as well as national trends in decorating.

Hostesses for the evening will be members from the Paradise Drive area.

Yolansdale P-TA Hears Kaye Hunt

Kaye Hunt, director of the Marin County YWCA was the guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Yolansdale Parent Teacher Association.

Miss Hunt described the background of the YWCA in Marin County and the aims of the National "Y." She enumerated the many classes available to both men and women, and the areas in which each class is available. She said that while the majority of classes are geared for the enjoyment of women, there are several classes such as bridge and ball room dancing where male attendance is a prerequisite. Many of the Yolandsdale P-TA members expressed an interest in joining into YWCA activities, and Miss Hunt said that although there are classes in progress at the present, because of the coming holidays, the next enrollment would be right after the first of the year.

Yolandsale P-TA sponsors San Anselmo Cub Pack 15, and they have purchased new 50-star flags for each den as well as for the pack. These new flags will be presented officially to the Cubs at their next pack meeting.

Plans were announced for the Christmas meeting. Each member will bring her favorite dessert and the recipe to the December meeting where the food will be served as dessert, and the recipes will be sold. "Christmas Goodies from Native lands" will be the theme for the evening.

Juvenile Officer Chester Orr, of the San Anselmo Police Department presented an interpretation of the new Bicycle Licensing Law which is soon to be enforced in San Anselmo, after which he answered the questions presented by the mothers about the new law.

'Puss In Boots' Cast Announced

"Puss in Boots" has been chosen as the play which the Belvedere-Tiburon unit of the Junior Theater will present on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 2 and 3 in the auditorium of the Bel Aire school according to Mrs. Walter Conner, president.

The play will be directed by Ann Brebner of the Playbox Theater School. She will be assisted by Miss Pat Murray.

Tryouts were held last week and the play cast as follows: Puss, Mike Gordon; his Master, Rick Conner; the Giant, Steven Dick; the King, Michael McKinney; the Princess, Lissa Coleman and Master of Ceremonies, Cissy Knox.

Hartzell P-TA To Meet Tonight

The Oliver Hartzell Parent Teachers Assn. will meet tonight at 8 p.m. in the kindergarten room.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Walter Busher, Marin County Probation Officer. Busher's topic "The Fatal Odyssey" concerns young children's problems.

INVITATIONS EXTENDED FOR ST. STEPHEN'S SILVER TEA

Four hundred invitations have been extended for the St. Stephen's Guild Silver Tea to be held from 3 to 5 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 16 at the Belvedere home of Mrs. Clarence Kretchmer, according to guild president Mrs. John H. Flint.

The historic home, situated on the Point of Belvedere island, commands a spectacular view of San Francisco and the Bay from the lovely terraced gardens. Part of the estate of the late Gordon Blanding, it is known locally as the "organ house" because it houses a huge pipe organ. California tycoon Blanding used the home to display his collection of paintings and for the concerts at which great artists of the early 1900s performed for his guests.

The estate included a white mansion near the organ house, a large guest house, gardener's cottage, carriage house, boat house and pier. Mr. and Mrs. Kretchmer purchased the "organ house" when the estate was divided 20 years ago and although it has been extensively remodeled, the magnificent ceilinged concert room still contains the famed pipe organ. Here Mrs. Kretchmer, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Kretchmer and Mrs. Flint will greet tea guests.

The silver contributions will make possible the purchase of two silver tea services for St. Stephens parish. Mrs. Lee Larimer is chairman of the tea committee and will be assisted by Mesdames H. C. Armstrong, W. E. Long, Gary Gast, William Ballard, Walter Purdom and David Mushet.

Presiding over the tea tables will be Mesdames Frederick Palmer, Oliver Sollom, Edwin Weed and Robert Crockett.

A display of unusual metal products created at Dirk Van Erp's studio and workshop in San Francisco will be an additional attraction of the social afternoon planned by the Episcopal women's organization.

Mrs. Gilmartin Honored Guest A Champagne Party, Shower

Mrs. James Gilmartin (Beverly Kelly) was honored at a champagne party and shower on Saturday afternoon at the Corte Madera home of Mrs. James Baxter. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Baxter were Mrs. Romolo Brusati and Mrs. William Barr.

Mrs. Gilmartin was showered with gifts for herself and for the baby she and her husband will soon adopt.

Guests at the party were:

Mesdames Albert Bonfiglio, John Brusati, Wilber Carlson, Ray Cerutti, Warren Crane, Joseph Ferriter Jr., Elaine Howell, Frank Kelly, Walter Mazza, Richard Misuraca, Thomas McGrath, Richard Nave, Joseph Petretti, Dolores Thornhill, Carrie Vermeyen, Murray Baxter, Ray Brusati, O. J. Brovelli, Louis Castellani and George Curry, Thomas Cheetham, William Ghilotti, Robert Ghiringhelli, William Herup, Frank Kelly Jr., Richard Marowitz, Robert Hunter, David Menary, James McDonald Dominic Pensabene; Jasper Pizza, John Streckfus, Robert Williams, Edward Becker, James Bonfiglio, Michael Buckley, Donald Christensen, Warren Collins.

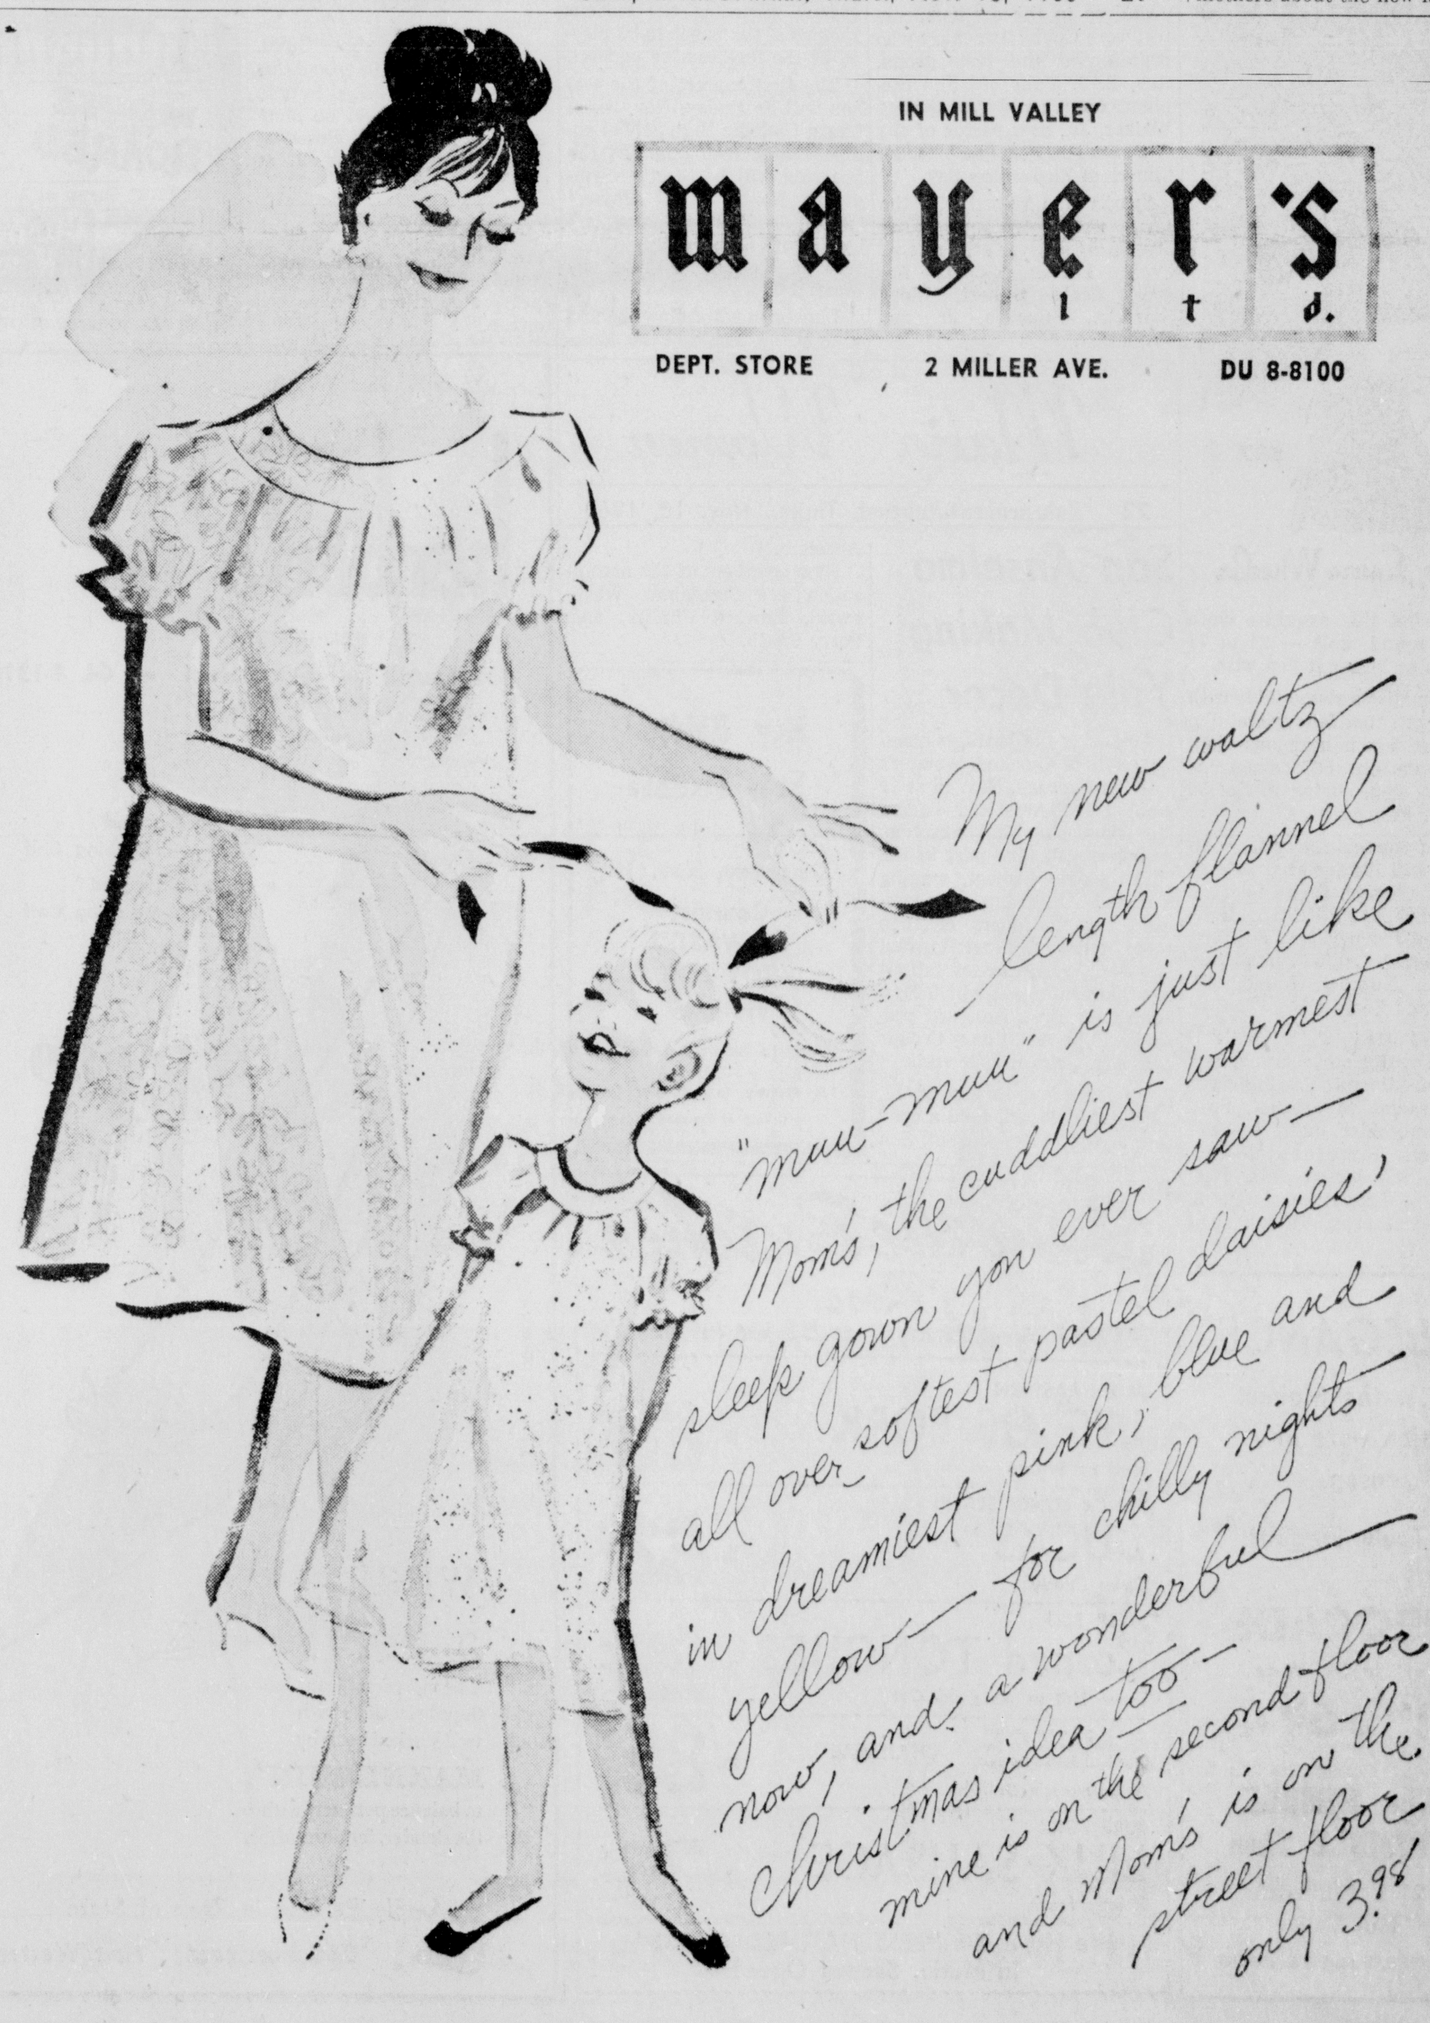
Henry Hall P-TA To Hear Panel

The Henry C. Hall Parent-Teacher Association meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Nov. 17 when a panel from Redwood High School will speak. The panel will explain what's expected of a freshman in high school and its general program. The changing trends in high school, and pressures from the universities will be outlined.

Monitor will be Robert Prather, district coordinator of child welfare and attendance. On its panel will be Jack Baat, dean of boys; Maurene Ballad, chairman of English Department; Robert Mahr, coordinator of work experience education program. Refreshments will be served following the meeting by the 6th grade room mothers, Mrs. James Linkamper and Mrs. Eugene M. Conway.



Lutheran Church Women Adopt A New Constitution

The women of Marin Lutheran Church of Corte Madera this week adopted the constitution of the newly-formed "American Lutheran Church Women" as a part of the merger process between the Evangelical Lutheran Church, the American Lutheran Church and the United Evangelical Lutheran Church.

This organization will replace the Women's Missionary Federation of which Marin Lutheran's "Mission Guild" was a part, and consists of 5,000 women's societies throughout the United States and Canada.

The name chosen for the local society is "Marin Lutheran Church Women." Mrs. Norman Andre of Mill Valley has been chosen as president; Mrs. Stephen Renertsen of Mill Valley, vice president; Mrs. Art Andre of Tiburon, secretary; Mrs. David Richards of Corte Madera, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Stager of Corte Madera, secretary of stewardship; Mrs. Roy Davis of Corte Madera, secretary of education.

The organization will consist of monthly circle meetings in the homes, with bible study and a presentation of a department of the church at each meeting. General meetings will be held bimonthly with all circles in atendance. Service projects under the department of Stewardship will be carried out from time to time. Membership includes all women of the church.

The purpose of the organization is stated in the constitution to be (1) Inspiring in the individual member a deeper consecration to our Savior, (2) developing stewardship of time, talents, and treasures. (3) disseminating knowledge of the program of the church of Jesus Christ and particularly of The American Lutheran Church. (4) Spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ throughout the world.

The Marin Lutheran Church Women are a part of the Golden Gate Conference of the South Pacific District. At the constituting Convention of the South Pacific District of the American Lutheran Church Women two of our Marin women were elected to office. Mrs. C. O. LeRud of San Anselmo was chosen for the presidency, and Miss Amanda Tufte, Marin Lutheran's parish worker, elected to the position of secretary.

Costume Contest Winners Listed

The party was sponsored by the Sparks, women's auxiliary, with a special assist from the center's teenagers who popped corn, polished apples, made the represhments and decorated the hall.

Among the teenagers who helped were Cubby and Connie Atterbury, Nancy and Mollie Love, Roxanne Neal, Sue Bryant, Tina Bertrand, John Osborn, Bill Anderson, Sam Mercer, Dennis and Chris Coombes and Don Shibley.

Judges in the costume contest were Cubby Atterbury who represented the teen group, Rev. E. J. Mohr of St. Stephen's church and Rev. George Walker, Jr., new pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Richardson Bay.

Sparks who helped with the party were Mesdames Fred Crawford, George Gurley, George Larson, Nicholas Andros, Craig Gilbert, Lloyd Stark, A. J. Casella, Jr. and Hugh Cox.

SANDOR SALGO, conductor of the Symphony Guild Orchestra, will be the guest speaker for the first preview of the Guild scheduled Monday, Nov. 21 at 11 a. m. at the Meadow Club.

Sandor Salgo Guest Speaker For Symphony Guild Preview

Sandor Salgo, conductor of the Symphony Guild Orchestra, will be the guest speaker for the first preview to be held Monday, Nov. 21 at 11 a.m. at the Meadow Club.

Salgo has been a particularly popular favorite at these informative activities of the Symphony Guild. He punctuates his presentation with humorous incidents in the lives of the composers he is discussing and demonstrates at the piano or by special recording the various themes of the music to be played at the forthcoming concert.

The first concert of the season will be Friday, Nov. 25, at Marin Catholic High School auditorium at 8:30 p.m. On the program will be Bizet's "Symphony No. 1 in C Major," "Death and Transfiguration" by Richard Strauss, and "Overture to the Magic Flute" by Mozart.

Luncheon will follow the preview at the Meadow Club. Members of the Symphony Guild and friends are urged to make their reservations early with the Meadow Club.

Entertaining guests will be Mrs. John Lesoine, Mrs. William Pemberton and Mrs. Jack McCarthy. Hostessing a no-host table will be Mrs. Barlow Ferguson.

Assisting with arrangements for the preview will be Mesdames Fred Drexler Jr., Richard Hughes, and Ralph Dewey, members of the Board of Directors of the Symphony Guild.

Those planning to attend this first preview are asked to note that it is being held on Monday, a day normally closed at the Meadow Club, Nov. 21 at 11 a.m.

Marinate green asparagus from a can or jar, using a tangy French dressing. Serve the spears atop slices of ripe red tomato.

Reed School Language Meet Tonight

Reed School District parents and teachers who are interested in language instruction in the district are asked to attend a meeting tonight from 8 to 9:30 p.m. in the Reed School library.

George H. Gregg, new staff member who is director of the instructional materials center will discuss the topic "Introduction to the Study of Foreign Languages in the Schools." Gregg will discuss the decisions that must be made if a language program is to be set up.

If enough are interested a study group to consider the problems may be set up in January according to Mrs. Ralph Dewey, program chairman for the Reed District Parent-Teacher Club.

St. Rita's Guild Will Meet Monday

The next regular monthly meeting of St. Rita's Women's Guild of Fairfax will take place on Monday evening, Nov. 14, at 8 p.m. in the parish hall.

Guest speaker for the Monday meeting will be Mrs. Victor Guilder who is decoration director of Marin Art and Garden Center. Mrs. Guilder's topic will be "Do It Yourself Holiday Decorations." All women of the parish are invited to attend.

Pink Ladies To Hold Christmas Gift Sale

Christmas is coming and the annual Christmas Gift cake sale sponsored by the Gift Cart chairman, Mrs. Arne Kionig of Kentfield and her committee of Volunteer Pink Ladies will be held Dec. 5, 6, and 7 in the Annex of Marin General Hospital.

On the committee are: Mrs. J. P. Redington of Greenbrae; Mesdames Jack Field, George Miller and Hans Fischel of San Anselmo and Mesdames George Steinert and Aaron Jacobson of San Rafael.

Donations of new stuffed animals, toys, aprons, tablecloths, mats, baby things, remnants of yardage and next-to-new clothing, jewelry and bric-a-brac are being solicited. They can be left at the volunteer office or with the Pink Lady at the information desk in the lobby of Marin General. Each donation to the Christmas sale should have the name of the donor attached. Donations have already been received from Mesdames Garold Clark, Lee Marriott, Marshall Keyes and Rufus Rhoades of San Rafael; Mesdames Lee Rockwood, Leslie Clason and Miss Julie Cox of Greenbrae; Mrs. Peter Rhodes of Mill Valley; Mrs. Thomas Davis of Kentfield; Mrs. Don L. Balensiefer of Terra Linda and Mrs. William Noon of San Anselmo.

Other donations which are needed include Christmas decorations, Santa Claus dolls, glamour mitts, tinker toys and other small new decorations suitable for tree or home decor.

Many Christmas items from the cart as well as specially designed gifts will be available. Among those working to present a selection of hand made gifts are Mrs. Redington, Mrs. Steinert, Mrs. Patrick McAlonan of San Rafael; Mesdames William L. Cuneo and Ira Johnson of San Anselmo; Mesdames Charles McCormick and James W. Libby of Mill Valley; Mrs. William Cain of Greenbrae; Mrs. Paul Chaffee of Corte Madera; Mrs. Beatrice Samuels of Kentfield and Mrs. Harry Hensler of Ross.

Also making gifts are the Mesdames Gerald Madson, Robert DeHoan, Edward Mitchell, John Siebler, Robert Amundson, Joseph Torruella, William Brennon, Irl Sells and George Nedd, all from Bel-Air.

Fellowship Chooses Its Official Name

The Congregational Women's Fellowship is the name chosen for the newly organized women's association of the Community Congregational Church of Belvedere-Tiburon.

Choice of a name was made at a luncheon meeting of the group last Tuesday at the Del Mar Estates home of Mrs. Jay D. Cason, president of the fellowship.

Dr. Marjorie Palmquist was elected secretary to complete the roster of officers. The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Benton S. Gaskell, 20 Bay View, Belvedere on Tuesday, Dec. 13 at 8 p.m.

SAN RAFAEL CLUB MAKES PARTY PLANS

Decorations, menu and program are all carrying out the theme for the Neapolitan party to be given by San Rafael Improvement Club on Tuesday night, Nov. 15 at the clubhouse. Talented and beautiful Jane Nickols, will present operatic selections and an Italian guitarist also will entertain the diners.

Colorful decorations are being arranged by Mrs. Edwin Spurling, Mrs. Sydney Frank and Mrs. James Goodale. The Italian dinner will be served on checked tablecloths. General chairman of the party which will begin at 7 o'clock is Mrs. Leiton Elder, the club's financial chairman. Assisting her are Mesdames Carroll Thomas, Harold Geister and Lewis Clapp. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Andrew Ferrier.

Gamma Phi Betas Will Observe Founders' Day With Luncheon

Honoring the four founders of Gamma Phi Beta, members of the Marin alumnae chapter will meet for luncheon at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 15, at the Alta Mira Hotel in Sausalito. Mrs. Nelson King, president of the group has appointed Mrs. William Findeisen to serve as chairman of this 86th Founders' Day celebration.

It was on Nov. 11, 1874, at the University of Syracuse, New York that four young women, Helen M. Dodge, Frances E. Haven, E. Adeline Curtis, and Mary A. Bingham organized a literary and social society to be known as Gamma Phi Beta Sorority. Now there are 69 college chapters, and one colony, and 177 chartered alumnae chapters. These represent more than 35,000 women who are members.

Gamma Phi Beta maintains two of its own summer camps for underprivileged children which are located at Indian Hills, Colorado and Sechelt, B.C. These camps are operated by the national philanthropy board of Gamma Phi Beta and are staffed by volunteers from the college chapters of the sorority.

Gamma Phi Beta also sponsors the Lindsay Barbee Fellowship, which awards $1,000 biennially for advanced study in social service. This award is made through AAUW. The fellowship was established in 1915.

In addition to these national projects, the Marin alumnae gives a campership to a Marin child each year for Dr. Mary B. Olney's Diabetic Camp in Bearskin Meadows, Sequoia National Park. Recently the group has also contributed toward tuition scholarships for teachers taking courses in the gifted child field. This is a project of alumnae and student chapters in Northern California and Nevada. Also a recent project of the local group has been the Coffee and Iced Tea Booth at the Sunny Hills Grape Festival. Proceeds go to the Sunny Hills Home for Children.

Gamma Phi Beta was one of the seven sororities which founded National Panhellenic and attended their first meeting in 1891.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, Nov. 10, the 315th day of the year with 51 more in 1960.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1917, 41 women from 15 states of the union were arrested outside the White House for suffragette demonstrations.

In 1918, Kaiser Wilhelm II and about 30 followers asked for asylum in the Netherlands.

A thought for today: German philosopher Georg Hegel said: "Peoples and governments never have learned anything from history, or acted on principles deduced from it."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce United States Coast and Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden) Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Veterans' Day—Time To Remember The Sacrifices Of Our Servicemen

Tomorrow is Veterans' Day. What will it mean to you? A holiday for the children or family outing?

It should mean more than that.

You should tell your boys and girls how we got our freedom and how we've kept it. Tell them of the millions of men who have fought for us, of those who lost their lives.

I knew some of the men who died in the last war, and so did you. A brother, a school buddy, a neighbor. They've been gone so long we hardly miss them. Tragic how forgetful we are, isn't it?

I wonder how the men who died would feel if they could return today? I think they'd be dismayed. There's danger on every hand and our enemies never were stronger.

We know how our living veterans feel. They express themselves strongly. They fought to "make the world safe for democracy," risking their lives "to extend the blessings of freedom to all the world." Those slogans sound ironic now.

Tell your children about the World Wars and about Korea; explain the dangers we now face. Let them see why each boy must go through a period of military training. Teach them to love their country.

There are those who say patriotism is outdated. They're dead wrong. Without patriotism we would die quickly. Our freedoms would vanish overnight. We need patriotism more than ever.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Do war widows now receive adequate pensions? I understand their pensions have been increased during the last 10 years."

Mrs. A. C.

(A) There have been increases in war widows' pensions. However, inflation minimized the benefits. War widows with children must get full-time jobs to provide properly for their offspring. Many of their children show symptoms of neglect. Some of them are delinquent. They are war casualties, too.

Authority Notes Caseload Rise

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The caseload for the state Youth Authority increased during the summer and early autumn months by a total of 80 cases.

The agency reported to Gov. Edmund G. Brown that the number of cases in the department increased by 22 in August and 57 in September despite an increased number of persons discharged from detention by the authority.

The report said 350 cases were discharged in August and 342 in September compared with a normal release rate of 75 to 100.

Youth Authority Budget Planned

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—An operational budget of $21,270,000 has been proposed by the California Youth Authority for fiscal 1961-62, according to a monthly report to Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

A spokesman said this would be an increase of 16.6 per cent over the current fiscal year and exceeded the Department of Finance allocation to the department by about $400,000.

The budget would include provision for 317 new employees.

Ability Program

Miss Eunice E. Reader, Tamalpais Union High School district director of guidance, and Frances Parks, Drake High teacher, will describe the special ability guidance program in the district to the California Personnel and Guidance Assn. meeting in Long Beach Feb. 22-24.

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

RESOLUTION NO. 854
RESOLUTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF LARKSPUR FIXING TIME AND PLACE AND GIVING NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED ANNEXATION OF BON AIR ROAD ADDITION TO THE CITY OF LARKSPUR.

WHEREAS, a petition for the annexation of the hereinafter described lands of the City of Larkspur has been signed by Niels Schultz, Jr. and Alvin K. Schultz under date of September 19, 1960, and has been filed with and presented to the City Council of the City of Larkspur; and

WHEREAS, the proposal to annex this property to the City of Larkspur has been submitted to the Boundary Commission of Marin County; and

WHEREAS, said Boundary Commission has reported thereon and approved said annexation proceedings; and

WHEREAS, it appears to the City Council and said City Council does now find that territory proposed to be annexed is uninhabited territory within the meaning of Section 35003 of the Government Code of the State of California, and this Council has therefore determined to undertake annexation proceedings under and upon said petition under the Annexation of Uninhabited Territory Act of 1939; and

WHEREAS, it appears to this Council that the owners of more than one fourth of the property within the territory proposed to be annexed, and the owners of more than one fourth of the assessed value thereof, have signed said petition and desire said annexation; and

WHEREAS, this Council does now independently determine to initiate annexation proceedings upon said territory under the provisions of Section 35310 of the Government Code of the State of California; and

WHEREAS, it appears to this Council and it does now find that said property proposed to be annexed is contiguous to the City of Larkspur and that the same ought to be annexed; and

WHEREAS, the property referred to in said resolution is more particularly described as follows:

All that real property situate in the County of Marin, State of California, more particularly described as follows:

BEGINNING at a point in the Corporate Limit Line of the CITY of LARKSPUR, Marin County, California, which point is also Station Post "No. 207" of Official Survey of the Salt Marsh and Tidelands in Marin County, California, which Post is set on the border of the uplands in Section 9, Township 1 North, Range 6 West, MDB&M and at an angle point in the boundary line of the lands shown on "MAP NO. 2 OF BON AIR TRACT" filed for record May 15, 1911, in Liber 3 of Maps at page 74, Marin County Records; thence from said point of beginning along the Corporate Limit Line of the City of Larkspur, South 41° 59' 04" West 489.59 feet to the point of intersection of the courses as described as "South 50° 15' 40" East 582.73 feet" and "South 67° 45' 10" East 594.79 feet" in the Deed from the ROMAN CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOP OF SAN FRANCISCO to SCHULTZ, INC., filed for record April 17, 1946, in Liber 516, Official Records of Marin County at page 223; thence continuing in the direction of the last named course to the northerly boundary of the City of Larkspur in Corte Madera Creek; thence westerly and northerly along said northerly boundary of the City of Larkspur in Corte Madera Creek to a point which bears South 43° 04' 20" West from the point of intersection of the westerly boundary of said tract of land granted to SCHULTZ, INC., by the ROMAN CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOP OF SAN FRANCISCO with the northerly boundary of Corte Madera Canal as established by public survey; thence North 43° 04' 20" East to the northerly boundary of Corte Madera Canal; thence along the westerly boundray of said lands conveyed by the ROMAN CATHOLIC ARCHBISHOP OF SAN FRANCISCO to SCHULTZ, INC., North 43° 04' 20" East 307.81 feet; thence leaving said westerly boundary South 57° 00' 49" East 122.19 feet to a point in the southerly boundary of the land shown on said "MAP NO 2 OF BON AIR TRACT"; thence along said southerly boundary South 58° 21' East 135 feet to Station Post No. 206 of said Official Survey of the Salt Marsh and Tidelands in Marin County; thence continuing along said southerly boundary South 41° 51' East 114.10 feet; thence leaving said southerly boundary North 48° 09' East 78.30 feet to the southerly line of Bayview Road as shown on said "MAP NO. 2 OF BON AIR TRACT"; thence along said southerly line of Bayview Road South 58° 01' East 77.93 feet, South 41° 51' East 333.35 feet; thence leaving said southerly line of Bayview Road South 48° 09' West 100 feet to said southerly boundary of "MAP NO. 2 OF BON AIR TRACT"; thence along the said southerly boundary South 41° 51' East 111.29 feet to the point of beginning.

The Meridian used in the above description is that set forth on "Plat of Corte Madera Ark Sites, Marin County, California, surveeyd in October, 1941", filed for record in Licensed Surveys in the Office of the Recorder of Marin County.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED AS FOLLOWS:

1. That each and every recital hereinabove set forth is true.

2. That said property proposed to be annexed ought to be and the same is hereby designated and shall be known as "Bon Air Road Addition" and such name is hereby found to be an appropriate name within the meaning of Section 35306 of the Government Code of the State of California.

3. Said petition for annexation shall be heard concurrently with proceedings now initiated by this City Council under the provisions of Section 35310 of the Government Code.

4. The matter of said annexation shall be heard and considered and the same is hereby set down for hearing before this City Council at the Council Chambers thereof, in the City Hall, in the City of Larkspur, County of Marin, State of California, upon Wednesday, the 7th day of December, 1960, at the hour of eight o'clock P.M.

5. Notice is hereby given that at said time and place the City Council of the City of Larkspur will hear protests against and objections to the said annexation by any person owning real property within the territory proposed to be annexed, or by any person interested therein, and will hear any and all other evidence which may be presented with respect thereto.

6. Notice of such hearing shall be given by the City Clerk of the City of Larkspur by causing this resolution to be published at least twice (once weekly) in the Independent-Journal, a newspaper of general circulation printed, published and circulated in the City of Larkspur and in the County of Marin, State of California. Said City Clerk is hereby directed to complete such publication at least twenty days prior to the date set for hearing, as required by Section 35311 of the Government Code. Said Clerk is further directed to mail a copy of this resolution to each person to whom land within the territory proposed to be annexed is assessed in the last equalized County Assessment Roll, at the address shown on said Assessment Roll, and to any person who has filed his name and address and the designation of the lands in which he has any interest, either legal or equitable, with said Clerk. Said Clerk is directed to give further notice by delivering a copy of this resolution to each incorporated municipality within three miles thereof.

The undersigned City Clerk of the City of Larkspur does hereby CERTIFY that the foregoing resolution was duly and regularly introduced and adopted at a regular meeting of the City Council of the City of Larkspur held upon the 2nd day of November, 1960, by the following vote:

Ayes: Councilmen Brixon, Allen and Mayor Storhaug
Noes: Councilmen Daveler and Lienkaemper
Absent: Councilmen None.

'53 Buick Sta Wagon $345
This car belonged to one of our mechanics so you know it's in top mechanical shape.

'53 Pontiac Sed. $345
Here's as fine an older car as you can find. Its original owner just turned in to us on a Buick. He's a local man who bought from the local Pontiac dealer and put only 57,000 actual miles on the car. It's clean as a pin inside and out. Hydramatic, radio, heater and all the little features.

'52 Oldsmobile Sed. $345

Hub City Offices In Hall During Face-Lifting

San Anselmo city office workers and police personnel are working in makeshift facilities in the council chambers while the city hall gets a $23,000 face-lifting.

The job, being done by contractor Robert J. Smiley of San Anselmo, should be completed in about 30 days.

Workmen are painting and patching floors, bracing ceilings and putting up new partitions in the city offices. The police department will get a new squad room, bath and showers, interrogation room and chief's office.

Police radio receivers and office switchboard have also been moved temporarily into the council chambers.

The city council and other city groups meet meantime in the basement children's room of the city library.

Children's Author Due At Lagunitas Books Fair

Two popular children's authors, Laura Nelson Baker and Adrien Stoutenburg of Lagunitas plan to attend the opening of the Lagunitas Book Fair this evening at Lagunitas School.

In a room decorated in the manner of a 19th century drawing room, the two authors will chat with guests and will, of course, be glad to autograph their books. They plan to be at the Book Fair at about 8 o'clock.

The book fair will open at 7:30, continuing until 10 o'clock. It will be open tomorrow from 1 to 5 p.m. and 7:30 to 10 p.m., and Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Refreshments will be served and baby sitting service will be available.

Miss Stoutenburg has written more than 20 books for young people, among them, "Goodbye, Cinderella." Soon to be published is "The Blue-Eyed Convertible." She is also noted for her poetry which has been published by such magazines as the New Yorker and the Yale Review.

Miss Stoutenburg and Mrs. Baker have collaborated on three biographies for young people, the most recent one being "Scannon, Dog With Lewis and Clark." Mrs. Baker has published six other books to date. A recent publication for teenagers is "The Special Year," a Christmas favorite is "The Friendly Heart."

Sandol Stoddard Warburg of Belvedere will be a guest at the book fair tomorrow between 1 and 5 p.m. Her first book is entitled "The Thinking Book," and is illustrated by Ivan Schermayoff. He has also done the illustrations for her second book, "Something Special," which will be published next year.

Decoration of the rooms for the Fair is being planned by Mrs. Nairn Cherney, a former resident of Lagunitas.

The large ears of African elephants serve as fans. The animals keep them constantly in motion on hot days to circulate the air.

RESORTING TO VIOLENCE

Is Your Child's School Suffering From Malnutrition?

The symptoms of a school with poor financial nourishment are: a shortage of qualified teachers . . . crowded classrooms . . . double sessions . . . few library books . . . poorly equipped science laboratories, or none at all . . . a weak and unbalanced curriculum.

Look at the schools in your town. If they have these symptoms, your children are not receiving a fair start in life. They will have difficulty competing with graduates of superior school systems . . . competing for college admission, competing for jobs. Visit your schools, and check their financial health, during

(A Thrice-Weekly Column)

Some New American Automobiles Have Dented The Foreign Fenders

With all the ado about new models in American cars, what has happened to imports? Are they on their way out?

Not exactly. The market has been badly dented and dealers are undeniably suffering from lacerations in their sales quotas. If the heat keeps up it may even happen that certain showrooms along Francisco Boulevard will display nothing more than the reflections of passing traffic in their windows.

But the success of foreign cars in this country was responsible for American manufacturers taking stock of their own shortcomings and giving us the compact. The continental yardstick for measuring economy and performance is still with us and many users aren't about to swap it for a 20-mpg dipstick made in Detroit—just yet.

The Mobil Mileage rally in New Rochelle last month turned up economy records by the 34 participating European cars far and away ahead of the best claims of their American big brothers. Average run for the field was better than 40 miles per gallon.

The Morris Mini-Minor topped all sedans with 55.44 miles per gallon and the NSU Prinz in the sports class raised it to 62.29.

The degree to which imports still maintain their foothold on American soil may be demonstrated by the interest shown in the 1960 Imported Car Show, the largest in the United States, which opens in Brooks Hall, San Francisco on November 21. The giant underground auditorium will be filled with 36 different makes and over 100 models from eight countries. All popular makes sold in Marin County will be on display.

OTHER AUTO FACTS: Many parts in 1961 cars are "glued" together. Adhesives are used in the decks and hoods, brake lining, carburetor and clutch facing of some new models. . . . Alternators used in new Chrysler-made cars instead of generators cannot be substituted in older models economically—too many other changes in the generator system are necessary. . . . A self-imposed noise abatement policy among truck owners may make living near the highways more pleasant. Drivers are being schooled to avoid excessive revving of engines and clashing of gears. . . More than 17 million U.S. households own two cars; almost 3 million are three-car families.

SALES TRENDS: American-made electric can openers recently enjoying a sales boom may be faced with competition from Japan — possibly by Christmas shopping . . . Newest in Swiss watches is one with the crystal actually a large diamond—only $7,500 . . . Tobacco products are by far the biggest selling item in automatic vending machines, averaging 38 to 40 per cent of all sales. Next come soft drinks . . . "Closed door" discount houses (with $2 memberships) are doing an annual volume of one quarter of a billion dollars.

THREE OUT OF FOUR supermarket shoppers buy in more than one store, but 94 per cent say they prefer one particular spot over others. Reasons for preference given are: Quality and freshness of meats, convenient location, low prices, attractiveness and cleanliness, variety and selection of merchandise and quality and freshness of fruits and vegetables. Slow checkout service is the major complaint.

About two thirds of all shoppers read newspaper ads regularly, check prices on special sales and clip free or discount coupons.

Burglary Not Much, But Hole Expensive

MEMPHIS (AP)—If James Harpole has to put up with any more burglars he hopes they find some other way to get into his grocery store.

The one who cut his way in through the roof during a rainy weekend got away with $200. But the real financial blow was that rain pouring in through the hole did an estimated $5,000 damage.

12 Nominated As Chamber Directors

Twelve San Rafael businessmen have been nominated to vie for election to the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

The chamber's 350 members will elect six directors to the 15-man board for two-year terms on Nov. 28. Nominations may be submitted from the membership at large until the middle of next week. The names submitted to the board yesterday by the nominating committee included six incumbents.

Running for re-election are Richard Cuthbert of Cuthbert's Blue Print; Frank George, Redwood Travel Advisors; Edward Morphy, Tamarin Realty; Lawrence Biancalana, Pacific Gas and Electric Co., Bernard Seligman, Nutrilite Food Supplliments, and Paul Leahy, California Pacific Title Co.

Also nominated were George Lawrence, Lachman Brothers; Frank Fogarty, J. C. Penney Co.; Irving Chapman, Chapman's Shoes; Charles Catania, Catania Sound; Robert Williams, Borden Milk Co., and Fred Acciari, Marin Products Inc.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS DIRECTOR—Former KPIX news director Jere Witter, 123 Circle Avenue, Mill Valley, will supervise production of special events, educational and public service programs for the San Francisco television station. He has been in the KPIX news department since 1957 and was formerly a newspaperman.

He Chose A Bull To Teach Rodeo

McALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Marvin Shoulders, who managers the Oklahoma State Penitentiary annual rodeo, couldn't find an inmate who knew how to ride a bucking animal.

To show how it was done he chose a tough bull and stayed aboard the required amount of time.

$100 Reward Offered In Poisonings

A $100 reward for information leading to arrest and conviction of any person poisoning animals in Marin County has been offered by directors of the Marin County Humane Society.

The action was taken yesterday after the directors heard a report by executive secretary-manager Mel L. Morse that many poisonings have occurred during recent weeks at various places in the county.

At the same time it was pointed out that pets allowed to run at large and sometimes disturb neighbors are in special jeopardy.

Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. was elected a vice president to replace a longtime director, Charles Lund, who was made honorary vice president and given an expression of appreciation from his fellow-directors.

Minthorne M. Tompkins, nephew of Ethel H. Tompkins, who founded the society, was elected treasurer to replace Mrs. H. E. LeBas, who will continue to serve on the board's executive committee.

ON NATIONAL BOARD — Robert W. Corlett of San Anselmo has been re-elected to the national board of directors of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., at the annual meeting of the National Council in New York City. He is also chairman of Camp Fire Girls Region X including Northern California, Nevada and Utah.

Judge Fines Wife For Traffic Lag

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)— Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton Jr. fined his wife $20 for two overtime parking tickets and said:

"I hate to do this because it probably will come out of my own pocket."

Mrs. Glanton, an attorney, said she had not been in her office for eight weeks and had not received the notices.

Civilian 'Brainstorms' Save Air Force Money

"Brainstorms" of civilian employees at Hamilton Air Force Base last year saved the Air Force $53,146.

There were so many money and time-saving ideas submitted that Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, took note and sent the base an inscribed scroll honoring ideamen this week.

The base's civilian employes last fiscal year submitted 546 suggestions on faster and easier methods of doing day-to-day work, and on new equipment and tools. The Air Force adopted 135 of them — and turned over cash awards to those submitting them.

The commendation from General White to Frank McGill of Novato, in charge of civilian employes on the base, noted that Hamilton civilian workers were the best idea-makers in the Air Force. They submitted 100 per cent more per worker than the average air force civilian.

There were ideas such as the one from Alfred V. Mankedick of San Rafael, a civilian worker with the 78th Operations Squadron. He won $300 for inventing a verbal shorthand for pilots checking with the tower on flight plans before takeoff. The idea is being looked over by Air Force headquarters for possible use throughout the service, and the Long Beach municipal airport is trying it out.

One of four of the ideas submitted is good enough to be adopted, the commendation noted. The 135 adopted by Hamilton last year earned ideamen $3,280 in awards.

Fred D. Stevens, Santa Rosa, a civil engineer with the 78th Installation Squadron, picked up $70 for redesigning a shear pin for the base water pumping plant, which is a large factor in preventing breakdowns.

Keith O. Foutz of Petaluma, of the 349th Troop Carrier Reserve Wing, won $45 for his invention of a tool for working on brake assemblies of C-119 cargo planes. The tool means a saving of about $1,300 yearly, as one man can do the job which once took two men.

Sanitary Inspector Appointed By Board

The Tiburon Sanitary District board of directors has temporarily employed David Teather as sanitary inspector, pending a final appointment by the board. He replaces Jack Ishmael, who died recently.

Secretary Robert A. Sterling reported that the 350-acre Tiburon upland area recently annexed into the district is forming an assessment district.
